Magnetic Variation.—This was determined by means of two Magnets, on the flat ground between the Light House and Beach. The result (29° 20′ W.) has been employed for the compass bearings, given in these Instructions.

4.—Description of the Light Apparatus.

This Light is of the first or most brilliant class, and is the work of Mr. Henry le Paute. It is constructed upon what is technically called the Dioptric principle.

A hollow cylinder with a paraboloid top of about 19 feet in circumference, and 10 feet in height, is composed (omitting a door way) of 28 horizontal tiers of glass and reflectors, firmly fixed in a metallic frame work of six compartments; so that each tier is divided into six circular segments.

The centre tier is a large hoop-shaped plano-convex lens, 11 inches in depth. Next, 8 tiers of circular prisms above and 8 below the centre lens. Then 7 tiers of reflectors above and 4 tiers below. Three-fourths of the circumference of the cylinder is formed by this combination. The remaining quadrant which is towards the land, and its centre due North, serves for the door way into the cylinder; but the door is lined with two large concave metallic reflectors, each two feet in breadth and three feet in height.

The burner, consisting of four concentric Argand Wicks, 4 inches in diameter, is placed in the centre of the cylinder in the focus of the large lens. It is supplied with oil by a force pump driven by clock-work; and there is a simple contrivance, which gives notice by the ringing of a bell when the reservoir requires to be replenished.

The frame work of the Lenticular (the name given to the whole combination) is firmly attached to a cast-iron circular floor, supported by a stem of cast iron; the lower end of which is let into a block of granite resting upon the crown of the supporting dome, where it (the stone) is surrounded by masonry.

The theory of the Lenticular may be understood, as follows:—The burner being in the focus of the plano-convex lens, the rays of light that impinge upon the inner plane surface, emerge outside horizontal.

The bases of the prisms are perpendicular inside; their upper planes are horizontal, and their hypothenusal planes outside slant downwards and inwards. The depth of each base successively diminishes from 3 inches to 1½ inch in depth, in the order from the centre lens upwards and downwards, which is the order of the increasing inclination of the impinging rays from the burner. The effect of the prismatic form, is to turn the rays, and to send them out horizontal, upon the same principle by which objects in a horizontal direction in front of a Camera Lucida are seen by looking down into it.

The tiers of reflectors commence at the height and depression where the still greater inclination of the impinging rays from the burner would cause a prism to decompose them in the horizontal direction into the prismatic or rainbow colours. The reflectors are concave towards the lens, their curvatures increasing as they recede from the centre lens. They reflect the rays that fall upon them to the prisms, whence they are sent out horizontal.

The two large reflectors behind on the inside of the door return the rays from their direction to the large lens, through which they escape horizontal.

Thus all the light from the burner, save the small quantity that escapes up the chimney glass, is bent into one brilliant horizontal sheet to overspread the horizon.

This splendid specimen of skill is protected by a Lantern 10½ feet in diameter, or 33 feet in circumference, glazed with thick plate glass, and surmounted by a copper dome, from which a lightning conductor of wire rope descends to the ground.

The Light House was planned by Lieut. Colonel Michell, the late talented Surveyor General at the Cape, who made a journey to Paris for the express purpose of selecting the Lenticular Apparatus.

It may be proper to mention, that the Tower of the Light House is to be painted, and will show alternate horizontal bands of white and red, two of each.

Messrs. Rees, Carr and Skead of H. M. Ships President, Nimrod and Dee, respectively, particularly Mr. Skead, provided a large portion of the Sailing Instructions. These, with the remainder by myself, I have arranged and compared carefully with the Chart recently constructed from measurement and rigorous trigonometric calculation. The other matter is by myself, and I hold myself responsible for the accuracy of the whole.

I may add, that one of the trigonometric stations in the measurement of the Arc of the Meridian is on the highest point of the hill above the Light House; by means of which, the Latitude and Longitude of the Light House are derived from the position of the Observatory. Thus the Light is an exact Geographical Point.

His Excellency has further desired it to be notified that, the works being now completed, the Lantern will be lighted on the 1st of March next; and will, thereafter, continue to be lighted every evening at sunset.

By His Excellency's Command,

CAPE AGULHAS LIGHT.

It has been thought advisable to reverse the logical order of the matter connected with the establishment of this Light, so that what is most wanted should appear first, and further information be had by reference to the particular heads.

The adopted arrangement is as follows:—

1. General Sailing Instructions for Passing Agulhas.
2. Description of the Land and Shore about Agulhas.
3. Instructions for anchoring in Struys Bay, Currents, Tides, &c.
4. Description of the Construction of the Light Apparatus.

1.—General Sailing Instructions for Passing Agulhas.

Magnetic Variation 29° 20′ W.

The Light can be seen in clear weather in any direction seaward, between East and North West by West, at the distance of six leagues from a deck 15 feet high. It is a steady white Light.

All the bearings mentioned are Magnetic, and all the distances expressed in miles are Geographical, unless the contrary is stated.

If a vessel from the Eastward passes Struys Point at the distance of 5 miles from the shore, and steers a W. by S. course exactly, she will pass the most Southerly projection of the Northumberland Point Reef at the distance of 4¼ miles, and the Light at the distance of 5½ miles, and clear Gunner's Quoin. This is the limit Northward within which no sailing vessel should be found. It secures every advantage that could possibly be obtained by a closer course, and at that distance the Light will be brilliant.

Precautions.—In clear weather, the Light may be seen, when 5 or 6 miles Eastward of Struys Point, from a look-out at the height of 35 feet; and if the vessel then should chance to be close in shore, by steering the above course, she might touch the shoal off Struys Point. To guard against this, when the Light is first seen, it should be brought immediately to bear W. by N.; and keeping this bearing of the Light, the vessel will pass 2 miles to the Southward of any danger respecting Struys Point.

Care should be taken when approaching the land before the Light is discovered, for in hazy weather, or from spray in a fresh breeze, combined with the distance of Struys Point (about 15 miles), the Light may be faint or altogether obscured, and the vessel may get within the line of danger. Under these circumstances, the Lead should not be neglected, and the depth should not be less than 20 fathoms, without putting about immediately to the South.

The like precautions are required in the day time, particularly in foggy weather; for the high land of Agulhas may be invisible, while the sand hills of Struys Bay and the breakers off Northumberland Point are distinctly seen. On these occasions it is difficult to determine whether the vessel is to the Eastward or Westward of Struys Point; because the shore features of the Bay Eastward of that Point, are similar to those of Struys Bay, although the extent is less.

Sailing vessels in particular should adhere to the rules, for if it should fall calm, the heavy swell which constantly rolls towards the shore would carry them with it, and the only resource, that of anchoring, would probably be of no avail from the rocky nature of the bottom, combined with the swell. The "St. Mungo" is said to have been wrecked in this way.

Coming from the Westward, the Light will be seen first on a S. 57° 15′ E. bearing. The extreme end of the low ground called Gunner's Quoin Point bears N. 52° 30′ W. from the Light House, distant 19¾ miles, but it is not visible from it. The sea was remarked breaking a long way off the Point,—it will therefore be necessary to keep off until the Light becomes visible.

With the precautions here given, there will be as little danger in rounding Agulhas as in rounding the Cape of Good Hope, or indeed any other head land.

2.—Description of the Land and Shore about Agulhas.

Cape Agulhas is defined to be the rocky projection from the South East corner of the Agulhas Promontory, the centre of which Promontory is about ¾th of a mile Westward of the projection, and about 200 yards more Southerly, being the most Southern part of Africa.

Description of the Land.—The features of the land about Agulhas distinguish it from the neighbouring head lands. A ridge-shaped undulating clump, rising from the flat ground, is separated into four ridge-shaped hills by irregular ravines running nearly true East and West. The middle ridges enter, wedge-like, at the East-end, and are lost towards the centre, where the ravine widens to a mile in breadth. The middle ridges are the lowest, the Northern and Southern are nearly of equal height.

Viewed at a distance from the seaward, Easterly or Westerly, the North and South elevations being seen nearly end on, resemble two oblong hummocks; but the former extending more Easterly appears the highest as seen from the Eastward.

Viewed at a distance from the Southward, the South ridge masks the others, save at their East end; but the ravines being hid, the whole appear to be united (only the South and middle ridges are noticed on the chart. They are all given on Col. MICHELL's plan.)

The highest part of the South ridge is 455 feet above the level of the sea, and its true meridional distance from the shore is almost exactly one mile. From this point the descent Eastward is rather gradual. Westward the descent is at first steep, then slightly undulates. Southward it is steep, then undulates to within 300 yards of the shore, where the ground becomes flat.

On the first undulation from the shore, which is about 55 feet above the level of the sea, nearly true South of the highest point before mentioned, and N. 30° W., 520 yards from Cape Agulhas, the Light House is built.

This spot was selected by the Masters of H. M. Ships President, Brilliant and Rosamond, (Messrs. REES, RUSSEL and ASHTON), under the command of Capt. FOOTE, R. N., in conjunction with Lieut.-Colonel MICHELL.

The Light commands to seaward between E. and N. W. by W., or more correctly, E. to N. 57° 15′ W.

Description of the Shore.—West of the Agulhas Promontory the shore bends North-westerly, then round to the head-land called Gunner's Quoin, forming an irregular shallow incurvation of about 19 miles in breadth. Immediately to the E. N. E. of the Promontory are two deep indentations. The first called St. Mungo's inlet. The next is deeper and wider, and the projection which separates them is called St. Mungo's Point. From the last inlet the shore runs jagged to the dangerous projection called Northumberland Point, the site of the wreck of the ship "Duke of Northumberland," which Point forms the west horn of Struys Bay.

The whole of the beach, from the west of the Agulhas Promontory to Northumberland Point, consists of rugged sand stone and quartz rocks, or rocky reef, perfectly impracticable even for a boat. At the Promontory groups of rock prevail; at the Cape, rocks, and rocky reef, extending out a third of a mile. At the inlets, flat rocky reef exposed at low water for a third of a mile; thence rocky to Northumberland Point, where it is sand and reef.

Exposed to the uninterrupted oscillations of the Southern Ocean, the sea breaks heavy on this iron bound shore, particularly during Southern winds. A vessel touching upon it, has not the slightest chance of escaping destruction.

The coast between Northumberland Point, and Struys Point, viz., of Struys Bay, is low and sandy, but a short distance from the beach, there is a line of sand hills varying from 50 to 150 feet in height, some of them covered with dark coloured bush, a feature that distinguishes the coast from Struys Point to the next Point Eastward of it. There is no high land sufficiently near to interfere with the distinguishing character of the hills Northward of Agulhas, as viewed from the seaward.

Northumberland Point bears East from the Light 3⅛ miles. It is low and sandy immediately on the beach; but a very dangerous ledge of rocks extends S. 37°.30′ E., 1 mile from the Point, and a detached rock was fixed by intersection while breaking, which places it S. 58°.30′ E., 1⅛ miles from the Point; and S. 81°.40′ E., 4¼ miles from the Light. The extreme of Northumberland Point reef bears S. 77°.30′ E., 3$\frac{15}{16}$ miles nearly from the Light. Westward from the Point the reefs extend about one-third of a mile and break heavily when the wind is from the S. E. In one or two places it breaks further out but in no place exceeds half a mile.

Struys Point is the outer extreme of a number of sand hills, and as before stated, forms the Eastern horn of Struys Bay. It bears from Northumberland Point, which is the Western horn, N. 79° .30′ E., 11 miles (estimated), and N. 82° .20′ E., 15 miles from the light house. This point is more dangerous than Northumberland Point, inasmuch as the reefs lie much further off the shore, and there is no high land to enable the mariner to determine his position. Circumstances did not allow of this Point being included in the Agulhas survey; but during a strong South-easter it was remarked from the summit of the sand hills near the Point, that the reef extended seaward about 3 miles, and was then breaking with fury.

Like Northumberland Point, the color of the water off this Point changes to seaward from brown to light, then dark green; from which it may be inferred, together with the known shallowness of the water off Northumberland Point, that the Lead as well as the color of the water, will always warn a ship of the approach of danger.

Struys Bay is formed by Struys Point to the East and Northumberland Point to the West. The landing place is in a small bay or cove to the N. W. of Northumberland Point, sheltered by a projecting shelf of shingle from each extremity of the cove. The jetty, constructed from pieces of wreck, renders the landing easy; but at the outer horns of the shingle there is only water sufficient for a boat at quarter flood in fine weather. Three or four huts at the head of the jetty, point out its position from the Bay. Immediately in the neighbourhood, on higher ground, is a stone dwelling house, with a signal staff a few yards behind it, termed the telegraph staff on the chart.

The marks for anchoring are the large stone house near the beach W. ¼ S., and the sandy extreme of Northumberland Point S. W. by S., in 5 fathoms sand. Here the bottom is clear, while to the westward and nearer to the reef where the water is smoother the bottom is foul,—rocks interspersed with patches of sand. The latter is unsafe, the cable is liable to snap from fouling the rocks, an accident that befel H. M. Vessel "Dee," while, lying there in a light South-westerly wind accompanied by the usual swell.

Directions for Anchoring.—Vessels from the westward, intending to anchor in this bay, should not bring the light house to bear more Westerly than W. by N. ¼ N., until Northumberland Point bears N. W. ¼ N. Then steer N. N. E. or N. E. by N. until the stone house before mentioned bears W. N. W. This will lead clear of the outer detached reefs off Northumberland Point. Proceed then to N. W. and bring the anchorage marks on.

The light will not be visible from this anchoring ground, owing to the swell of the intervening land.

Precautions respecting Struys Bay.—Shelter may be obtained in this bay during Westerly and North Westerly winds only. None is afforded with the wind between S. W. round to the Southward and East. With any of the latter winds it is unsafe, if not impossible, to ride in this bay, for the sea rises to such an extent as to break in 7 or 8 fathoms, a circumstance that was remarked on two occasions while H. M. Steamer "Dee" was standing off waiting for the weather to moderate to enable her to anchor. At the time of anchoring, although the wind had subsided for several hours, the water nearly broke in 7 fathoms where the anchor was let go; and at the place from whence she had put to sea three days before in 4¾ fathoms, the sea was breaking heavily. As a general rule, vessels seeking shelter in this bay in a N. W. gale, should put to sea immediately after it subsides: for the wind frequently changes in a few hours from a strong N. W. to a S. E. or South point; in which case it is very difficult to work out in consequence of the heavy sea that rises with these winds.

Currents.—During the examinations of the Coast (Sept. 1848) no current was observed in Struys Bay, nor about the coast 2½ miles from the shore, as far to the westward of Agulhas as the letter E. on the chart: but it was confidently asserted by fishermen, and the residents at Struys Bay, that a very strong current frequently sets to the Westward round Northumberland Point.

Tides.—Circumstances did not allow of the Tides being observed with due accuracy. Two copper plugs were let into rocks S. W. of the Light House to mark the high and low water points nearly at Spring Tides. The comparisons with these plugs on October 15, 16, 18, 19, 28, 29, (1848), and an observation at the jetty in Struys Bay, on October 28, give the establishment, and rise and fall, nearly similar to what prevails in Table Bay and Simon's Bay.

Magnetic Variation.—This was determined by means of two Magnets, on the flat ground between the Light House and Beach. The result (29° 20′ W.) has been employed for the compass bearings, given in these Instructions.

4.—Description of the Light Apparatus.

This Light is of the first or most brilliant class, and is the work of Mr. Henry le Paute. It is constructed upon what is technically called the Dioptric principle.

A hollow cylinder with a paraboloid top of about 19 feet in circumference, and 10 feet in height, is composed (omitting a door way) of 28 horizontal tiers of glass and reflectors, firmly fixed in a metallic frame work of six compartments; so that each tier is divided into six circular segments.

The centre tier is a large hoop-shaped plano-convex lens, 11 inches in depth. Next, 8 tiers of circular prisms above and 8 below the centre lens. Then 7 tiers of reflectors above and 4 tiers below. Three-fourths of the circumference of the cylinder is formed by this combination. The remaining quadrant which is towards the land, and its centre due North, serves for the door way into the cylinder; but the door is lined with two large concave metallic reflectors, each two feet in breadth and three feet in height.

The burner, consisting of four concentric Argand Wicks, 4 inches in diameter, is placed in the centre of the cylinder in the focus of the large lens. It is supplied with oil by a force pump driven by clock-work; and there is a simple contrivance, which gives notice by the ringing of a bell when the reservoir requires to be replenished.

The frame work of the Lenticular (the name given to the whole combination) is firmly attached to a cast-iron circular floor, supported by a stem of cast iron; the lower end of which is let into a block of granite resting upon the crown of the supporting dome, where it (the stone) is surrounded by masonry.

The theory of the Lenticular may be understood, as follows:—The burner being in the focus of the plano-convex lens, the rays of light that impinge upon the inner plane surface, emerge outside horizontal.

The bases of the prisms are perpendicular inside; their upper planes are horizontal, and their hypothenusal planes outside slant downwards and inwards. The depth of each base successively diminishes from 3 inches to 1⅛ inch in depth, in the order from the centre lens upwards and downwards, which is the order of the increasing inclination of the impinging rays from the burner. The effect of the prismatic form, is to turn the rays, and to send them out horizontal, upon the same principle by which objects in a horizontal direction in front of a Camera Lucida are seen by looking down into it.

The tiers of reflectors commence at the height and depression where the still greater inclination of the impinging rays from the burner would cause a prism to decompose them in the horizontal direction into the prismatic or rainbow colours. The reflectors are concave towards the lens, their curvatures increasing as they recede from the centre lens. They reflect the rays that fall upon them to the prisms, whence they are sent out horizontal.

The two large reflectors behind on the inside of the door return the rays from their direction to the large lens, through which they escape horizontal.

Thus all the light from the burner, save the small quantity that escapes up the chimney glass, is bent into one brilliant horizontal sheet to overspread the horizon.

This splendid specimen of skill is protected by a Lantern 10½ feet in diameter, or 33 feet in circumference, glazed with thick plate glass, and surmounted by a copper dome, from which a lightning conductor of wire rope descends to the ground.

The Light House was planned by Lieut. Colonel Michell, the late talented Surveyor General at the Cape, who made a journey to Paris for the express purpose of selecting the Lenticular Apparatus.

It may be proper to mention, that the Tower of the Light House is to be painted, and will show alternate horizontal bands of white and red, two of each.

Messrs. Rees, Carr and Skead of H. M. Ships President, Nimrod and Dee, respectively, particularly Mr. Skead, provided a large portion of the Sailing Instructions. These, with the remainder by myself, I have arranged and compared carefully with the Chart recently constructed from measurement and rigorous trigonometric calculation. The other matter is by myself, and I hold myself responsible for the accuracy of the whole.

I may add, that one of the trigonometric stations in the measurement of the Arc of the Meridian is on the highest point of the hill above the Light House; by means of which, the Latitude and Longitude of the Light House are derived from the position of the Observatory. Thus the Light is an exact Geographical Point.

PROCLAMATION.

THE 29TH MARCH, 1849.

For many years in the time of Maharaja Runjeet Singh, peace and friendship prevailed between the British Nation and the Sikhs.

When Runjeet Singh was dead, and his wisdom no longer guided the Counsels of the State, the Sirdars and the Khalsa Army, without provocation and without cause, suddenly invaded the British Territories. Their Army was again and again defeated: they were driven with slaughter and in shame from the Country they had invaded, and at the gates of Lahore the Maharaja Dulcep Singh tendered to the Governor General the submission of himself and his Chiefs, and solicited the clemency of the British Government.

The Governor General extended the clemency of his Government to the State of Lahore. He generously spared the Kingdom which he had acquired a just right to subvert; and, the Maharaja having been replaced on the Throne, Treaties of Friendship were formed between the States.

The British have faithfully kept their word, and have scrupulously observed every obligation which the Treaties imposed upon them.

But the Sikh people and their Chiefs have, on their part, grossly and faithlessly violated the promises by which they were bound.

Of their annual tribute, no portion whatever has at any time been paid; and large loans advanced to them by the Government of India, have never been re-paid.

The control of the British Government, to which they voluntarily submitted themselves, has been resisted by arms.

Peace has been cast aside—British Officers have been murdered when acting for the State—Others, engaged in the like employment, have treacherously been thrown into captivity—Finally, the Army of the State and the whole Sikh people, joined by many of the Sirdars in the Punjab, who signed the Treaties, and led by a Member of the Regency itself, have risen in arms against us, and have waged a fierce and bloody war for the proclaimed purpose of destroying the British and their power.

The Government of India formerly declared that it desired no further conquests; and it proved by its acts the sincerity of its professions.

The Government of India has no desire for conquest now: but it is bound in its duty to provide fully for its own security, and to guard the interests of those committed to its charge.

To that end, and as the only sure mode of protecting the State from the perpetual recurrence of unprovoked and wasting wars, the Governor General is compelled to resolve upon the entire subjection of a people, whom their own Government has long been unable to control, and whom (as events have now shown) no punishment can deter from violence,—no acts of friendship can conciliate to peace.

Wherefore, the Governor General of India has declared, and hereby proclaims, that the Kingdom of the Punjab is at an end: and that all the Territories of Maharaja Duleep Singh are now and henceforth a portion of the British Empire in India.

His Highness the Maharaja shall be treated with consideration and with honor.

The few Chiefs, who have not engaged in hostilities against the British, shall retain their property and their rank.

The British Government will leave to all the people, whether Mussulman, Hindoo, or Sikh, the free exercise of their own religions: but it will not permit any man to interfere with others in the observance of such forms and customs as their respective religions may either enjoin or permit.

The Jagheers and all the property of Sirdars or others, who have been in arms against the British, shall be confiscated to the State.

The defences of every fortified place in the Punjab, which is not occupied by British Troops, shall be totally destroyed: and effectual measures shall be taken to deprive the people of the means of renewing either tumult or war.

The Governor General calls upon all the inhabitants of the Punjab—Sirdars and people—to submit themselves peaceably to the authority of the British Government, which has hereby been proclaimed.

Over those who shall live as obedient and peaceful subjects of the State, the British Government will rule with mildness and beneficence.

But, if resistance to constituted authority shall again be attempted; if violence and turbulence shall be renewed; the Governor General warns the people of the Punjab that the time for leniency will then have passed away, and that their offence will be punished with prompt and most rigorous severity.

By order of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India,

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 7th April, 1849.

The following Act is passed by the Hon'ble the President of the Council of India in Council on the 7th April 1849, with the assent of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India, which has been read and recorded.

Ordered, that the Act be promulgated for general information.

Act No. VII. of 1849.

An Act for the appointment of an Administrator General in Bengal.

Whereas it is expedient to disconnect the administration of the Estates of British Subjects dying intestate in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal from the Office of Ecclesiastical Registrar of the Supreme Court and to appoint an Administrator General there, It is enacted as follows:

I. Whenever, after the passing of this Act, any British Subject shall die, intestate, within the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal, or the Territories which are or shall be subordinate to the said Presidency, and on the return of the citation issued from the proper Ecclesiastical Court, no next of Kin shall appear, and make out their claim to the Administration of the Effects of the deceased, to the satisfaction of the said Court, and also, whenever the Executor or Executors, appointed by the Will of any British Subject dying therein, shall refuse to prove the Will, the Administrator General, created by this Act, shall, except in the case hereinafter excepted, apply for, and the said Court shall grant to him, instead of the Ecclesiastical Registrar, such Letters of Administration or Ad Colligenda Bona as to such Court shall seem meet; by virtue whereof the said Administrator General shall collect the assets of the deceased; and account for them as herein provided.

II. All Letters of Administration or Ad Colligenda Bona, granted to the Ecclesiastical Registrar of the Supreme Court,—and all Probates, granted to such Officer, of Wills, appointing the Ecclesiastical Registrar of the Supreme Court, by that description, or him and his successors, Executors thereof,—and all Estates, Effects and Interests, vested in the said Ecclesiastical Registrar by virtue thereof; and all books, papers and documents belonging to him or in his possession, or under his control by virtue of such Letters or Probates, shall, by this Act, and without other grant, be transferred to the Administrator General by this Act created; who shall be, to all intents and purposes, such Administrator, Executor, or Grantee, in his new character of Administrator General, as the Ecclesiastical Registrar of the Supreme Court was; and shall have all the same powers as the said Ecclesiastical Registrar might exercise at the time of the passing of this Act, as such Administrator, Executor or Grantee.

III. The Ecclesiastical Registrar at the time of the passing of this Act shall be the first Administrator General, and upon the passing of this Act shall cease to be Ecclesiastical Registrar; and as such Administrator General shall be entitled to receive or retain all Commissions to which he was entitled as Ecclesiastical Registrar at the time of the passing of this Act, on any such grants as aforesaid.

IV. On all future vacancies of the Office, the Administrator General shall be appointed by the Governor General of India in Council.

V. After the passing of this Act, the Administrator General shall not be deemed, in that capacity, an Officer of the said Supreme Court, and shall not be otherwise accountable to it than any ordinary Executor, Administrator, or Grantee of Letters Ad Colligenda Bona, as the case may be.

VI. Every Administrator General shall give Security, by bond, to the East India Company, himself for One Lakh of Rupees, with two or more Sureties, jointly and severally, for another Lakh of Rupees, for the due execution of his said Office; and shall not be required by the said Supreme Court to enter into any Administration Bond, or to give other Security to that Court on the grant of any such Letters as aforesaid.

VII. The Administrator General shall receive,—for the discharge of his duties as such Administrator General, under all such grants of Letters as aforesaid made, after the passing of this Act, or on Probates of Wills, so granted, after the passing of this Act, wherein he is named Executor, by virtue of his Office,—instead of the Commission heretofore received by the Ecclesiastical Registrar, a Commission calculated after the rate of Three Rupees in every Hundred Rupees, which he shall actually distribute, or which he shall set apart and invest as herein provided, for the benefit of the parties ultimately entitled thereto, if the same are not immediately payable; and, out of the said Commission of Three Rupees in the Hundred, shall defray the expences of the necessary Establishment, and all other charges, to which the said Office may be subject.

VIII. No person, other than the Administrator General, shall be entitled to charge any Commission or Agency, as Executor of any Will, of which Probate shall have been granted in the said Presidency after the passing of this Act, or as Administrator of any Effects whereof Administration shall have been granted in the said Presidency after the passing of this Act: but this enactment is not to be deemed to hinder any Executor from having the benefit of any legacy bequeathed to him, either of a specific sum or residuary bequest, or by way of Commission, or in any other manner.

IX. The Assets belonging to the Estates administered by the said Administrator General shall be kept by him in the Treasury of the East India Company, or otherwise kept and invested by him, in such manner as the Governor General of India in Council shall from time to time order; which order shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and shall be full authority, protection and indemnity in all Courts whatsoever for such keeping and investing.

X. The said Administrator General shall enter into books, to be kept by him for that purpose separate and distinct accounts of each Estate, and of all such sums of money, Bonds and other Securities for Money, Goods, Effects and things, as shall come to his hands or to the hands of any person employed by him, or in trust for him under this Act; and likewise of all payments made by him on account of the said Estates and of all debts due by or to the same, specifying the dates of such receipts and payments respectively; which said books shall be kept in the Administrator General's Office, and shall be open for the inspection of all such persons, practitioners in the said Court and others, as may have occasion to inspect the same, at office hours; paying only such reasonable fee as may be, from time to time, fixed therefore, by the Governor General of India in Council, and published in the Calcutta Gazette.

XI. The Administrator General, shall, twice in every year, that is, on the First day of March and on the Tenth day of August, or on the First day on which the said Court shall be sitting after those days, exhibit and deliver, in open Court, a true Schedule, shewing the gross amount of all sums of Money received or paid by him, on account of each Estate in his charge, and the balances, during the period of six months ending severally on the Thirty-first day of December and Thirtieth day of June next before the day of delivering such Schedule; and a true list of all Bonds or other Securities received on account of each of the said Estates during the same period; and also a true Schedule of all Administrations whereof the final balances shall have been paid over to the persons entitled to the same, during the same period,—specifying the amount of such balances, and the persons to whom paid; which Schedules shall be filed of record in the said Court, and shall, within fourteen days afterwards, be published in the Calcutta Gazette by the said Administrator General; and copies thereof in triplicate shall be delivered to the Secretary of the said Presidency, and sent by the Governor of the said Presidency to the Court of Directors of the East India Company for publication in the London Gazette.

XII. The Governor General of India in Council, shall, from time to time, appoint an Auditor or Auditors to examine the Accounts of the Administrator General at the time of the delivery of the said Schedules, and also at any other time when the Governor General of India in Council shall think fit.

XIII. The Auditor or Auditors shall examine the Schedules and accounts, and report to the said Governor General of India in Council whether they contain a full and true account of every thing which ought to be inserted therein, and whether the Books, by this Act directed to be kept by the Administrator General, are duly and regularly kept, and whether the Assets are duly kept and invested in such manner as is by Law prescribed.

XIV. Every Auditor shall have power to summon as well the Administrator General as any other person or persons whose presence he may think necessary, to attend him from time to time; and to examine the Administrator General or other party or parties if he shall think fit on Oath or Solemn Affirmation to be by him administered; and to call for all Books, Papers and Documents which may appear to him to be necessary for the purposes of the said reference: and if the Administrator General, or other person or persons when summoned, shall refuse or without reasonable cause neglect to attend, or to produce any Books, Papers or Documents required, or shall attend and refuse to be sworn or make a Solemn Affirmation when by law an Affirmation may be substituted for an Oath, or shall refuse to be examined, the Auditor or Auditors shall certify such neglect or refusal in writing to the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal; and every person so refusing or neglecting shall thereupon be punishable, in like manner as if such refusal or neglect had been in contempt of the said Supreme Court.

XV. The costs and expenses of preparing and publishing the said Schedules and copies thereof and of every such reference and examination shall be defrayed proportionably by all the Estates, the accounts of which are then under examination, which costs and proportions shall be ascertained and settled by the Auditor or Auditors, subject to the approval of the Governor General of India in Council, and shall be paid out of the said Estates, accordingly, by the Administrator General.

XVI. If upon any such reference and examination the Auditor or Auditors shall see reason to believe that the said Schedules do not contain a true and correct account of the matters therein, or which ought to be therein contained, he or they shall report accordingly to the Governor General of India in Council, specifying the substance of the objections thereto.

XVII. The Governor General of India in Council shall refer every such report, as last aforesaid, to the consideration of the Advocate General of the East India Company in Bengal, who shall thereupon, if he shall think fit, proceed summarily, by petition, for an account against the said Administrator General, or against the late Administrator General, after his removal from Office, or against his personal representatives in case of his death, in respect of all or any of the Estates then or formerly under his care as the said Advocate General shall think fit; and shall have power to exhibit interrogatories to the said Administrator General, or other person or persons defendants, who shall be bound to answer the same as fully as if the same had been contained in a Bill filed for the like purpose; and the Court shall have power, on any such petition filed, to examine orally the parties before it and all witnesses, or to refer the accounts to be taken in the ordinary way.

XVIII. The costs of the reference and examination, and those of the Advocate General, when such are directed to be paid, shall be defrayed either by the defendant or defendants, in case he or they shall be decreed to pay the costs, or out of the Estates rateably as the said Court shall direct; and whenever the costs of any reference and examination shall be recovered from the defendant or defendants, the same shall be repaid to the Estates by which the same were in the first instance contributed, and the Court shall have power to order the Administrator General, or other person or persons defendants, to receive his or her costs out of the said Estates if it shall think fit.

XIX. The said Court shall have power on such petition to make such original and subsequent orders as upon a Bill filed; and such Orders shall have the same effect, and be executed in the same manner as Decretal Orders.

XX. Whenever any British subject shall die within the said Presidency intestate, and Letters of Administration to his or her Effects shall not be taken out for three months after the death, and the Administrator General shall be satisfied that such Effects do not exceed in the whole Five Hundred Rupees, he may, if he shall think fit, grant,—to any person claiming to be entitled to a principal share of the Effects of the deceased,—Certificates under his hand, entitling the claimant to receive the sums or securities for money therein severally mentioned belonging to the Effects of the deceased, to the value of any sum not exceeding in the whole Five Hundred Rupees.

XXI. The Administrator General shall not be bound to grant any such Certificate, unless he is satisfied of the title of the claimant, and of the value of the Effects of the deceased, either by the Oath or Affidavit of the claimant, or by such other evidence as he shall require.

XXII. Any such Certificate, with a receipt annexed, under the hand of the person to whom the Certificate is granted, shall be a full receipt and discharge for payment or delivery to him or her of the money or security for money therein mentioned, with respect to the claim of any other person upon the person paying or delivering the same: but any next of kin or representative or creditor of the deceased shall have remedy for recovery thereof against the person receiving the same.

XXIII. The Administrator General shall not be bound to take out Letters of Administration to the Effects of any deceased person on account of whose Estate he shall grant any such Certificate, but may do so, if he shall discover any fraud or misrepresentation made to him, or that the value of the Estate exceeded Five Hundred Rupees.

XXIV. For every such Certificate the Administrator General shall be entitled to charge a fee calculated after the rate of Three Rupees in the Hundred on the amount mentioned in the Certificate.

XXV. Every person who, having been sworn, or having taken a Solemn Affirmation under this Act, shall wilfully give false testimony upon any examination authorized by this Act, shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and, if convicted thereof, shall be liable to fine and imprisonment, or to fine or imprisonment, which imprisonment may be at the discretion of the Court, with or without hard labor, and may extend to two years.

ACT No. —— OF 1849.

To punish tampering with the Army or Navy.

Whereas the laws in force for punishing mutiny and sedition do not sufficiently provide for the punishment of all persons endeavouring to stir up mutiny and sedition among the forces of the East India Company, or to seduce them from their allegiance and duty, It is enacted as follows:

I. Every person who maliciously and advisedly endeavours to seduce any person or persons serving or engaged to serve in the Military or Naval forces of the East India Company, from his or their allegiance to Her Majesty, or duty to the said Company, or who endeavours to stir up any person or persons belonging to either of the said services to commit any act of mutiny, or to make or endeavour to make any mutinous assembly, or to commit any traitorous or mutinous practice whatsoever, shall, on conviction, suffer transportation for life, or imprisonment with or without hard labour for any term not longer than seven years as the Court shall adjudge.

II. Any person charged with any offence, punishable under this Act, may be committed by any Magistrate within the territories under the Government of the East India Company, and may be tried by any Court which would have been competent to try him, if his offence had been committed within the ordinary jurisdiction of the Court.

III. No Court shall on the trial of any offence under this Act require any Futwa from any law Officer.

IV. This Act shall not exempt any person governed by the articles of war from being tried by a Court Martial, and punished according to the articles of war, nor any person belonging to the Indian Navy from being tried by a Court Martial and punished according to the laws for the observance of discipline in the Indian Navy; but no person shall be tried for the same offence under the said articles or laws, and also under this act.

Ordered that the Draft now read be published for general information.

Ordered that the said Draft be reconsidered at the first meeting of the Legislative Council of India after the 7th day of July next.

Advances of Cash will accordingly be made, for this purpose, by the Governments of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, to the extent of ¾ths of the value of the Goods hypothecated, and the Bills in repayment of these advances are to be drawn at six months' sight, at the rate of 1*s.* 10*d.* per Company's Rupee, until further notice.

In all other respects the existing terms and conditions of the advances to be made by the respective Governments, will remain in force, and be the same as published in the Calcutta Gazette under date the 1st April 1842.

THE LIGHT ON CAPE AGULHAS.

Colonial Office, Cape of Good Hope, 15th December, 1848.

A Light House having been erected at Cape Agulhas, near the Southernmost point of the Continent of Africa, the following Sailing Instructions for vessels approaching that point, which have been drawn up by T. MACLEAR, Esq., F. R. S., Her Majesty's Astronomer Royal at the Cape of Good Hope, and which include a description of the land and shore about Agulhas,—instructions for anchoring in Struys Bay,—and a description of the construction of the Light Apparatus, are, by direction of His Excellency the Governor, published for general information.

His Excellency has further desired it to be notified that, the works being now completed, the Lantern will be lighted on the 1st of March next; and will, thereafter, continue to be lighted every evening at sunset.

By His Excellency's Command,

(Signed) JOHN MONTAGU,

Secretary to Government.

CAPE AGULHAS LIGHT.

It has been thought advisable to reverse the logical order of the matter connected with the establishment of this Light, so that what is most wanted should appear first, and further information be had by reference to the particular heads.

The adopted arrangement is as follows:—

1. General Sailing Instructions for Passing Agulhas.
2. Description of the Land and Shore about Agulhas.
3. Instructions for anchoring in Struys Bay, Currents, Tides, &c.
4. Description of the Construction of the Light Apparatus.

1.—General Sailing Instructions for Passing Agulhas.

	°	′	″		h	m	s
Latitude of the Light, ...	34	49	45·7
Longitude, East of Greenwich, ...	20	0	40	=	1	20	2·67
Longitude, East of the Cape Observatory, ...	1	31	55	=	0	6	7·67

Magnetic Variation 29° 20′ W.

The Light can be seen in clear weather in any direction seaward, between East and North West by West, at the distance of six leagues from a deck 15 feet high. It is a steady white Light.

All the bearings mentioned are Magnetic, and all the distances expressed in miles are Geographical, unless the contrary is stated.

If a vessel from the Eastward passes Struys Point at the distance of 5 miles from the shore, and steers a W. by S. course exactly, she will pass the most Southerly projection of the Northumberland Point Reef at the distance of 4¼ miles, and the Light at the distance of 5⅛ miles, and clear Gunner's Quoin. This is the limit Northward within which no sailing vessel should be found. It secures every advantage that could possibly be obtained by a closer course, and at that distance the Light will be brilliant.

Precautions.—In clear weather, the Light may be seen, when 5 or 6 miles Eastward of Struys Point, from a look-out at the height of 35 feet; and if the vessel then should chance to be close in shore, by steering the above course, she might touch the shoal off Struys Point. To guard against this, when the Light is first seen, it should be brought immediately to bear W. by N.; and keeping this bearing of the Light, the vessel will pass 2 miles to the Southward of any danger respecting Struys Point.

Care should be taken when approaching the land before the Light is discovered, for in hazy weather, or from spray in a fresh breeze, combined with the distance of Struys Point (about 15 miles), the Light may be faint or altogether obscured, and the vessel may get within the line of danger. Under these circumstances, the Lead should not be neglected, and the depth should not be less than 20 fathoms, without putting about immediately to the South.

The like precautions are required in the day time, particularly in foggy weather; for the high land of Agulhas may be invisible, while the sand hills of Struys Bay and the breakers off Northumberland Point are distinctly seen. On these occasions it is difficult to determine whether the vessel is to the Eastward or Westward of Struys Point; because the shore features of the Bay Eastward of that Point, are similar to those of Struys Bay, although the extent is less.

Sailing vessels in particular should adhere to the rules, for if it should fall calm, the heavy swell which constantly rolls towards the shore would carry them with it, and the only resource, that of anchoring, would probably be of no avail from the rocky nature of the bottom, combined with the swell. The "St. Mungo" is said to have been wrecked in this way.

Coming from the Westward, the Light will be seen first on a S. 57° 15′ E. bearing. The extreme end of the low ground called Gunner's Quoin Point bears N. 52° 30′ W. from the Light House, distant 19⅜ miles, but it is not visible from it. The sea was remarked breaking a long way off the Point,—it will therefore be necessary to keep off until the Light becomes visible.

With the precautions here given, there will be as little danger in rounding Agulhas as in rounding the Cape of Good Hope, or indeed any other head land.

2.—Description of the Land and Shore about Agulhas.

Cape Agulhas is defined to be the rocky projection from the South East corner of the Agulhas Promontory, the centre of which Promontory is about ⅛th of a mile Westward of the projection, and about 200 yards more Southerly, being the most Southern part of Africa.

Description of the Land.—The features of the land about Agulhas distinguish it from the neighbouring head lands. A ridge-shaped undulating clump, rising from the flat ground, is separated into four ridge-shaped hills by irregular ravines running nearly true East and West. The middle ridges enter, wedge-like, at the East-end, and are lost towards the centre, where the ravine widens to a mile in breadth. The middle ridges are the lowest, the Northern and Southern are nearly of equal height.

Viewed at a distance from the seaward, Easterly or Westerly, the North and South elevations being seen nearly end on, resemble two oblong hummocks; but the former extending more Easterly appears the highest as seen from the Eastward.

Viewed at a distance from the Southward, the South ridge masks the others, save at their East end; but the ravines being hid, the whole appear to be united (only the South and middle ridges are noticed on the chart. They are all given on Col. MICHELL's plan.)

The highest part of the South ridge is 455 feet above the level of the sea, and its true meridional distance from the shore is almost exactly one mile. From this point the descent Eastward is rather gradual. Westward the descent is at first steep, then slightly undulates. Southward it is steep, then undulates to within 300 yards of the shore, where the ground becomes flat.

On the first undulation from the shore, which is about 55 feet above the level of the sea, nearly true South of the highest point before mentioned, and N. 30° W., 520 yards from Cape Agulhas, the Light House is built.

This spot was selected by the Masters of H. M. Ships President, Brilliant and Rosamond, (Messrs. REES, RUSSEL and ASHTON), under the command of Capt FOOTE, R. N., in conjunction with Lieut.-Colonel MICHELL.

The Light commands to seaward between E. and N. W. by W., or more correctly, E. to N. 57° 15′ W.

Description of the Shore.—West of the Agulhas Promontory the shore bends North-westerly, then round to the head-land called Gunner's Quoin, forming an irregular shallow incurvation of about 19 miles in breadth. Immediately to the E. N. E. of the Promontory are two deep indentations. The first called St. Mungo's inlet. The next is deeper and wider, and the projection which separates them is called St. Mungo's Point. From the last inlet the shore runs jagged to the dangerous projection called Northumberland Point, the site of the wreck of the ship "Duke of Northumberland," which Point forms the west horn of Struys Bay.

The whole of the beach, from the west of the Agulhas Promontory to Northumberland Point, consists of rugged sand stone and quartz rocks, or rocky reef, perfectly impracticable even for a boat. At the Promontory groups of rock prevail; at the Cape, rocks, and rocky reef, extending out a third of a mile. At the inlets, flat rocky reef exposed at low water for a third of a mile; thence rocky to Northumberland Point, where it is sand and reef.

Exposed to the uninterrupted oscillations of the Southern Ocean, the sea breaks heavy on this iron bound shore, particularly during Southern winds. A vessel touching upon it, has not the slightest chance of escaping destruction.

The coast between Northumberland Point, and Struys Point, viz., of Struys Bay, is low and sandy, but a short distance from the beach, there is a line of sand hills varying from 50 to 150 feet in height, some of them covered with dark coloured bush, a feature that distinguishes the coast from Struys Point to the next Point Eastward of it. There is no high land sufficiently near to interfere with the distinguishing character of the hills Northward of Agulhas, as viewed from the seaward.

Northumberland Point bears East from the Light 3¼ miles. It is low and sandy immediately on the beach; but a very dangerous ledge of rocks extends S. 37°.30′ E., 1 mile from the Point, and a detached rock was fixed by intersection while breaking, which places it S. 58°.30′ E., 1¼ miles from the Point; and S. 81°.40′ E., 4½ miles from the Light. The extreme of Northumberland Point reef bears S. 77°.30′ E., 3 1/10 miles nearly from the Light. Westward from the Point the reefs extend about one-third of a mile and break heavily when the wind is from the S. E. In one or two places it breaks further out but in no place exceeds half a mile.

Struys Point is the outer extreme of a number of sand hills, and as before stated, forms the Eastern horn of Struys Bay. It bears from Northumberland Point, which is the Western horn, N. 79° .30′ E., 11 miles (estimated), and N. 82° .20′ E., 15 miles from the light house. This point is more dangerous than Northumberland Point, inasmuch as the reefs lie much further off the shore, and there is no high land to enable the mariner to determine his position. Circumstances did not allow of this Point being included in the Agulhas survey; but during a strong South-easter it was remarked from the summit of the sand hills near the Point, that the reef extended seaward about 3 miles, and was then breaking with fury.

Like Northumberland Point, the color of the water off this Point changes to seaward from brown to light, then dark green; from which it may be inferred, together with the known shallowness of the water off Northumberland Point, that the Lead as well as the color of the water, will always warn a ship of the approach of danger.

Struys Bay is formed by Struys Point to the East and Northumberland Point to the West. The landing place is in a small bay or cove to the N. W. of Northumberland Point, sheltered by a projecting shelf of shingle from each extremity of the cove. The jetty, constructed from pieces of wreck, renders the landing easy; but at the outer horns of the shingle there is only water sufficient for a boat at quarter flood in fine weather. Three or four huts at the head of the jetty, point out its position from the Bay. Immediately in the neighbourhood, on higher ground, is a stone dwelling house, with a signal staff a few yards behind it, termed the telegraph staff on the chart.

The marks for anchoring are the large stone house near the beach W. ¼ S., and the sandy extreme of Northumberland Point S. W. by S., in 5 fathoms sand. Here the bottom is clear, while to the westward and nearer to the reef where the water is smoother the bottom is foul,—rocks interspersed with patches of sand. The latter is unsafe, the cable is liable to snap from fouling the rocks, an accident that befel H. M. Vessel "Dee," while, lying there in a light South-westerly wind accompanied by the usual swell.

Directions for Anchoring.—Vessels from the westward, intending to anchor in this bay, should not bring the light house to bear more Westerly than W. by N. ¼ N., until Northumberland Point bears N. W. ¼ N. Then steer N. N. E. or N. E. by N. until the stone house before mentioned bears W. N. W. This will lead clear of the outer detached reefs off Northumberland Point. Proceed then to N. W. and bring the anchorage marks on.

The light will not be visible from this anchoring ground, owing to the swell of the intervening land.

Precautions respecting Struys Bay.—Shelter may be obtained in this bay during Westerly and North Westerly winds only. None is afforded with the wind between S. W. round to the Southward and East. With any of the latter winds it is unsafe, if not impossible, to ride in this bay, for the sea rises to such an extent as to break in 7 or 8 fathoms, a circumstance that was remarked on two occasions while H. M. Steamer "Dee" was standing off waiting for the weather to moderate to enable her to anchor. At the time of anchoring, although the wind had subsided for several hours, the water nearly broke in 7 fathoms where the anchor was let go; and at the place from whence she had put to sea three days before in 4¾ fathoms, the sea was breaking heavily. As a general rule, vessels seeking shelter in this bay in a N. W. gale, should put to sea immediately after it subsides: for the wind frequently changes in a few hours from a strong N. W. to a S. E. or South point; in which case it is very difficult to work out in consequence of the heavy sea that rises with these winds.

Currents.—During the examinations of the Coast (Sept. 1848) no current was observed in Struys Bay, nor about the coast 2½ miles from the shore, as far to the westward of Agulhas as the letter E. on the chart: but it was confidently asserted by fishermen, and the residents at Struys Bay, that a very strong current frequently sets to the Westward round Northumberland Point.

Tides.—Circumstances did not allow of the Tides being observed with due accuracy. Two copper plugs were let into rocks S. W. of the Light House to mark the high and low water points nearly at Spring Tides. The comparisons with these plugs on October 15, 16, 18, 19, 28, 29, (1848), and an observation at the jetty in Struys Bay, on October 28, give the establishment, and rise and fall, nearly similar to what prevails in Table Bay and Simon's Bay.

Magnetic Variation.—This was determined by means of two Magnets, on the flat ground between the Light House and Beach. The result (29° 20′ W.) has been employed for the compass bearings, given in these Instructions.

4.—Description of the Light Apparatus.

This Light is of the first or most brilliant class, and is the work of Mr. Henry le Paute. It is constructed upon what is technically called the Dioptric principle.

A hollow cylinder with a paraboloid top of about 19 feet in circumference, and 10 feet in height, is composed (omitting a door way) of 28 horizontal tiers of glass and reflectors, firmly fixed in a metallic frame work of six compartments; so that each tier is divided into six circular segments.

The centre tier is a large hoop-shaped plano-convex lens, 11 inches in depth. Next, 8 tiers of circular prisms above and 8 below the centre lens. Then 7 tiers of reflectors above and 4 tiers below. Three-fourths of the circumference of the cylinder is formed by this combination. The remaining quadrant which is towards the land, and its centre due North, serves for the door way into the cylinder; but the door is lined with two large concave metallic reflectors, each two feet in breadth and three feet in height.

The burner, consisting of four concentric Argand Wicks, 4 inches in diameter, is placed in the centre of the cylinder in the focus of the large lens It is supplied with oil by a force pump driven by clock-work; and there is a simple contrivance, which gives notice by the ringing of a bell when the reservoir requires to be replenished.

The frame work of the Lenticular (the name given to the whole combination) is firmly attached to a cast-iron circular floor, supported by a stem of cast iron; the lower end of which is let into a block of granite resting upon the crown of the supporting dome, where it (the stone) is surrounded by masonry.

The theory of the Lenticular may be understood, as follows:—The burner being in the focus of the plano-convex lens, the rays of light that impinge upon the inner plane surface, emerge outside horizontal.

The bases of the prisms are perpendicular inside; their upper planes are horizontal, and their hypothenusal planes outside slant downwards and inwards. The depth of each base successively diminishes from 3 inches to 1⅛ inch in depth, in the order from the centre lens upwards and downwards, which is the order of the increasing inclination of the impinging rays from the burner. The effect of the prismatic form, is to turn the rays, and to send them out horizontal, upon the same principle by which objects in a horizontal direction in front of a Camera Lucida are seen by looking down into it.

The tiers of reflectors commence at the height and depression where the still greater inclination of the impinging rays from the burner would cause a prism to decompose them in the horizontal direction into the prismatic or rainbow colours. The reflectors are concave towards the lens, their curvatures increasing as they recede from the centre lens. They reflect the rays that fall upon them to the prisms, whence they are sent out horizontal.

The two large reflectors behind on the inside of the door return the rays from their direction to the large lens, through which they escape horizontal.

Thus all the light from the burner, save the small quantity that escapes up the chimney glass, is bent into one brilliant horizontal sheet to overspread the horizon.

This splendid specimen of skill is protected by a Lantern 10½ feet in diameter, or 33 feet in circumference, glazed with thick plate glass, and surmounted by a copper dome, from which a lightning conductor of wire rope descends to the ground.

The Light House was planned by Lieut. Colonel Michell, the late talented Surveyor General at the Cape, who made a journey to Paris for the express purpose of selecting the Lenticular Apparatus.

It may be proper to mention, that the Tower of the Light House is to be painted, and will show alternate horizontal bands of white and red, two of each.

Messrs. Rees, Carr and Skead of H. M. Ships President, Nimrod and Dee, respectively, particularly Mr. Skead, provided a large portion of the Sailing Instructions. These, with the remainder by myself, I have arranged and compared carefully with the Chart recently constructed from measurement and rigorous trigonometric calculation. The other matter is by myself, and I hold myself responsible for the accuracy of the whole.

I may add, that one of the trigonometric stations in the measurement of the Arc of the Meridian is on the highest point of the hill above the Light House; by means of which, the Latitude and Longitude of the Light House are derived from the position of the Observatory. Thus the Light is an exact Geographical Point.

NOTIFICATION.

FOREIGN DEPARTMENT.

FORT WILLIAM: 11TH APRIL, 1849.

The President of the Council of India in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following General Order, issued by the Right Hon'ble the Governor General, at His Lordship's Head Quarters, together with the Despatches referred to therein from His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief and Major Genl. Sir Walter Gilbert, K. C. B.

By order of the President in Council,

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of India.

General Order by the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India.

FOREIGN DEPARTMENT.

CAMP FEROZEPORE, THE 2ND APRIL 1849.

The Governor General has the gratification of publishing for general information, Despatches which have been received from His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief and from Major General Sir Walter Gilbert, K. C. B., announcing the termination of hostilities in the Punjaub.

The Governor General, declared that before the war could cease, every enemy, whether Sikh or Affghan, should be driven from before us: and the British Army has well and gallantly made good his words.

The Sikh Sirdars and the remnant of their Army were pursued, have surrendered, and have been disarmed.

The Ameer of Cabool, with his troops, has fled before the British Force, and has been chased ignominiously from the territories he invaded.

The war has thus been brought to an end, and the Punjaub has been declared a portion of the British empire in India.

Once again the Governor General offers to His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, to the general Officers, the Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers, and Soldiers of the Army, the assurance of his deep and unfeigned gratitude for the great services they have rendered to the country, for the zeal and gallantry they have displayed, and for the sustained and cheerful exertions they have made.

In anticipation of the wishes of the Hon'ble Court of Directors, the Governor General will grant to every Officer and Soldier, who has been employed within the Punjaub in this campaign to the date of the occupation of Peshawur, a Medal bearing the word "Punjaub," in commemoration of the honorable service they have done.

The Governor General is also pleased to direct that every Corps, which has been so employed, shall bear the same word on their Standards, Colors, and Appointments.

The Governor General desires to take this opportunity of acknowledging his obligations to Officers who have been serving in various positions connected with the Army in the field.

The Governor General is sensible of the zeal and activity of Major General Sir D. Hill, K. C. B., commanding the Reserve, and he would have looked with confidence to his service, if the Division under his command had been called into operation.

Brigadier General Wheeler, C. B., has executed the several duties which have been committed to him with skill and with success; and the Governor General has been happy to convey to him his thanks.

The Governor General is indebted to Brigadier Stalker, Commanding at Mooltan, for the successful exertions which have been made, under his directions, for placing the fort again in a condition of defence, and for maintaining the tranquillity of the country.

The Governor General begs to acknowledge the service which has been rendered by Lieutenant Colonel McSherry, 1st Native Infantry, Commanding at Govindgurh. The energy, vigilance, and tact which he has exhibited during his occupation of that important fortress, have been of much value to the Government of India.

From Sir Frederick Currie, Baronet, Resident at Lahore, previously to his return to his seat in Council, the Governor General received at all times effective and most ready co-operation and he has continued to receive from Lieutenant Colonel Sir H. Lawrence, K. C. B., the support which his known ability and experience enable him to afford.

The meritorious conduct of the several Assistants to the Resident has elicited the strong approbation of the Government. In addition to those whom he has before named, the Governor General offers his especial thanks to Major George Lawrence, for the able management—which so long enabled him to maintain his position at Peshawur—and to Captain James Abbott for the gallant stand he has made in the hills of Huzara.

Lieutenant Taylor has earned the full approbation of the Government by his judicious and persevering efforts which regained and have held the province of Bunnoo.

The sustained defence of the fort of Attock, which was made by Lieutenant Herbert, under circumstances of great difficulty, has been viewed by the Government of India with admiration, and entitles him to their warmest praise.

Mr. John Lawrence, Commissioner of the Trans-Sutlej Province, has received the thanks of the Governor General—well seconded by his Assistants in the district, he has greatly contributed, by his promptitude, energy and firmness to the maintenance of the general tranquillity which has prevailed in these newly acquired territories.

The Governor General especially wishes to record his marked approbation of the manner in which Major Mackeson, C. B., as his Agent with the Army, has discharged the duties which were entrusted to him. In the important political matters in which he has been engaged. Major Mackeson's proceedings have been distinguished by ability, judgment, discretion and firmness; and the Governor General begs to convey to him the expression of his unqualified satisfaction.

The Governor General concludes by tendering to the Officers of the Government in his Camp, sincere thanks for the assistance he has at all times received from them.

He particularly desires to express his obligation to Mr. Henry Elliot, Secretary to the Government of India, for his very able, laborious and most valuable aid in the important affairs which have occupied the Governor General's attention: and to Colonel Stuart, C. B., Military Secretary to the Government of India, and to Lieutenant Colonel Benson, C. B., Member of the Military Board with the Governor General, for the great assistance he has derived from their experience and judgment in the affairs of their respective Departments.

While thus congratulating the Army and British subjects in India on the triumphant success which has been achieved, the Governor General desires humbly to acknowledge the Hand by which alone all Victory is given.

He has accordingly intimated to the Lord Bishop his wish, that on the First Sunday in May, Thanksgiving shall be offered to Almighty God for the successful termination of the War in which we have been engaged, and for the restoration to the people of the blessing of Peace.

By order of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India,

H. M. ELLIOT,
Secy. to the Govt. of India,
with the Govr. Genl.

(Copies,)

From HIS EXCELLENCY
THE COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF IN INDIA,

To the RIGHT HON'BLE
THE GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA.

Head-Quarters, Camp Army of the Punjab,
Wuzeerabad, 25th March, 1849.

MY LORD,—I have sincere satisfaction in forwarding to your Lordship a copy of a Despatch received this day from Major General Sir Walter R. Gilbert, K. C. B., commanding the advanced force of this Army, No. 291, dated the 21st instant, announcing the occupation of Peshawur by the British Troops, the precipitate retreat of the Ameer Dost Mahomed Khan and his followers beyond the Khyber Pass, and the consequent dissolution of the Affghan confederacy. The brilliant results have been obtained, your Lordship will observe, without a single shot being fired by our Troops since the Victory of Goojerat on the 21st ultimo.

It is almost superfluous for me to repeat to your Lordship how very highly I estimate the unwearied and zealous exertions in these subsequent movements of that most energetic and able Officer Major General Gilbert and the excellent Troops under his command.

In soliciting your Lordship's particular attention to Major General Gilbert's commendation of Major F. Mackeson, C. B., your Lordship's Agent with the Force, I beg to repeat the high sense I entertain of that Officer's merits, and the excellent service he has rendered throughout the Campaign.

The Sikh rebellion and Affghan confederacy have been now effectually put down and overthrown, I beg to be favored with your Lordship's instructions for breaking up the Army of the Punjab, which has, I trust, merited the approbation of your Lordship and the Country.

I have, &c.,

(Signed) GOUGH, General,
Commander-in-Chief in India.

No. 291.

SIR W. R. GILBERT, K. C. B.,
Commanding Field Force on
Special Service.

To the ADJUTANT GENERAL OF THE ARMY,
Camp Peshawur, 21st March, 1849.

SIR,—I advanced this morning from Nowshyra to Peshawur with the Bengal division of my force, and have much satisfaction in reporting for the information of His Excellency the Right Hon'ble the Commander-in-Chief, that I am in possession of the city of Peshawur and its Balla Hissar.

The Afghan Army under command of Ameer Dost Mahomed Khan retreated from Peshawur on the 19th instant, and is to-day reported to have reached Dakka on the Western side of the Khyber Pass. The city I found untouched by the Afghans, the Ameer having directed the gates to be closed against his troops; but most of the garden-houses in its neighbourhood have been burnt, or otherwise rendered uninhabitable, and the Sikh Cantonment at Alli Murdan Khan's Bagh has been burnt to the ground. The fort of Jumrood is also reported to be destroyed.

By the expulsion from the Province of Peshawur of the Ameer and his Army, I have carried to a successful conclusion the whole of the instructions of the Right Honorable the Governor General of India, conveyed to me through His Excellency the Commander in Chief with your letter of the 3rd March, instant. The Sikhs have been humbled, and their power crushed, the British prisoners released from an irksome captivity, and the rich Province of Peshawur freed from its Mahomedan invaders. To my troops I am indebted, under Providence, for these glorious results. Since the 1st of the month they have marched from the Jhelum to the Indus and Peshawur, crossing both rivers under many disadvantages, and overcoming all the obstacles of the road which are naturally great, and were much enhanced by our large train of stores and baggage—the necessary encumbrances of a force like this. To both Officers and men, I am deeply indebted for their cheerful endurance of the fatigues and privations to which all have been exposed.

I cannot permit myself to conclude this report of my arrival at Peshawur, without expressing to His Lordship my sense of the valuable services rendered me by Major F. Mackeson, C. B., who accompanies the force as Agent of the Governor General. I am particularly indebted to him for his ready assistance, and for the unwearied and unremitting zeal with which he has performed the important duties of his Office. To his cool judgment and unswerving decision of purpose, I owe much of the success that has attended the progress of my force.

From my staff generally I have received every assistance.

NOTIFICATION.

FOREIGN DEPARTMENT.

FORT WILLIAM: 11TH APRIL, 1849.

The President of the Council of India in Council is pleased to direct the publication of the following General Order, issued by the Right Hon'ble the Governor General, at His Lordship's Head Quarters, together with the Despatches referred to therein from His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief and Major Genl. Sir Walter Gilbert, K. C. B.

By order of the President in Council,

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,

Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of India.

General Order by the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India.

FOREIGN DEPARTMENT.

CAMP FEROZEPORE, THE 2ND APRIL 1849.

The Governor General has the gratification of publishing for general information, Despatches which have been received from His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief and from Major General Sir Walter Gilbert, K. C. B., announcing the termination of hostilities in the Punjaub.

The Governor General, declared that before the war could cease, every enemy, whether Sikh or Affghan, should be driven from before us: and the British Army has well and gallantly made good his words.

The Sikh Sirdars and the remnant of their Army were pursued, have surrendered, and have been disarmed.

The Ameer of Cabool, with his troops, has fled before the British Force, and has been chased ignominiously from the territories he invaded.

The war has thus been brought to an end, and the Punjaub has been declared a portion of the British empire in India.

Once again the Governor General offers to His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief, to the general Officers, the Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers, and Soldiers of the Army, the assurance of his deep and unfeigned gratitude for the great services they have rendered to the country, for the zeal and gallantry they have displayed, and for the sustained and cheerful exertions they have made.

In anticipation of the wishes of the Hon'ble Court of Directors, the Governor General will grant to every Officer and Soldier, who has been employed within the Punjaub in this campaign to the date of the occupation of Peshawur, a Medal bearing the word "Punjaub," in commemoration of the honorable service they have done.

The Governor General is also pleased to direct that every Corps, which has been so employed, shall bear the same word on their Standards, Colors, and Appointments.

The Governor General desires to take this opportunity of acknowledging his obligations to Officers who have been serving in various positions connected with the Army in the field.

The Governor General is sensible of the zeal and activity of Major General Sir D. Hill, K. C. B., commanding the Reserve, and he would have looked with confidence to his service, if the Division under his command had been called into operation.

Brigadier General Wheeler, C. B., has executed the several duties which have been committed to him with skill and with success; and the Governor General has been happy to convey to him his thanks.

The Governor General is indebted to Brigadier Stalker, Commanding at Mooltan, for the successful exertions which have been made, under his directions, for placing the fort again in a condition of defence, and for maintaining the tranquillity of the country.

The Governor General begs to acknowledge the service which has been rendered by Lieutenant Colonel McSherry, 1st Native Infantry, Commanding at Govindgurh. The energy, vigilance, and tact which he has exhibited during his occupation of that important fortress, have been of much value to the Government of India.

From Sir Frederick Currie, Baronet, Resident at Lahore, previously to his return to his seat in Council, the Governor General received at all times effective and most ready co-operation and he has continued to receive from Lieutenant Colonel Sir H. Lawrence, K. C. B., the support which his known ability and experience enable him to afford.

The meritorious conduct of the several Assistants to the Resident has elicited the strong approbation of the Government. In addition to those whom he has before named, the Governor General offers his especial thanks to Major George Lawrence, for the able management—which so long enabled him to maintain his position at Peshawur—and to Captain James Abbott for the gallant stand he has made in the hills of Huzara.

Lieutenant Taylor has earned the full approbation of the Government by his judicious and persevering efforts which regained and have held the province of Bunnoo.

The sustained defence of the fort of Attock, which was made by Lieutenant Herbert, under circumstances of great difficulty, has been viewed by the Government of India with admiration, and entitles him to their warmest praise.

Mr. John Lawrence, Commissioner of the Trans-Sutlej Province, has received the thanks of the Governor General—well seconded by his Assistants in the district, he has greatly contributed, by his promptitude, energy and firmness to the maintenance of the general tranquillity which has prevailed in these newly acquired territories.

The Governor General especially wishes to record his marked approbation of the manner in which Major Mackeson, C. B., as his Agent with the Army, has discharged the duties which were entrusted to him. In the important political matters in which he has been engaged. Major Mackeson's proceedings have been distinguished by ability, judgment, discretion and firmness; and the Governor General begs to convey to him the expression of his unqualified satisfaction.

The Governor General concludes by tendering to the Officers of the Government in his Camp, sincere thanks for the assistance he has at all times received from them.

He particularly desires to express his obligation to Mr. Henry Elliot, Secretary to the Government of India, for his very able, laborious and most valuable aid in the important affairs which have occupied the Governor General's attention: and to Colonel Stuart, C. B., Military Secretary to the Government of India, and to Lieutenant Colonel Benson, C. B., Member of the Military Board with the Governor General, for the great assistance he has derived from their experience and judgment in the affairs of their respective Departments.

While thus congratulating the Army and British subjects in India on the triumphant success which has been achieved, the Governor General desires humbly to acknowledge the Hand by which alone all Victory is given.

He has accordingly intimated to the Lord Bishop his wish, that on the First Sunday in May, Thanksgiving shall be offered to Almighty God for the successful termination of the War in which we have been engaged, and for the restoration to the people of the blessing of Peace.

By order of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India,

H. M. Elliot,
Secy. to the Govt. of India,

To the Right Hon'ble
the Governor General of India.

Head-Quarters, Camp Army of the Punjab,
Wuzeerabad, 25th March, 1849.

My Lord,—I have sincere satisfaction in forwarding to your Lordship a copy of a Despatch received this day from Major General Sir Walter R. Gilbert, K. C. B., commanding the advanced force of this Army, No. 291, dated the 21st instant, announcing the occupation of Peshawur by the British Troops, the precipitate retreat of the Ameer Dost Mahomed Khan and his followers beyond the Khyber Pass, and the consequent dissolution of the Affghan confederacy. The brilliant results have been obtained, your Lordship will observe, without a single shot being fired by our Troops since the Victory of Goojerat on the 21st ultimo.

It is almost superfluous for me to repeat to your Lordship how very highly I estimate the unwearied and zealous exertions in these subsequent movements of that most energetic and able Officer Major General Gilbert and the excellent Troops under his command.

In soliciting your Lordship's particular attention to Major General Gilbert's commendation of Major F. Mackeson, C. B., your Lordship's Agent with the Force, I beg to repeat the high sense I entertain of that Officer's merits, and the excellent service he has rendered throughout the Campaign.

The Sikh rebellion and Affghan confederacy have been now effectually put down and overthrown, I beg to be favored with your Lordship's instructions for breaking up the Army of the Punjab, which has, I trust, morited the approbation of your Lordship and the Country.

I have, &c.,

Sir W. R. Gilbert, K. C. B.,
Commanding Field Force on
Special Service.

To the Adjutant General of the Army,

Camp Peshawur, 21st March, 1849.

Sir,—I advanced this morning from Nowshyra to Peshawur with the Bengal division of my force, and have much satisfaction in reporting for the information of His Excellency the Right Hon'ble the Commander-in-Chief, that I am in possession of the city of Peshawur and its Balla Hissar.

The Afghan Army under command of Ameer Dost Mahomed Khan retreated from Peshawur on the 19th instant, and is to-day reported to have reached Dakka on the Western side of the Khyber Pass. The city I found untouched by the Afghans, the Ameer having directed the gates to be closed against his troops; but most of the garden-houses in its neighbourhood have been burnt, or otherwise rendered uninhabitable, and the Sikh Cantonment at Alli Murdan Khan's Bagh has been burnt to the ground. The fort of Jumrood is also reported to be destroyed.

By the expulsion from the Province of Peshawur of the Ameer and his Army, I have carried to a successful conclusion the whole of the instructions of the Right Honorable the Governor General of India, conveyed to me through His Excellency the Commander in Chief with your letter of the 3rd March, instant. The Sikhs have been humbled, and their power crushed, the British prisoners released from an irksome captivity, and the rich Province of Peshawur freed from its Mahomedan invaders. To my troops I am indebted, under Providence, for these glorious results. Since the 1st of the month they have marched from the Jhelum to the Indus and Peshawur, crossing both rivers under many disadvantages, and overcoming all the obstacles of the road which are naturally great, and were much enhanced by our large train of stores and baggage—the necessary encumbrances of a force like this. To both Officers and men, I am deeply indebted for their cheerful endurance of the fatigues and privations to which all have been exposed.

I cannot permit myself to conclude this report of my arrival at Peshawur, without expressing to His Lordship my sense of the valuable services rendered me by Major F. Mackeson, C. B., who accompanies the force as Agent of the Governor General. I am particularly indebted to him for his ready assistance, and for the unwearied and unremitting zeal with which he has performed the important duties of his Office. To his cool judgment and unswerving decision of purpose, I owe much of the success that has attended the progress of my force.

From my staff generally I have received every assistance.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 7th April, 1849.

ACT No. VII. OF 1849.

An Act for the appointment of an Administrator General in Bengal.

II. All Letters of Administration or Ad Colligenda Bona, granted to the Ecclesiastical Registrar of the Supreme Court,—and all Probates granted to such Officer, of Wills, appointing the Ecclesiastical Registrar of the Supreme Court, by that description, or him and his successors, Executors thereof,—and all Estates, Effects and Interests, vested in the said Ecclesiastical Registrar by virtue thereof; and all books, papers and documents belonging to him or in his possession, or under his control by virtue of such Letters or Probates, shall, by this Act, and without other grant, be transferred to the Administrator General by this Act created; who shall be, to all intents and purposes, such Administrator, Executor, or Grantee, in his new character of Administrator General, as the Ecclesiastical Registrar of the Supreme Court was; and shall have all the same powers as the said Ecclesiastical Registrar might exercise at the time of the passing of this Act, as such Administrator, Executor or Grantee.

III. The Ecclesiastical Registrar at the time of the passing of this Act shall be the first Administrator General, and upon the passing of this Act shall cease to be Ecclesiastical Registrar; and as such Administrator General shall be entitled to receive or retain all Commissions to which he was entitled as Ecclesiastical Registrar at the time of the passing of this Act, on any such grants as aforesaid.

IV. On all future vacancies of the Office, the Administrator General shall be appointed by the Governor General of India in Council.

V. After the passing of this Act, the Administrator General shall not be deemed, in that capacity, an Officer of the said Supreme Court, and shall not be otherwise accountable to it than any ordinary Executor, Administrator, or Grantee of Letters Ad Colligenda Bona, as the case may be.

VI. Every Administrator General shall give Security, by bond, to the East India Company, himself for One Lakh of Rupees, with two or more Sureties, jointly and severally, for another Lakh of Rupees, for the due execution of his said Office; and shall not be required by the said Supreme Court to enter into any Administration Bond, or to give other Security to that Court on the grant of any such Letters as aforesaid.

VII. The Administrator General shall receive,—for the discharge of his duties as such Administrator General, under all such grants of Letters as aforesaid made, after the passing of this Act, or on Probates of Wills, so granted, after the passing of this Act, wherein he is named Executor, by virtue of his Office,—instead of the Commission heretofore received by the Ecclesiastical Registrar, a Commission calculated after the rate of Three Rupees in every Hundred Rupees, which he shall actually distribute, or which he shall set apart and invest as herein provided, for the benefit of the parties ultimately entitled thereto, if the same are not immediately payable; and, out of the said Commission of Three Rupees in the Hundred, shall defray the expences of the necessary Establishment, and all other charges, to which the said Office may be subject.

VIII. No person, other than the Administrator General, shall be entitled to charge any Commission or Agency, as Executor of any Will, of which Probate shall have been granted in the said Presidency after the passing of this Act, or as Administrator of any Effects whereof Administration shall have been granted in the said Presidency after the passing of this Act: but this enactment is not to be deemed to hinder any Executor from having the benefit of any legacy bequeathed to him, either of a specific sum or residuary bequest, or by way of Commission, or in any other manner.

IX. The Assets belonging to the Estates administered by the said Administrator General shall be kept by him in the Treasury of the East India Company, or otherwise kept and invested by him, in such manner as the Governor General of India in Council shall from time to time order; which order shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and shall be full authority, protection and indemnity in all Courts whatsoever for such keeping and investing.

X. The said Administrator General shall enter into books, to be kept by him for that purpose separate and distinct accounts of each Estate, and of all such sums of money, Bonds and other Securities for Money, Goods, Effects and things, as shall come to his hands or to the hands of any person employed by him, or in trust for him under this Act; and likewise of all payments made by him on account of the said Estates and of all debts due by or to the same, specifying the dates of such receipts and payments respectively; which said books shall be kept in the Administrator General's Office, and shall be open for the inspection of all such persons, practitioners in the said Court and others, as may have occasion to inspect the same, at office hours; paying only such reasonable fee as may be, from time to time, fixed therefore, by the Governor General of India in Council, and published in the Calcutta Gazette.

XI. The Administrator General, shall, twice in every year, that is, on the First day of March and on the Tenth day of August, or on the First day on which the said Court shall be sitting after those days, exhibit and deliver, in open Court, a true Schedule, shewing the gross amount of all sums of Money received or paid by him, on account of each Estate in his charge, and the balances, during the period of six months ending severally on the Thirty-first day of December and Thirtieth day of June next before the day of delivering such Schedule; and a true list of all Bonds or other Securities received on account of each of the said Estates during the same period; and also a true Schedule of all Administrations whereof the final balances shall have been paid over to the persons entitled to the same, during the same period,—specifying the amount of such balances, and the persons to whom paid; which Schedules shall be filed of record in the said Court, and shall, within fourteen days afterwards, be published in the Calcutta Gazette by the said Administrator General; and copies thereof in triplicate shall be delivered to the Secretary of the said Presidency, and sent by the Governor of the said Presidency to the Court of Directors of the East India Company for publication in the London Gazette.

XII. The Governor General of India in Council, shall, from time to time, appoint an Auditor or Auditors to examine the Accounts of the Administrator General at the time of the delivery of the said Schedules, and also at any other time when the Governor General of India in Council shall think fit.

XIII. The Auditor or Auditors shall examine the Schedules and accounts, and report to the said Governor General of India in Council whether they contain a full and true account of every thing which ought to be inserted therein, and whether the Books, by this Act directed to be kept by the Administrator General, are duly and regularly kept, and whether the Assets are duly kept and invested in such manner as is by Law prescribed.

XIV. Every Auditor shall have power to summon as well the Administrator General as any other person or persons whose presence he may think necessary, to attend him from time to time; and to examine the Administrator General or other party or parties if he shall think fit on Oath or Solemn Affirmation to be by him administered; and to call for all Books, Papers and Documents which may appear to him to be necessary for the purposes of the said reference: and if the Administrator General, or other person or persons when summoned, shall refuse or without reasonable cause neglect to attend, or to produce any Books, Papers or Documents required, or shall attend and refuse to be sworn or make a Solemn Affirmation when by law an Affirmation may be substituted for an Oath, or shall refuse to be examined, the Auditor or Auditors shall certify such neglect or refusal in writing to the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal; and every person so refusing or neglecting shall thereupon be punishable, in like manner as if such refusal or neglect had been in contempt of the said Supreme Court.

XV. The costs and expenses of preparing and publishing the said Schedules and copies thereof and of every such reference and examination shall be defrayed proportionably by all the Estates, the accounts of which are then under examination, which costs and proportions shall be ascertained and settled by the Auditor or Auditors, subject to the approval of the Governor General of India in Council, and shall be paid out of the said Estates, accordingly, by the Administrator General.

XVI. If upon any such reference and examination the Auditor or Auditors shall see reason to believe that the said Schedules do not contain a true and correct account of the matters therein, or which ought to be therein contained, he or they shall report accordingly to the Governor General of India in Council, specifying the substance of the objections thereto.

XVII. The Governor General of India in Council shall refer every such report, as last aforesaid, to the consideration of the Advocate General of the East India Company in Bengal, who shall thereupon, if he shall think fit, proceed summarily, by petition, for an account against the said Administrator General, or against the late Administrator General, after his removal from Office, or against his personal representatives in case of his death, in respect of all or any of the Estates then or formerly under his care as the said Advocate General shall think fit; and shall have power to exhibit interrogatories to the said Administrator General, or other person or persons defendants, who shall be bound to answer the same as fully as if the same had been contained in a Bill filed for the like purpose; and the Court shall have power, on any such petition filed, to examine orally the parties before it and all witnesses, or to refer the accounts to be taken in the ordinary way.

XVIII. The costs of the reference and examination, and those of the Advocate General, when such are directed to be paid, shall be defrayed either by the defendant or defendants, in case he or they shall be decreed to pay the costs, or out of the Estates rateably as the said Court shall direct; and whenever the costs of any reference and examination shall be recovered from the defendant or defendants, the same shall be repaid to the Estates by which the same were in the first instance contributed, and the Court shall have power to order the Administrator General, or other person or persons defendants, to receive his or her costs out of the said Estates if it shall think fit.

XIX. The said Court shall have power on such petition to make such original and subsequent orders as upon a Bill filed; and such Orders shall have the same effect, and be executed in the same manner as Decretal Orders.

XX. Whenever any British subject shall die within the said Presidency intestate, and Letters of Administration to his or her Effects shall not be taken out for three months after the death, and the Administrator General shall be satisfied that such Effects do not exceed in the whole Five Hundred Rupees, he may, if he shall think fit, grant,—to any person claiming to be entitled to a principal share of the Effects of the deceased,—Certificates under his hand, entitling the claimant to receive the sums or securities for money therein severally mentioned belonging to the Effects of the deceased, to the value of any sum not exceeding in the whole Five Hundred Rupees.

XXI. The Administrator General shall not be bound to grant any such Certificate, unless he is satisfied of the title of the claimant, and of the value of the Effects of the deceased, either by the Oath or Affidavit of the claimant, or by such other evidence as he shall require.

XXII. Any such Certificate, with a receipt annexed, under the hand of the person to whom the Certificate is granted, shall be a full receipt and discharge for payment or delivery to him or her of the money or security for money therein mentioned, with respect to the claim of any other person upon the person paying or delivering the same: but any next of kin or representative or creditor of the deceased shall have remedy for recovery thereof against the person receiving the same.

XXIII. The Administrator General shall not be bound to take out Letters of Administration to the Effects of any deceased person on account of whose Estate he shall grant any such Certificate, but may do so, if he shall discover any fraud or misrepresentation made to him, or that the value of the Estate exceeded Five Hundred Rupees.

XXIV. For every such Certificate the Administrator General shall be entitled to charge a fee calculated after the rate of Three Rupees in the Hundred on the amount mentioned in the Certificate.

XXV. Every person who, having been sworn, or having taken a Solemn Affirmation under this Act, shall wilfully give false testimony upon any examination authorized by this Act, shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and, if convicted thereof, shall be liable to fine and imprisonment, or to fine or imprisonment, which imprisonment may be at the discretion of the Court, with or without hard labor, and may extend to two years.

The 7th April, 1849.

ACT No. —— OF 1849.

To punish tampering with the Army or Navy.

Whereas the laws in force for punishing mutiny and sedition do not sufficiently provide for the punishment of all persons endeavouring to stir up mutiny and sedition among the forces of the East India Company, or to seduce them from their allegiance and duty, It is enacted as follows:

I. Every person who maliciously and advisedly endeavours to seduce any person or persons serving or engaged to serve in the Military or Naval forces of the East India Company, from his or their allegiance to Her Majesty, or duty to the said Company, or who endeavours to stir up any person or persons belonging to either of the said services to commit any act of mutiny, or to make or endeavour to make any mutinous assembly, or to commit any traitorous or mutinous practice whatsoever, shall, on conviction, suffer transportation for life, or imprisonment with or without hard labour for any term not longer than seven years as the Court shall adjudge.

II. Any person charged with any offence, punishable under this Act, may be committed by any Magistrate within the territories under the Government of the East India Company, and may be tried by any Court which would have been competent to try him, if his offence had been committed within the ordinary jurisdiction of the Court.

III. No Court shall on the trial of any offence under this Act require any Futwa from any law Officer.

IV. This Act shall not exempt any person governed by the articles of war from being tried by a Court Martial, and punished according to the articles of war, nor any person belonging to the Indian Navy from being tried by a Court Martial and punished according to the laws for the observance of discipline in the Indian Navy; but no person shall be tried for the same offence under the said articles or laws, and also under this act.

Ordered that the Draft now read be published for general information.

Ordered that the said Draft be reconsidered at the first meeting of the Legislative Council of India after the 7th day of July next.

No. 7.

Fort William, Financial Department, the 31st March, 1849.

NOTIFICATION.—Notice is hereby given, that in pursuance of instructions received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, Supplies on account of the Home Treasury, will continue to be raised during the ensuing Official Year 1849-50, on the security of Goods to be hypothecated to the East India Company, and that, so far as is at present known, the sum required to be provided in India by the purchase of Bills will be £900,000 liable, however, to such modification or extension as may hereafter be demanded by the exigencies of the Public Service.

Advances of Cash will accordingly be made, for this purpose, by the Governments of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, to the extent of ¾ths of the value of the Goods hypothecated, and the Bills in repayment of these advances are to be drawn at six months' sight, at the rate of 1*s.* 10*d.* per Company's Rupee, until further notice.

It is also further notified, that in, pursuance of instructions received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, the Governments of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, have been authorized, in any case in which they may consider such a course to be expedient, to dispense with the obligation to insure, which is imposed by the existing terms and conditions upon parties who may obtain advances from the respective Governments, on the security of Goods hypothecated to the East India Company, intimating to them that the Hon'ble Court will make the insurance in England, and requiring a Declaration binding the parties to repay the premium upon insurances, which the Court may effect before the Bills of Lading and other Shipping Documents are handed over to their Agents.

It is to be understood that the Insurance to be effected, will only be to the amount of the advance in each case, so as to cover the East India Company's risk.

In all other respects the existing terms and conditions of the advances to be made by the respective Governments, will remain in force, and be the same as published in the Calcutta Gazette under date the 1st April 1842.

THE LIGHT ON CAPE AGULHAS.

Colonial Office, Cape of Good Hope, 15th December, 1848.

A Light House having been erected at Cape Agulhas, near the Southernmost point of the Continent of Africa, the following Sailing Instructions for vessels approaching that point, which have been drawn up by T. MACLEAR, Esq., F. R. S., Her Majesty's Astronomer Royal at the Cape of Good Hope, and which include a description of the land and shore about Agulhas,—instructions for anchoring in Struys Bay,—and a description of the construction of the Light Apparatus, are, by direction of His Excellency the Governor, published for general information.

His Excellency has further desired it to be notified that, the works being now completed, the Lantern will be lighted on the 1st of March next; and will, thereafter, continue to be lighted every evening at sunset.

By His Excellency's Command,

Secretary to Government.

CAPE AGULHAS LIGHT.

It has been thought advisable to reverse the logical order of the matter connected with the establishment of this Light, so that what is most wanted should appear first, and further information be had by reference to the particular heads.

The adopted arrangement is as follows:—

1. General Sailing Instructions for Passing Agulhas.
2. Description of the Land and Shore about Agulhas.
3. Instructions for anchoring in Struys Bay, Currents, Tides, &c.
4. Description of the Construction of the Light Apparatus.

1.—General Sailing Instructions for Passing Agulhas.

	° ′ ″	h. m. s.
Latitude of the Light, ...	34 49 45·7
Longitude, East of Greenwich, ...	20 0 40 =	1 20 2·67

Magnetic Variation 29° 20′ W.

The Light can be seen in clear weather in any direction seaward, between East and North West by West; at the distance of six leagues from a deck 15 feet high. It is a steady white Light.

All the bearings mentioned are Magnetic, and all the distances expressed in miles are Geographical, unless the contrary is stated.

If a vessel from the Eastward passes Struys Point at the distance of 5 miles from the shore, and steers a W. by S. course exactly, she will pass the most Southerly projection of the Northumberland Point Reef at the distance of 4¼ miles, and the Light at the distance of 5½ miles, and clear Gunner's Quoin. This is the limit Northward within which no sailing vessel should be found. It secures every advantage that could possibly be obtained by a closer course, and at that distance the Light will be brilliant.

Precautions.—In clear weather, the Light may be seen, when 5 or 6 miles Eastward of Struys Point, from a look-out at the height of 35 feet; and if the vessel then should chance to be close in shore, by steering the above course, she might touch the shoal off Struys Point. To guard against this, when the Light is first seen, it should be brought immediately to bear W. by N.; and keeping this bearing of the Light, the vessel will pass 2 miles to the Southward of any danger respecting Struys Point.

Care should be taken when approaching the land before the Light is discovered, for in hazy weather, or from spray in a fresh breeze, combined with the distance of Struys Point (about 15 miles), the Light may be faint or altogether obscured, and the vessel may get within the line of danger. Under these circumstances, the Lead should not be neglected, and the depth should not be less than 20 fathoms, without putting about immediately to the South.

The like precautions are required in the day time, particularly in foggy weather; for the high land of Agulhas may be invisible, while the sand hills of Struys Bay and the breakers off Northumberland Point are distinctly seen. On these occasions it is difficult to determine whether the vessel is to the Eastward or Westward of Struys Point; because the shore features of the Bay Eastward of that Point, are similar to those of Struys Bay, although the extent is less.

Sailing vessels in particular should adhere to the rules, for if it should fall calm, the heavy swell which constantly rolls towards the shore would carry them with it, and the only resource, that of anchoring, would probably be of no avail from the rocky nature of the bottom, combined with the swell. The "St. Mungo" is said to have been wrecked in this way.

Coming from the Westward, the Light will be seen first on a S. 57° 15′ E. bearing. The extreme end of the low ground called Gunner's Quoin Point bears N. 52° 30′ W. from the Light House, distant 19¾ miles, but it is not visible from it. The sea was remarked breaking a long way off the Point,—it will therefore be necessary to keep off until the Light becomes visible.

With the precautions here given, there will be as little danger in rounding Agulhas as in rounding the Cape of Good Hope, or indeed any other head land.

2.—Description of the Land and Shore about Agulhas.

Cape Agulhas is defined to be the rocky projection from the South East corner of the Agulhas Promontory, the centre of which Promontory is about ¾th of a mile Westward of the projection, and about 200 yards more Southerly, being the most Southern part of Africa.

Description of the Land.—The features of the land about Agulhas distinguish it from the neighbouring head lands. A ridge-shaped undulating clump, rising from the flat ground, is separated into four ridge-shaped hills by irregular ravines running nearly true East and West. The middle ridges enter, wedge-like, at the East-end, and are lost towards the centre, where the ravine widens to a mile in breadth. The middle ridges are the lowest, the Northern and Southern are nearly of equal height.

Viewed at a distance from the seaward, Easterly or Westerly, the North and South elevations being seen nearly end on, resemble two oblong hummocks; but the former extending more Easterly appears the highest as seen from the Eastward.

Viewed at a distance from the Southward, the South ridge masks the others, save at their East end; but the ravines being hid, the whole appear to be united (only the South and middle ridges are noticed on the chart. They are all given on Col. MICHELL's plan.)

The highest part of the South ridge is 455 feet above the level of the sea, and its true meridional distance from the shore is almost exactly one mile. From this point the descent Eastward is rather gradual. Westward the descent is at first steep, then slightly undulates. Southward it is steep, then undulates to within 300 yards of the shore, where the ground becomes flat.

On the first undulation from the shore, which is about 55 feet above the level of the sea, nearly true South of the highest point before mentioned, and N. 30° W., 520 yards from Cape Agulhas, the Light House is built.

This spot was selected by the Masters of H. M. Ships President, Brilliant and Rosamond, (Messrs. REES, RUSSEL and ASHTON), under the command of Capt FOOTE, R. N., in conjunction with Lieut.-Colonel MICHELL.

The Light commands to seaward between E. and N. W. by W., or more correctly, E. to N. 57° 15′ W.

Description of the Shore.—West of the Agulhas Promontory the shore bends North-westerly, then round to the head-land called Gunner's Quoin, forming an irregular shallow incurvation of about 19 miles in breadth. Immediately to the E. N. E. of the Promontory are two deep indentations. The first called St. Mungo's inlet. The next is deeper and wider, and the projection which separates them is called St. Mungo's Point. From the last inlet the shore runs jagged to the dangerous projection called Northumberland Point, the site of the wreck of the ship "Duke of Northumberland," which Point forms the west horn of Struys Bay.

The whole of the beach, from the west of the Agulhas Promontory to Northumberland Point, consists of rugged sand stone and quartz rocks, or rocky reef, perfectly impracticable even for a boat. At the Promontory groups of rock prevail; at the Cape, rocks, and rocky reef, extending out a third of a mile. At the inlets, flat rocky reef exposed at low water for a third of a mile; thence rocky to Northumberland Point, where it is sand and reef.

Exposed to the uninterrupted oscillations of the Southern Ocean, the sea breaks heavy on this iron bound shore, particularly during Southern winds. A vessel touching upon it, has not the slightest chance of escaping destruction.

The coast between Northumberland Point, and Struys Point, viz., of Struys Bay, is low and sandy, but a short distance from the beach, there is a line of sand hills varying from 50 to 150 feet in height, some of them covered with dark coloured bush, a feature that distinguishes the coast from Struys Point to the next Point Eastward of it. There is no high land sufficiently near to interfere with the distinguishing character of the hills Northward of Agulhas, as viewed from the seaward.

Northumberland Point bears East from the Light 3⅛ miles. It is low and sandy immediately on the beach; but a very dangerous ledge of rocks exteuds S. 37°.30′ E., 1 mile from the Point, and a detached rock was fixed by intersection while breaking, which places it S. 58°.30′ E., 1¼ miles from the Point; and S. 81°.40′ E., 4¼ miles from the Light. The extreme of Northumberland Point reef bears S. 77°.30′ E., 3⅞ miles nearly from the Light. Westward from the Point the reefs extend about one-third of a mile and break heavily when the wind is from the S. E. In one or two places it breaks further out but in no place exceeds half a mile.

Struys Point is the outer extreme of a number of sand hills, and as before stated, forms the Eastern horn of Struys Bay. It bears from Northumberland Point, which is the Western horn, N. 79° .30′ E., 11 miles (estimated), and N. 82° .20′ E., 15 miles from the light house. This point is more dangerous than Northumberland Point, inasmuch as the reefs lie much further off the shore, and there is no high land to enable the mariner to determine his position. Circumstances did not allow of this Point being included in the Agulhas survey; but during a strong South-easter it was remarked from the summit of the sand hills near the Point, that the reef extended seaward about 3 miles, and was then breaking with fury.

Like Northumberland Point, the color of the water off this Point changes to seaward from brown to light, then dark green; from which it may be inferred, together with the known shallowness of the water off Northumberland Point, that the Lead as well as the color of the water, will always warn a ship of the approach of danger.

Struys Bay is formed by Struys Point to the East and Northumberland Point to the West. The landing place is in a small bay or cove to the N. W. of Northumberland Point, sheltered by a projecting shelf of shingle from each extremity of the cove. The jetty, constructed from pieces of wreck, renders the landing easy; but at the outer horns of the shingle there is only water sufficient for a boat at quarter flood in fine weather. Three or four huts at the head of the jetty, point out its position from the Bay. Immediately in the neighbourhood, on higher ground, is a stone dwelling house, with a signal staff a few yards behind it, termed the telegraph staff on the chart.

The marks for anchoring are the large stone house near the beach W. ¼ S., and the sandy extreme of Northumberland Point S. W. by S., in 5 fathoms sand. Here the bottom is clear, while to the westward and nearer to the reef where the water is smoother the bottom is foul,—rocks interspersed with patches of sand. The latter is unsafe, the cable is liable to snap from fouling the rocks, an accident that befel H. M. Vessel "Dee," while, lying there in a light South-westerly wind accompanied by the usual swell.

Directions for Anchoring.—Vessels from the westward, intending to anchor in this bay, should not bring the light house to bear more Westerly than W. by N. ½ N., until Northumberland Point bears N. W. ½ N. Then steer N. N. E. or N. E. by N. until the stone house before mentioned bears W. N. W. This will lead clear of the outer detached reefs off Northumberland Point. Proceed then to N. W. and bring the anchorage marks on.

The light will not be visible from this anchoring ground, owing to the swell of the intervening land.

Precautions respecting Struys Bay.—Shelter may be obtained in this bay during Westerly and North Westerly winds only. None is afforded with the wind between S. W. round to the Southward and East. With any of the latter winds it is unsafe, if not impossible, to ride in this bay, for the sea rises to such an extent as to break in 7 or 8 fathoms, a circumstance that was remarked on two occasions while H. M. Steamer "Dee" was standing off waiting for the weather to moderate to enable her to anchor. At the time of anchoring, although the wind had subsided for several hours, the water nearly broke in 7 fathoms where the anchor was let go; and at the place from whence she had put to sea three days before in 4¾ fathoms, the sea was breaking heavily. As a general rule, vessels seeking shelter in this bay in a N. W. gale, should put to sea immediately after it subsides: for the wind frequently changes in a few hours from a strong N. W. to a S. E. or South point; in which case it is very difficult to work out in consequence of the heavy sea that rises with these winds.

Currents.—During the examinations of the Coast (Sept. 1848) no current was observed in Struys Bay, nor about the coast 2½ miles from the shore, as far to the westward of Agulhas as the letter E. on the chart: but it was confidently asserted by fishermen, and the residents at Struys Bay, that a very strong current frequently sets to the Westward round Northumberland Point.

Tides.—Circumstances did not allow of the Tides being observed with due accuracy. Two copper plugs were let into rocks S. W. of the Light House to mark the high and low water points nearly at Spring Tides. The comparisons with these plugs on October 15, 16, 18, 19, 28, 29, (1848), and an observation at the jetty in Struys Bay, on October 28, give the establishment, and rise and fall, nearly similar to what prevails in Table Bay and Simon's Bay.

Magnetic Variation.—This was determined by means of two Magnets, on the flat ground between the Light House and Beach. The result (29° 20′ W.) has been employed for the compass bearings, given in these Instructions.

4.—Description of the Light Apparatus.

This Light is of the first or most brilliant class, and is the work of Mr. Henry le Paute. It is constructed upon what is technically called the Dioptric principle.

A hollow cylinder with a paraboloid top of about 19 feet in circumference, and 10 feet in height, is composed (omitting a door way) of 28 horizontal tiers of glass and reflectors, firmly fixed in a metallic frame work of six compartments; so that each tier is divided into six circular segments.

The centre tier is a large hoop-shaped plano-convex lens, 11 inches in depth. Next, 8 tiers of circular prisms above and 8 below the centre lens. Then 7 tiers of reflectors above and 4 tiers below. Three-fourths of the circumference of the cylinder is formed by this combination. The remaining quadrant which is towards the land, and its centre due North, serves for the door way into the cylinder; but the door is lined with two large concave metallic reflectors, each two feet in breadth and three feet in height.

The burner, consisting of four concentric Argand Wicks, 4 inches in diameter, is placed in the centre of the cylinder in the focus of the large lens. It is supplied with oil by a force pump driven by clock-work; and there is a simple contrivance, which gives notice by the ringing of a bell when the reservoir requires to be replenished.

The frame work of the Lenticular (the name given to the whole combination) is firmly attached to a cast-iron circular floor, supported by a stem of cast iron; the lower end of which is let into a block of granite resting upon the crown of the supporting dome, where it (the stone) is surrounded by masonry.

The theory of the Lenticular may be understood, as follows:—The burner being in the focus of the plano-convex lens, the rays of light that impinge upon the inner plane surface, emerge outside horizontal.

The bases of the prisms are perpendicular inside; their upper planes are horizontal, and their hypothenusal planes outside slant downwards and inwards. The depth of each base successively diminishes from 3 inches to 1⅛ inch in depth, in the order from the centre lens upwards and downwards, which is the order of the increasing inclination of the impinging rays from the burner. The effect of the prismatic form, is to turn the rays, and to send them out horizontal, upon the same principle by which objects in a horizontal direction in front of a Camera Lucida are seen by looking down into it.

The tiers of reflectors commence at the height and depression where the still greater inclination of the impinging rays from the burner would cause a prism to decompose them in the horizontal direction into the prismatic or rainbow colours. The reflectors are concave towards the lens, their curvatures increasing as they recede from the centre lens. They reflect the rays that fall upon them to the prisms, whence they are sent out horizontal.

The two large reflectors behind on the inside of the door return the rays from their direction to the large lens, through which they escape horizontal.

Thus all the light from the burner, save the small quantity that escapes up the chimney glass, is bent into one brilliant horizontal sheet to overspread the horizon.

This splendid specimen of skill is protected by a Lantern 10½ feet in diameter, or 33 feet in circumference, glazed with thick plate glass, and surmounted by a copper dome, from which a lightning conductor of wire rope descends to the ground.

The Light House was planned by Lieut. Colonel Michell, the late talented Surveyor General at the Cape, who made a journey to Paris for the express purpose of selecting the Lenticular Apparatus.

It may be proper to mention, that the Tower of the Light House is to be painted, and will show alternate horizontal bands of white and red, two of each.

Messrs. Rees, Carr and Skead of H. M. Ships President, Nimrod and Dee, respectively, particularly Mr. Skead, provided a large portion of the Sailing Instructions. These, with the remainder by myself, I have arranged and compared carefully with the Chart recently constructed from measurement and rigorous trigonometric calculation. The other matter is by myself, and I hold myself responsible for the accuracy of the whole.

I may add, that one of the trigonometric stations in the measurement of the Arc of the Meridian is on the highest point of the hill above the Light House; by means of which, the Latitude and Longitude of the Light House are derived from the position of the Observatory. Thus the Light is an exact Geographical Point.

Whereas it is expedient to disconnect the administration of the Estates of British Subjects dying intestate in the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal from the Office of Ecclesiastical Registrar of the Supreme Court and to appoint an Administrator General there, It is enacted as follows:

I. Whenever, after the passing of this Act, any British Subject shall die, intestate, within the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal, or the Territories which are or shall be subordinate to the said Presidency, and on the return of the citation issued from the proper Ecclesiastical Court, no next of Kin shall appear, and make out their claim to the Administration of the Effects of the deceased, to the satisfaction of the said Court, and also, whenever the Executor or Executors, appointed by the Will of any British Subject dying therein, shall refuse to prove the Will, the Administrator General, created by this Act, shall, except in the case hereinafter excepted, apply for, and the said Court shall grant to him, instead of the Ecclesiastical Registrar, such Letters of Administration or Ad Colligenda Bona as to such Court shall seem meet; by virtue whereof the said Administrator General shall collect the assets of the deceased, and account for them as herein provided.

II. All Letters of Administration or Ad Colligenda Bona, granted to the Ecclesiastical Registrar of the Supreme Court,—and all Probates, granted to such Officer, of Wills, appointing the Ecclesiastical Registrar of the Supreme Court, by that description, or him and his successors, Executors thereof,—and all Estates, Effects and Interests, vested in the said Ecclesiastical Registrar by virtue thereof; and all books, papers and documents belonging to him or in his possession, or under his control by virtue of such Letters or Probates, shall, by this Act, and without other grant, be transferred to the Administrator General by this Act created; who shall be, to all intents and purposes, such Administrator, Executor, or Grantee, in his new character of Administrator General, as the Ecclesiastical Registrar of the Supreme Court was; and shall have all the same powers as the said Ecclesiastical Registrar might exercise at the time of the passing of this Act, as such Administrator, Executor or Grantee.

III. The Ecclesiastical Registrar at the time of the passing of this Act shall be the first Administrator General, and upon the passing of this Act shall cease to be Ecclesiastical Registrar; and as such Administrator General shall be entitled to receive or retain all Commissions to which he was entitled as Ecclesiastical Registrar at the time of the passing of this Act, on any such grants as aforesaid.

IV. On all future vacancies of the Office, the Administrator General shall be appointed by the Governor General of India in Council.

V. After the passing of this Act, the Administrator General shall not be deemed, in that capacity, an Officer of the said Supreme Court, and shall not be otherwise accountable to it than any ordinary Executor, Administrator, or Grantee of Letters Ad Colligenda Bona, as the case may be.

VI. Every Administrator General shall give Security, by bond, to the East India Company, himself for One Lakh of Rupees, with two or more Sureties, jointly and severally, for another Lakh of Rupees, for the due execution of his said Office; and shall not be required by the said Supreme Court to enter into any Administration Bond, or to give other Security to that Court on the grant of any such Letters as aforesaid.

VII. The Administrator General shall receive,—for the discharge of his duties as such Administrator General, under all such grants of Letters as aforesaid made, after the passing of this Act, or on Probates of Wills, so granted, after the passing of this Act, wherein he is named Executor, by virtue of his Office,—instead of the Commission heretofore received by the Ecclesiastical Registrar, a Commission calculated after the rate of Three Rupees in every Hundred Rupees, which he shall actually distribute, or which he shall set apart and invest as herein provided, for the benefit of the parties ultimately entitled thereto, if the same are not immediately payable; and out of the said Commission of Three Rupees in the Hundred, shall defray the expences of the necessary Establishment, and all other charges, to which the said Office may be subject.

VIII. No person, other than the Administrator General, shall be entitled to charge any Commission or Agency, as Executor of any Will, of which Probate shall have been granted in the said Presidency after the passing of this Act, or as Administrator of any Effects whereof Administration shall have been granted in the said Presidency after the passing of this Act: but this enactment is not to be deemed to hinder any Executor from having the benefit of any legacy bequeathed to him, either of a specific sum or residuary bequest, or by way of Commission, or in any other manner.

IX. The Assets belonging to the Estates administered by the said Administrator General shall be kept by him in the Treasury of the East India Company, or otherwise kept and invested by him, in such manner as the Governor General of India in Council shall from time to time order; which order shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and shall be full authority, protection and indemnity in all Courts whatsoever for such keeping and investing.

X. The said Administrator General shall enter into books, to be kept by him for that purpose separate and distinct accounts of each Estate, and of all such sums of money, Bonds and other Securities for Money, Goods, Effects and things, as shall come to his hands or to the hands of any person employed by him, or in trust for him under this Act; and likewise of all payments made by him on account of the said Estates and of all debts due by or to the same, specifying the dates of such receipts and payments respectively; which said books shall be kept in the Administrator General's Office, and shall be open for the inspection of all such persons, practitioners in the said Court and others, as may have occasion to inspect the same, at office hours; paying only such reasonable fee as may be, from time to time, fixed therefore, by the Governor General of India in Council, and published in the Calcutta Gazette.

XI. The Administrator General, shall, twice in every year, that is, on the First day of March and on the Tenth day of August, or on the First day on which the said Court shall be sitting after those days, exhibit and deliver, in open Court, a true Schedule, shewing the gross amount of all sums of Money received or paid by him, on account of each Estate in his charge, and the balances, during the period of six months ending severally on the Thirty-first day of December and Thirtieth day of June next before the day of delivering such Schedule; and a true list of all Bonds or other Securities received on account of each of the said Estates during the same period; and also a true Schedule of all Administrations whereof the final balances shall have been paid over to the persons entitled to the same, during the same period,—specifying the amount of such balances, and the persons to whom paid; which Schedules shall be filed of record in the said Court, and shall, within fourteen days afterwards, be published in the Calcutta Gazette by the said Administrator General; and copies thereof in triplicate shall be delivered to the Secretary of the said Presidency, and sent by the Governor of the said Presidency to the Court of Directors of the East India Company for publication in the London Gazette.

XII. The Governor General of India in Council, shall, from time to time, appoint an Auditor or Auditors to examine the Accounts of the Administrator General at the time of the delivery of the said Schedules, and also at any other time when the Governor General of India in Council shall think fit.

XIII. The Auditor or Auditors shall examine the Schedules and accounts, and report to the said Governor General of India in Council whether they contain a full and true account of every thing which ought to be inserted therein, and whether the Books, by this Act directed to be kept by the Administrator General, are duly and regularly kept, and whether the Assets are duly kept and invested in such manner as is by Law prescribed.

XIV. Every Auditor shall have power to summon as well the Administrator General as any other person or persons whose presence he may think necessary, to attend him from time to time; and to examine the Administrator General or other party or parties if he shall think fit on Oath or Solemn Affirmation to be by him administered; and to call for all Books, Papers and Documents which may appear to him to be necessary for the purposes of the said reference: and if the Administrator General, or other person or persons when summoned, shall refuse or without reasonable cause neglect to attend, or to produce any Books, Papers or Documents required, or shall attend and refuse to be sworn or make a Solemn Affirmation when by law an Affirmation may be substituted for an Oath, or shall refuse to be examined, the Auditor or Auditors shall certify such neglect or refusal in writing to the Supreme Court of Judicature at Fort William in Bengal; and every person so refusing or neglecting shall thereupon be punishable, in like manner as if such refusal or neglect had been in contempt of the said Supreme Court.

XV. The costs and expenses of preparing and publishing the said Schedules and copies thereof and of every such reference and examination shall be defrayed proportionably by all the Estates, the accounts of which are then under examination, which costs and proportions shall be ascertained and settled by the Auditor or Auditors, subject to the approval of the Governor General of India in Council, and shall be paid out of the said Estates, accordingly, by the Administrator General.

XVI. If upon any such reference and examination the Auditor or Auditors shall see reason to believe that the said Schedules do not contain a true and correct account of the matters therein, or which ought to be therein contained, he or they shall report accordingly to the Governor General of India in Council, specifying the substance of the objections thereto.

XVII. The Governor General of India in Council shall refer every such report, as last aforesaid, to the consideration of the Advocate General of the East India Company in Bengal, who shall thereupon, if he shall think fit, proceed summarily, by petition, for an account against the said Administrator General, or against the late Administrator General, after his removal from Office, or against his personal representatives in case of his death, in respect of all or any of the Estates then or formerly under his care as the said Advocate General shall think fit; and shall have power to exhibit interrogatories to the said Administrator General, or other person or persons defendants, who shall be bound to answer the same as fully as if the same had been contained in a Bill filed for the like purpose; and the Court shall have power, on any such petition filed, to examine orally the parties before it and all witnesses, or to refer the accounts to be taken in the ordinary way.

XVIII. The costs of the reference and examination, and those of the Advocate General, when such are directed to be paid, shall be defrayed either by the defendant or defendants, in case he or they shall be decreed to pay the costs, or out of the Estates rateably as the said Court shall direct; and whenever the costs of any reference and examination shall be recovered from the defendant or defendants, the same shall be repaid to the Estates by which the same were in the first instance contributed, and the Court shall have power to order the Administrator General, or other person or persons defendants, to receive his or her costs out of the said Estates if it shall think fit.

XIX. The said Court shall have power on such petition to make such original and subsequent orders as upon a Bill filed; and such Orders shall have the same effect, and be executed in the same manner as Decretal Orders.

XX. Whenever any British subject shall die within the said Presidency intestate, and Letters of Administration to his or her Effects shall not be taken out for three months after the death, and the Administrator General shall be satisfied that such Effects do not exceed in the whole Five Hundred Rupees, he may, if he shall think fit, grant,—to any person claiming to be entitled to a principal share of the Effects of the deceased,—Certificates under his hand, entitling the claimant to receive the sums or securities for money therein severally mentioned belonging to the Effects of the deceased, to the value of any sum not exceeding in the whole Five Hundred Rupees.

XXI. The Administrator General shall not be bound to grant any such Certificate, unless he is satisfied of the title of the claimant, and of the value of the Effects of the deceased, either by the Oath or Affidavit of the claimant, or by such other evidence as he shall require.

XXII. Any such Certificate, with a receipt annexed, under the hand of the person to whom the Certificate is granted, shall be a full receipt and discharge for payment or delivery to him or her of the money or security for money therein mentioned, with respect to the claim of any other person upon the person paying or delivering the same: but any next of kin or representative or creditor of the deceased shall have remedy for recovery thereof against the person receiving the same.

XXIII. The Administrator General shall not be bound to take out Letters of Administration to the Effects of any deceased person on account of whose Estate he shall grant any such Certificate, but may do so, if he shall discover any fraud or misrepresentation made to him, or that the value of the Estate exceeded Five Hundred Rupees.

XXIV. For every such Certificate the Administrator General shall be entitled to charge a fee calculated after the rate of Three Rupees in the Hundred on the amount mentioned in the Certificate.

XXV. Every person who, having been sworn, or having taken a Solemn Affirmation under this Act, shall wilfully give false testimony upon any examination authorized by this Act, shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and, if convicted thereof, shall be liable to fine and imprisonment, or to fine or imprisonment, which imprisonment may be at the discretion of the Court, with or without hard labor, and may extend to two years.

The 7th April, 1849.

ACT No. —— OF 1849.

To punish tampering with the Army or Navy.

Whereas the laws in force for punishing mutiny and sedition do not sufficiently provide for the punishment of all persons endeavouring to stir up mutiny and sedition among the forces of the East India Company, or to seduce them from their allegiance and duty, It is enacted as follows:

I. Every person who maliciously and advisedly endeavours to seduce any person or persons serving or engaged to serve in the Military or Naval forces of the East India Company, from his or their allegiance to Her Majesty, or duty to the said Company, or who endeavours to stir up any person or persons belonging to either of the said services to commit any act of mutiny, or to make or endeavour to make any mutinous assembly, or to commit any traitorous or mutinous practice whatsoever, shall, on conviction, suffer transportation for life, or imprisonment with or without hard labour for any term not longer than seven years as the Court shall adjudge.

II. Any person charged with any offence, punishable under this Act, may be committed by any Magistrate within the territories under the Government of the East India Company, and may be tried by any Court which would have been competent to try him, if his offence had been committed within the ordinary jurisdiction of the Court.

III. No Court shall on the trial of any offence under this Act require any Futwa from any law Officer.

IV. This Act shall not exempt any person governed by the articles of war from being tried by a Court Martial, and punished according to the articles of war, nor any person belonging to the Indian Navy from being tried by a Court Martial and punished according to the laws for the observance of discipline in the Indian Navy; but no person shall be tried for the same offence under the said articles or laws, and also under this act.

Ordered that the Draft now read be published for general information.

Ordered that the said Draft be reconsidered at the first meeting of the Legislative Council of India after the 7th day of July next.

THE LIGHT ON CAPE AGULHAS.

Colonial Office, Cape of Good Hope, 15th December, 1848.

A Light House having been erected at Cape Agulhas, near the Southernmost point of the Continent of Africa, the following Sailing Instructions for vessels approaching that point, which have been drawn up by T. MACLEAR, Esq., F. R. S., Her Majesty's Astronomer Royal at the Cape of Good Hope, and which include a description of the land and shore about Agulhas,—instructions for anchoring in Struys Bay,—and a description of the construction of the Light Apparatus, are, by direction of His Excellency the Governor, published for general information.

His Excellency has further desired it to be notified that, the works being now completed, the Lantern will be lighted on the 1st of March next; and will, thereafter, continue to be lighted every evening at sunset.

By His Excellency's Command,

Secretary to Government.

CAPE AGULHAS LIGHT.

It has been thought advisable to reverse the logical order of the matter connected with the establishment of this Light, so that what is most wanted should appear first, and further information be had by reference to the particular heads.

The adopted arrangement is as follows:—

1. General Sailing Instructions for Passing Agulhas.
2. Description of the Land and Shore about Agulhas.
3. Instructions for anchoring in Struys Bay, Currents, Tides, &c.
4. Description of the Construction of the Light Apparatus.

1.—General Sailing Instructions for Passing Agulhas.

	°	′	″		h.	m.	s.
Latitude of the Light, ...	34	49	45·7
Longitude, East of Greenwich, ...	20	0	40	=	1	20	2·67

Magnetic Variation 29° 20′ W.

The Light can be seen in clear weather in any direction seaward, between East and North West by West, at the distance of six leagues from a deck 15 feet high. It is a steady white Light.

All the bearings mentioned are Magnetic, and all the distances expressed in miles are Geographical, unless the contrary is stated.

If a vessel from the Eastward passes Struys Point at the distance of 5 miles from the shore, and steers a W. by S. course exactly, she will pass the most Southerly projection of the Northumberland Point Reef at the distance of 4¼ miles, and the Light at the distance of 5½ miles, and clear Gunner's Quoin. This is the limit Northward within which no sailing vessel should be found. It secures every advantage that could possibly be obtained by a closer course, and at that distance the Light will be brilliant.

Precautions.—In clear weather, the Light may be seen, when 5 or 6 miles Eastward of Struys Point, from a look-out at the height of 35 feet; and if the vessel then should chance to be close in shore, by steering the above course, she might touch the shoal off Struys Point. To guard against this, when the Light is first seen, it should be brought immediately to bear W. by N.; and keeping this bearing of the Light, the vessel will pass 2 miles to the Southward of any danger respecting Struys Point.

Care should be taken when approaching the land before the Light is discovered, for in hazy weather, or from spray in a fresh breeze, combined with the distance of Struys Point (about 15 miles), the Light may be faint or altogether obscured, and the vessel may get within the line of danger. Under these circumstances, the Lead should not be neglected, and the depth should not be less than 20 fathoms, without putting about immediately to the South.

The like precautions are required in the day time, particularly in foggy weather; for the high land of Agulhas may be invisible, while the sand hills of Struys Bay and the breakers off Northumberland Point are distinctly seen. On these occasions it is difficult to determine whether the vessel is to the Eastward or Westward of Struys Point; because the shore features of the Bay Eastward of that Point, are similar to those of Struys Bay, although the extent is less.

Sailing vessels in particular should adhere to the rules, for if it should fall calm, the heavy swell which constantly rolls towards the shore would carry them with it, and the only resource, that of anchoring, would probably be of no avail from the rocky nature of the bottom, combined with the swell. The "St. Mungo" is said to have been wrecked in this way.

Coming from the Westward, the Light will be seen first on a S. 57° 15′ E. bearing. The extreme end of the low ground called Gunner's Quoin Point bears N. 52° 30′ W. from the Light House, distant 19¾ miles, but it is not visible from it. The sea was remarked breaking a long way off the Point,—it will therefore be necessary to keep off until the Light becomes visible.

With the precautions here given, there will be as little danger in rounding Agulhas as in rounding the Cape of Good Hope, or indeed any other head land.

2.—Description of the Land and Shore about Agulhas.

Cape Agulhas is defined to be the rocky projection from the South East corner of the Agulhas Promontory, the centre of which Promontory is about ¾th of a mile Westward of the projection, and about 200 yards more Southerly, being the most Southern part of Africa.

Description of the Land.—The features of the land about Agulhas distinguish it from the neighbouring head lands. A ridge-shaped undulating clump, rising from the flat ground, is separated into four ridge-shaped hills by irregular ravines running nearly true East and West. The middle ridges enter, wedge-like, at the East end, and are lost towards the centre, where the ravine widens to a mile in breadth. The middle ridges are the lowest, the Northern and Southern are nearly of equal height.

Viewed at a distance from the seaward, Easterly or Westerly, the North and South elevations being seen nearly end on, resemble two oblong hummocks; but the former extending more Easterly appears the highest as seen from the Eastward.

Viewed at a distance from the Southward, the South ridge masks the others, save at their East end; but the ravines being hid, the whole appear to be united (only the South and middle ridges are noticed on the chart. They are all given on Col. MICHELL's plan.)

The highest part of the South ridge is 455 feet above the level of the sea, and its true meridional distance from the shore is almost exactly one mile. From this point the descent Eastward is rather gradual. Westward the descent is at first steep, then slightly undulates. Southward it is steep, then undulates to within 300 yards of the shore, where the ground becomes flat.

On the first undulation from the shore, which is about 55 feet above the level of the sea, nearly true South of the highest point before mentioned, and N. 30° W., 520 yards from Cape Agulhas, the Light House is built.

This spot was selected by the Masters of H. M. Ships President, Brilliant and Rosamond, (Messrs. REES, RUSSEL and ASHTON), under the command of Capt FOOTE, R. N., in conjunction with Lieut.-Colonel MICHELL.

The Light commands to seaward between E. and N. W. by W., or more correctly, E. to N. 57° 15′ W.

Description of the Shore.—West of the Agulhas Promontory the shore bends North-westerly, then round to the head-land called Gunner's Quoin, forming an irregular shallow incurvation of about 19 miles in breadth. Immediately to the E. N. E. of the Promontory are two deep indentations. The first called St. Mungo's inlet. The next is deeper and wider, and the projection which separates them is called St. Mungo's Point. From the last inlet the shore runs jagged to the dangerous projection called Northumberland Point, the site of the wreck of the ship "Duke of Northumberland," which Point forms the west horn of Struys Bay.

The whole of the beach, from the west of the Agulhas Promontory to Northumberland Point, consists of rugged sand stone and quartz rocks, or rocky reef, perfectly impracticable even for a boat. At the Promontory groups of rock prevail; at the Cape, rocks, and rocky reef, extending out a third of a mile. At the inlets, flat rocky reef exposed at low water for a third of a mile; thence rocky to Northumberland Point, where it is sand and reef.

Exposed to the uninterrupted oscillations of the Southern Ocean, the sea breaks heavy on this iron bound shore, particularly during Southern winds. A vessel touching upon it, has not the slightest chance of escaping destruction.

The coast between Northumberland Point, and Struys Point, viz., of Struys Bay, is low and sandy, but a short distance from the beach, there is a line of sand hills varying from 50 to 150 feet in height, some of them covered with dark coloured bush, a feature that distinguishes the coast from Struys Point to the next Point Eastward of it. There is no high land sufficiently near to interfere with the distinguishing character of the hills Northward of Agulhas, as viewed from the seaward.

Northumberland Point bears East from the Light 3½ miles. It is low and sandy immediately on the beach; but a very dangerous ledge of rocks extends S. 37°.30′ E., 1 mile from the Point, and a detached rock was fixed by intersection while breaking, which places it S. 58°.30′ E., 1⅛ miles from the Point; and S. 81°.40′ E., 4¼ miles from the Light. The extreme of Northumberland Point reef bears S. 77°.30′ E., 3$\frac{1}{10}$ miles nearly from the Light. Westward from the Point the reefs extend about one-third of a mile and break heavily when the wind is from the S. E. In one or two places it breaks further out but in no place exceeds half a mile.

Struys Point is the outer extreme of a number of sand hills, and as before stated, forms the Eastern horn of Struys Bay. It bears from Northumberland Point, which is the Western horn, N. 79° .30′ E., 11 miles (estimated), and N. 82° .20′ E., 15 miles from the Light House. This point is more dangerous than Northumberland Point, inasmuch as the reefs lie much further off the shore, and there is no high land to enable the mariner to determine his position. Circumstances did not allow of this Point being included in the Agulhas survey; but during a strong South-easter it was remarked from the summit of the sand hills near the Point, that the reef extended seaward about 3 miles, and was then breaking with fury.

Like Northumberland Point, the color of the water off this Point changes to seaward from brown to light, then dark green; from which it may be inferred, together with the known shallowness of the water off Northumberland Point, that the Lead as well as the color of the water, will always warn a ship of the approach of danger.

Struys Bay is formed by Struys Point to the East and Northumberland Point to the West. The landing place is in a small bay or cove to the N. W. of Northumberland Point, sheltered by a projecting shelf of shingle from each extremity of the cove. The jetty, constructed from pieces of wreck, renders the landing easy; but at the outer horns of the shingle there is only water sufficient for a boat at quarter flood in fine weather. Three or four huts at the head of the jetty, point out its position from the Bay. Immediately in the neighbourhood, on higher ground, is a stone dwelling-house, with a signal staff a few yards behind it, termed the telegraph staff on the chart.

The marks for anchoring are the large stone house near the beach W. ¼ S., and the sandy extreme of Northumberland Point S. W. by S., in 5 fathoms sand. Here the bottom is clear, while to the westward and nearer to the reef where the water is smoother the bottom is foul,—rocks interspersed with patches of sand. The latter is unsafe, the cable is liable to snap from fouling the rocks, an accident that befel H. M. Vessel "Dee," while, lying there in a light South-westerly wind accompanied by the usual swell.

Directions for Anchoring.—Vessels from the westward, intending to anchor in this bay, should not bring the Light House to bear more Westerly than W. by N. ¼ N., until Northumberland Point bears N. W. ¼ N. Then steer N. N. E. or N. E. by N. until the stone house before mentioned bears W. N. W. This will lead clear of the outer detached reefs off Northumberland Point. Proceed then to N. W. and bring the anchorage marks on.

The light will not be visible from this anchoring ground, owing to the swell of the intervening land.

Precautions respecting Struys Bay.—Shelter may be obtained in this bay during Westerly and North-Westerly winds only. None is afforded with the wind between S. W. round to the Southward and East. With any of the latter winds it is unsafe, if not impossible, to ride in this bay, for the sea rises to such an extent as to break in 7 or 8 fathoms, a circumstance that was remarked on two occasions while H. M. Steamer "Dee" was standing off waiting for the weather to moderate to enable her to anchor. At the time of anchoring, although the wind had subsided for several hours, the water nearly broke in 7 fathoms where the anchor was let go; and at the place from whence she had put to sea three days before in 4¾ fathoms, the sea was breaking heavily. As a general rule, vessels seeking shelter in this bay in a N. W. gale, should put to sea immediately after it subsides: for the wind frequently changes in a few hours from a strong N. W. to a S. E. or South point; in which case it is very difficult to work out in consequence of the heavy sea that rises with these winds.

Currents.—During the examinations of the Coast (Sept. 1848) no current was observed in Struys Bay, nor about the coast 2½ miles from the shore, as far to the westward of Agulhas as the letter E. on the chart: but it was confidently asserted by fishermen, and the residents at Struys Bay, that a very strong current frequently sets to the Westward round Northumberland Point.

Tides.—Circumstances did not allow of the Tides being observed with due accuracy. Two copper plugs were let into rocks S. W. of the Light House to mark the high and low water points nearly at Spring Tides. The comparisons with these plugs on October 15, 16, 18, 19, 28, 29, (1848), and an observation at the jetty in Struys Bay, on October 28, give the establishment, and rise and fall, nearly similar to what prevails in Table Bay and Simon's Bay.

Magnetic Variation.—This was determined by means of two Magnets, on the flat ground between the Light House and Beach. The result (29° 20′ W.) has been employed for the compass bearings, given in these Instructions.

4.—Description of the Light Apparatus.

This Light is of the first or most brilliant class, and is the work of Mr. Henry le Paute. It is constructed upon what is technically called the Dioptric principle.

A hollow cylinder with a paraboloid top of about 19 feet in circumference, and 10 feet in height, is composed (omitting a door way) of 28 horizontal tiers of glass and reflectors, firmly fixed in a metallic frame-work of six compartments; so that each tier is divided into six circular segments.

The centre tier is a large hoop-shaped plano-convex lens, 11 inches in depth. Next, 8 tiers of circular prisms above and 8 below the centre lens. Then 7 tiers of reflectors above and 4 tiers below. Three-fourths of the circumference of the cylinder is formed by this combination. The remaining quadrant which is towards the land, and its centre due North, serves for the door way into the cylinder; but the door is lined with two large concave metallic reflectors, each two feet in breadth and three feet in height.

The burner, consisting of four concentric Argand Wicks, 4 inches in diameter, is placed in the centre of the cylinder in the focus of the large lens. It is supplied with oil by a force pump driven by clock-work; and there is a simple contrivance, which gives notice by the ringing of a bell when the reservoir requires to be replenished.

The frame work of the Lenticular (the name given to the whole combination) is firmly attached to a cast-iron circular floor, supported by a stem of cast-iron; the lower end of which is let into a block of granite resting upon the crown of the supporting dome, where it (the stone) is surrounded by masonry.

The theory of the Lenticular may be understood, as follows:—The burner being in the focus of the plano-convex lens, the rays of light that impinge upon the inner plane surface, emerge outside horizontal.

The bases of the prisms are perpendicular inside; their upper planes are horizontal, and their hypothenusal planes outside slant downwards and inwards. The depth of each base successively diminishes from 3 inches to 1⅛ inch in depth, in the order from the centre lens upwards and downwards, which is the order of the increasing inclination of the impinging rays from the burner. The effect of the prismatic form, is to turn the rays, and to send them out horizontal, upon the same principle by which objects in a horizontal direction in front of a Camera Lucida are seen by looking down into it.

The tiers of reflectors commence at the height and depression where the still greater inclination of the impinging rays from the burner would cause a prism to decompose them in the horizontal direction into the prismatic or rainbow colours. The reflectors are concave towards the lens, their curvatures increasing as they recede from the centre lens. They reflect the rays that fall upon them to the prisms, whence they are sent out horizontal.

The two large reflectors behind on the inside of the door return the rays from their direction to the large lens, through which they escape horizontal.

Thus all the light from the burner, save the small quantity that escapes up the chimney glass, is bent into one brilliant horizontal sheet to overspread the horizon.

This splendid specimen of skill is protected by a Lantern 10½ feet in diameter, or 33 feet in circumference, glazed with thick plate glass, and surmounted by a copper dome, from which a lightning conductor of wire rope descends to the ground.

The Light House was planned by Lieut. Colonel Michell, the late talented Surveyor General at the Cape, who made a journey to Paris for the express purpose of selecting the Lenticular Apparatus.

It may be proper to mention, that the Tower of the Light House is to be painted, and will show alternate horizontal bands of white and red, two of each.

Messrs. Rees, Carr and Skead of H. M. Ships President, Nimrod and Dee, respectively, particularly Mr. Skead, provided a large portion of the Sailing Instructions. These, with the remainder by myself, I have arranged and compared carefully with the Chart recently constructed from measurement and rigorous trigonometric calculation. The other matter is by myself, and I hold myself responsible for the accuracy of the whole.

I may add, that one of the trigonometric stations in the measurement of the Arc of the Meridian is on the highest point of the hill above the Light House; by means of which, the Latitude and Longitude of the Light House are derived from the position of the Observatory. Thus the Light is an exact Geographical Point.

THE LIGHT ON CAPE AGULHAS.

Colonial Office, Cape of Good Hope, 15th December, 1848.

A Light House having been erected at Cape Agulhas, near the Southernmost point of the Continent of Africa, the following Sailing Instructions for vessels approaching that point, which have been drawn up by T. MACLEAR, Esq., F. R. S., Her Majesty's Astronomer Royal at the Cape of Good Hope, and which include a description of the land and shore about Agulhas,—instructions for anchoring in Struys Bay,—and a description of the construction of the Light Apparatus, are, by direction of His Excellency the Governor, published for general information.

His Excellency has further desired it to be notified that, the works being now completed, the Lantern will be lighted on the 1st of March next; and will, thereafter, continue to be lighted every evening at sunset.

By His Excellency's Command,

Secretary to Government.

CAPE AGULHAS LIGHT.

It has been thought advisable to reverse the logical order of the matter connected with the establishment of this Light, so that what is most wanted should appear first, and further information be had by reference to the particular heads.

The adopted arrangement is as follows:—

1. General Sailing Instructions for Passing Agulhas.
2. Description of the Land and Shore about Agulhas.
3. Instructions for anchoring in Struys Bay, Currents, Tides, &c.
4. Description of the Construction of the Light Apparatus.

1.—General Sailing Instructions for Passing Agulhas.

	°	′	″		h.	m.	s.
Latitude of the Light,	34	49	45·7
Longitude, East of Greenwich,	20	0	40	=	1	20	2·67

Magnetic Variation 29° 20′ W.

The Light can be seen in clear weather in any direction seaward, between East and North West by West, at the distance of six leagues from a deck 15 feet high. It is a steady white Light.

All the bearings mentioned are Magnetic, and all the distances expressed in miles are Geographical, unless the contrary is stated.

If a vessel from the Eastward passes Struys Point at the distance of 5 miles from the shore, and steers a W. by S. course exactly, she will pass the most Southerly projection of the Northumberland Point Reef at the distance of 4¼ miles, and the Light at the distance of 5¼ miles, and clear Gunner's Quoin. This is the limit Northward within which no sailing vessel should be found. It secures every advantage that could possibly be obtained by a closer course, and at that distance the Light will be brilliant.

Precautions.—In clear weather, the Light may be seen, when 5 or 6 miles Eastward of Struys Point, from a look-out at the height of 35 feet; and if the vessel then should chance to be close in shore, by steering the above course, she might touch the shoal off Struys Point. To guard against this, when the Light is first seen, it should be brought immediately to bear W. by N.; and keeping this bearing of the Light, the vessel will pass 2 miles to the Southward of any danger respecting Struys Point.

Care should be taken when approaching the land before the Light is discovered, for in hazy weather, or from spray in a fresh breeze, combined with the distance of Struys Point (about 15 miles), the Light may be faint or altogether obscured, and the vessel may get within the line of danger. Under these circumstances, the Lead should not be neglected, and the depth should not be less than 20 fathoms, without putting about immediately to the South.

The like precautions are required in the day time, particularly in foggy weather; for the high land of Agulhas may be invisible, while the sand hills of Struys Bay and the breakers off Northumberland Point are distinctly seen. On these occasions it is difficult to determine whether the vessel is to the Eastward or Westward of Struys Point; because the shore features of the Bay Eastward of that Point, are similar to those of Struys Bay, although the extent is less.

Sailing vessels in particular should adhere to the rules, for if it should fall calm, the heavy swell which constantly rolls towards the shore would carry them with it, and the only resource, that of anchoring, would probably be of no avail, from the rocky nature of the bottom, combined with the swell. The "St. Mungo" is said to have been wrecked in this way.

Coming from the Westward, the Light will be seen first on a S. 57° 15′ E. bearing. The extreme end of the low ground called Gunner's Quoin Point bears N. 52° 30′ W. from the Light House, distant 19¾ miles, but it is not visible from it. The sea was remarked breaking a long way off the Point,—it will therefore be necessary to keep off until the Light becomes visible.

With the precautions here given, there will be as little danger in rounding Agulhas as in rounding the Cape of Good Hope, or indeed any other head land.

2.—Description of the Land and Shore about Agulhas.

Cape Agulhas is defined to be the rocky projection from the South East corner of the Agulhas Promontory, the centre of which Promontory is about ¼th of a mile Westward of the projection, and about 200 yards more Southerly, being the most Southern part of Africa.

Description of the Land.—The features of the land about Agulhas distinguish it from the neighbouring head lands. A ridge-shaped undulating clump, rising from the flat ground, is separated into four ridge-shaped hills by irregular ravines running nearly true East and West. The middle ridges enter, wedge-like, at the East end, and are lost towards the centre, where the ravine widens to a mile in breadth. The middle ridges are the lowest, the Northern and Southern are nearly of equal height.

Viewed at a distance from the seaward, Easterly or Westerly, the North and South elevations being seen nearly end on, resemble two oblong hummocks; but the former extending more Easterly appears the highest as seen from the Eastward.

Viewed at a distance from the Southward, the South ridge masks the others, save at their East end; but the ravines being hid, the whole appear to be united (only the South and middle ridges are noticed on the chart. They are all given on Col. MICHELL's plan.)

The highest part of the South ridge is 455 feet above the level of the sea, and its true meridional distance from the shore is almost exactly one mile. From this point the descent Eastward is rather gradual. Westward the descent is at first steep, then slightly undulates. Southward it is steep, then undulates to within 300 yards of the shore, where the ground becomes flat.

On the first undulation from the shore, which is about 55 feet above the level of the sea, nearly true South of the highest point before mentioned, and N. 30° W., 520 yards from Cape Agulhas, the Light House is built.

This spot was selected by the Masters of H. M. Ships President, Brilliant and Rosamond, (Messrs. REES, RUSSEL and ASHTON), under the command of Capt FOOTE, R. N., in conjunction with Lieut.-Colonel MICHELL.

The Light commands to seaward between E. and N. W. by W., or more correctly, E. to N. 57° 15′ W.

Description of the Shore.—West of the Agulhas Promontory the shore bends North-westerly, then round to the head-land called Gunner's Quoin, forming an irregular shallow incurvation of about 19 miles in breadth. Immediately to the E. N. E. of the Promontory are two deep indentations. The first called St. Mungo's inlet. The next is deeper and wider, and the projection which separates them is called St. Mungo's Point. From the last inlet the shore runs jagged to the dangerous projection called Northumberland Point, the site of the wreck of the ship "Duke of Northumberland," which Point forms the west horn of Struys Bay.

The whole of the beach, from the west of the Agulhas Promontory to Northumberland Point, consists of rugged sand stone and quartz rocks, or rocky reef, perfectly impracticable even for a boat. At the Promontory groups of rock prevail; at the Cape, rocks, and rocky reef, extending out a third of a mile. At the inlets, flat rocky reef exposed at low water for a third of a mile; thence rocky to Northumberland Point, where it is sand and reef.

Exposed to the uninterrupted oscillations of the Southern Ocean, the sea breaks heavy on this iron bound shore, particularly during Southern winds. A vessel touching upon it, has not the slightest chance of escaping destruction.

The coast between Northumberland Point, and Struys Point, viz., of Struys Bay, is low and sandy, but a short distance from the beach, there is a line of sand hills varying from 50 to 150 feet in height, some of them covered with dark coloured bush, a feature that distinguishes the coast from Struys Point to the next Point Eastward of it. There is no high land sufficiently near to interfere with the distinguishing character of the hills Northward of Agulhas, as viewed from the seaward.

Northumberland Point bears East from the Light 3½ miles. It is low and sandy immediately on the beach; but a very dangerous ledge of rocks extends S. 37°.30′ E., 1 mile from the Point, and a detached rock was fixed by intersection while breaking, which places it S. 58°.30′ E., 1½ miles from the Point; and S. 81°.40′ E., 4½ miles from the Light. The extreme of Northumberland Point reef bears S. 77°.30′ E., 3$\frac{4}{10}$ miles nearly from the Light. Westward from the Point the reefs extend about one-third of a mile and break heavily when the wind is from the S. E. In one or two places it breaks further out but in no place exceeds half a mile.

Struys Point is the outer extreme of a number of sand hills, and as before stated, forms the Eastern horn of Struys Bay. It bears from Northumberland Point, which is the Western horn, N. 79° .30′ E., 11 miles (estimated), and N. 82° .30′ E., 15 miles from the Light House. This point is more dangerous than Northumberland Point, inasmuch as the reefs lie much further off the shore, and there is no high land to enable the mariner to determine his position. Circumstances did not allow of this Point being included in the Agulhas survey; but during a strong South-easter it was remarked from the summit of the sand hills near the Point, that the reef extended seaward about 3 miles, and was then breaking with fury.

Like Northumberland Point, the color of the water off this Point changes to seaward from brown to light, then dark green; from which it may be inferred, together with the known shallowness of the water off Northumberland Point, that the Lead as well as the color of the water, will always warn a ship of the approach of danger.

Struys Bay is formed by Struys Point to the East and Northumberland Point to the West. The landing place is in a small bay or cove to the N. W. of Northumberland Point, sheltered by a projecting shelf of shingle from each extremity of the cove. The jetty, constructed from pieces of wreck, renders the landing easy; but at the outer horns of the shingle there is only water sufficient for a boat at quarter flood in fine weather. Three or four huts at the head of the jetty, point out its position from the Bay. Immediately in the neighbourhood, on higher ground, is a stone dwelling-house, with a signal staff a few yards behind it, termed the telegraph staff on the chart.

The marks for anchoring are the large stone house near the beach W. ¼ S., and the sandy extreme of Northumberland Point S. W. by S., in 5 fathoms sand. Here the bottom is clear, while to the westward and nearer to the reef where the water is smoother the bottom is foul,—rocks interspersed with patches of sand. The latter is unsafe, the cable is liable to snap from fouling the rocks, an accident that befel H. M. Vessel "Dee," while, lying there in a light South-westerly wind accompanied by the usual swell.

Directions for Anchoring.—Vessels from the westward, intending to anchor in this bay, should not bring the Light House to bear more Westerly than W. by N. ¼ N., until Northumberland Point bears N. W. ¼ N. Then steer N. N. E. or N. E. by N. until the stone house before mentioned bears W. N. W. This will lead clear of the outer detached reefs off Northumberland Point. Proceed then to N. W. and bring the anchorage marks on.

The light will not be visible from this anchoring ground, owing to the swell of the intervening land.

Precautions respecting Struys Bay.—Shelter may be obtained in this bay during Westerly and North-Westerly winds only. None is afforded with the wind between S. W. round to the Southward and East. With any of the latter winds it is unsafe, if not impossible, to ride in this bay, for the sea rises to such an extent as to break in 7 or 8 fathoms, a circumstance that was remarked on two occasions while H. M. Steamer "Dee" was standing off waiting for the weather to moderate to enable her to anchor. At the time of anchoring, although the wind had subsided for several hours, the water nearly broke in 7 fathoms where the anchor was let go; and at the place from whence she had put to sea three days before in 4¾ fathoms, the sea was breaking heavily. As a general rule, vessels seeking shelter in this bay in a N. W. gale, should put to sea immediately after it subsides: for the wind frequently changes in a few hours from a strong N. W. to a S. E. or South point; in which case it is very difficult to work out in consequence of the heavy sea that rises with these winds.

Currents.—During the examinations of the Coast (Sept. 1848) no current was observed in Struys Bay, nor about the coast 2½ miles from the shore, as far to the westward of Agulhas as the letter E. on the chart: but it was confidently asserted by fishermen, and the residents at Struys Bay, that a very strong current frequently sets to the Westward round Northumberland Point.

Tides.—Circumstances did not allow of the Tides being observed with due accuracy. Two copper plugs were let into rocks S. W. of the Light House to mark the high and low water points nearly at Spring Tides. The comparisons with these plugs on October 15, 16, 18, 19, 28, 29, (1848), and an observation at the jetty in Struys Bay, on October 28, give the establishment, and rise and fall, nearly similar to what prevails in Table Bay and Simon's Bay.

Magnetic Variation.—This was determined by means of two Magnets, on the flat ground between the Light House and Beach. The result (29° 20′ W.) has been employed for the compass bearings, given in these Instructions.

4.—Description of the Light Apparatus.

This Light is of the first or most brilliant class, and is the work of Mr. Henry le Paute. It is constructed upon what is technically called the Dioptric principle.

A hollow cylinder with a paraboloid top of about 19 feet in circumference, and 10 feet in height, is composed (omitting a door way) of 28 horizontal tiers of glass and reflectors, firmly fixed in a metallic frame-work of six compartments; so that each tier is divided into six circular segments.

The centre tier is a large hoop-shaped plano-convex lens, 11 inches in depth. Next, 8 tiers of circular prisms above and 8 below the centre lens. Then 7 tiers of reflectors above and 4 tiers below. Three-fourths of the circumference of the cylinder is formed by this combination. The remaining quadrant which is towards the land, and its centre due North, serves for the door way into the cylinder; but the door is lined with two large concave metallic reflectors, each two feet in breadth and three feet in height.

The burner, consisting of four concentric Argand Wicks, 4 inches in diameter, is placed in the centre of the cylinder in the focus of the large lens. It is supplied with oil by a force pump driven by clock-work; and there is a simple contrivance, which gives notice by the ringing of a bell when the reservoir requires to be replenished.

The frame work of the Lenticular (the name given to the whole combination) is firmly attached to a cast-iron circular floor, supported by a stem of cast-iron; the lower end of which is let into a block of granite resting upon the crown of the supporting dome, where it (the stone) is surrounded by masonry.

The theory of the Lenticular may be understood, as follows:—The burner being in the focus of the plano-convex lens, the rays of light that impinge upon the inner plane surface, emerge outside horizontal.

The bases of the prisms are perpendicular inside; their upper planes are horizontal, and their hypothenusal planes outside slant downwards and inwards. The depth of each base successively diminishes from 3 inches to 1½ inch in depth, in the order from the centre lens upwards and downwards, which is the order of the increasing inclination of the impinging rays from the burner. The effect of the prismatic form, is to turn the rays, and to send them out horizontal, upon the same principle by which objects in a horizontal direction in front of a Camera Lucida are seen by looking down into it.

The tiers of reflectors commence at the height and depression where the still greater inclination of the impinging rays from the burner would cause a prism to decompose them in the horizontal direction into the prismatic or rainbow colours. The reflectors are concave towards the lens, their curvatures increasing as they recede from the centre lens. They reflect the rays that fall upon them to the prisms, whence they are sent out horizontal.

The two large reflectors behind on the inside of the door return the rays from their direction to the large lens, through which they escape horizontal.

Thus all the light from the burner, save the small quantity that escapes up the chimney glass, is bent into one brilliant horizontal sheet to overspread the horizon.

This splendid specimen of skill is protected by a Lantern 10½ feet in diameter, or 33 feet in circumference, glazed with thick plate glass, and surmounted by a copper dome, from which a lightning conductor of wire rope descends to the ground.

The Light House was planned by Lieut. Colonel Michell, the late talented Surveyor General at the Cape, who made a journey to Paris for the express purpose of selecting the Lenticular Apparatus.

It may be proper to mention, that the Tower of the Light House is to be painted, and will show alternate horizontal bands of white and red, two of each.

Messrs. Rees, Carr and Skead of H. M. Ships President, Nimrod and Dee, respectively, particularly Mr. Skead, provided a large portion of the Sailing Instructions. These, with the remainder by myself, I have arranged and compared carefully with the Chart recently constructed from measurement and rigorous trigonometric calculation. The other matter is by myself, and I hold myself responsible for the accuracy of the whole.

I may add, that one of the trigonometric stations in the measurement of the Arc of the Meridian is on the highest point of the hill above the Light House; by means of which, the Latitude and Longitude of the Light House are derived from the position of the Observatory. Thus the Light is an exact Geographical Point.

Advances of Cash will accordingly be made, for this purpose, by the Governments of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, to the extent of ¾ths of the value of the Goods hypothecated, and the Bills in repayment of these advances are to be drawn at six months' sight, at the rate of 1*s.* 10*d.* per Company's Rupee, until further notice.

It is also further notified, that in, pursuance of instructions received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, the Governments of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, have been authorized, in any case in which they may consider such a course to be expedient, to dispense with the obligation to insure, which is imposed by the existing terms and conditions upon parties who may obtain advances from the respective Governments, on the security of Goods hypothecated to the East India Company, intimating to them that the Hon'ble Court will make the insurance in England, and requiring a Declaration binding the parties to repay the premium upon insurances, which the Court may effect before the Bills of Lading and other Shipping Documents are handed over to their Agents.

It is to be understood that the Insurance to be effected, will only be to the amount of the advance in each case, so as to cover the East India Company's risk.

His Excellency has further desired it to be notified that, the works being now completed, the Lantern will be lighted on the 1st of March next; and will, thereafter, continue to be lighted every evening at sunset.

By His Excellency's Command,

Secretary to Government.

CAPE AGULHAS LIGHT.

It has been thought advisable to reverse the logical order of the matter connected with the establishment of this Light, so that what is most wanted should appear first, and further information be had by reference to the particular heads.

The adopted arrangement is as follows:—

1. General Sailing Instructions for Passing Agulhas.
2. Description of the Land and Shore about Agulhas.
3. Instructions for anchoring in Struys Bay, Currents, Tides, &c.
4. Description of the Construction of the Light Apparatus.

1.—General Sailing Instructions for Passing Agulhas.

Longitude, East of Greenwich,	20	0	40	=	1	20	2·67

Magnetic Variation 29° 20′ W.

The Light can be seen in clear weather in any direction seaward, between East and North West by West, at the distance of six leagues from a deck 15 feet high. It is a steady white Light.

All the bearings mentioned are Magnetic, and all the distances expressed in miles are Geographical, unless the contrary is stated.

If a vessel from the Eastward passes Struys Point at the distance of 5 miles from the shore, and steers a W. by S. course exactly, she will pass the most Southerly projection of the Northumberland Point Reef at the distance of 4¼ miles, and the Light at the distance of 5½ miles, and clear Gunner's Quoin. This is the limit Northward within which no sailing vessel should be found. It secures every advantage that could possibly be obtained by a closer course, and at that distance the Light will be brilliant.

Precautions.—In clear weather, the Light may be seen, when 5 or 6 miles Eastward of Struys Point, from a look-out at the height of 35 feet; and if the vessel then should chance to be close in shore, by steering the above course, she might touch the shoal off Struys Point. To guard against this, when the Light is first seen, it should be brought immediately to bear W. by N.; and keeping this bearing of the Light, the vessel will pass 2 miles to the Southward of any danger respecting Struys Point.

Care should be taken when approaching the land before the Light is discovered, for in hazy weather, or from spray in a fresh breeze, combined with the distance of Struys Point (about 15 miles), the Light may be faint or altogether obscured, and the vessel may get within the line of danger. Under these circumstances, the Lead should not be neglected, and the depth should not be less than 20 fathoms, without putting about immediately to the South.

The like precautions are required in the day time, particularly in foggy weather; for the high land of Agulhas may be invisible, while the sand hills of Struys Bay and the breakers off Northumberland Point are distinctly seen. On these occasions it is difficult to determine whether the vessel is to the Eastward or Westward of Struys Point; because the shore features of the Bay Eastward of that Point, are similar to those of Struys Bay, although the extent is less.

Sailing vessels in particular should adhere to the rules, for if it should fall calm, the heavy swell which constantly rolls towards the shore would carry them with it, and the only resource, that of anchoring, would probably be of no avail from the rocky nature of the bottom, combined with the swell. The "St. Mungo" is said to have been wrecked in this way.

Coming from the Westward, the Light will be seen first on a S. 57° 15′ E. bearing. The extreme end of the low ground called Gunner's Quoin Point bears N. 52° 30′ W. from the Light House, distant 19¾ miles, but it is not visible from it. The sea was remarked breaking a long way off the Point,—it will therefore be necessary to keep off until the Light becomes visible.

With the precautions here given, there will be as little danger in rounding Agulhas as in rounding the Cape of Good Hope, or indeed any other head land.

2.—Description of the Land and Shore about Agulhas.

Cape Agulhas is defined to be the rocky projection from the South-East corner of the Agulhas Promontory, the centre of which Promontory is about ¾th of a mile Westward of the projection, and about 200 yards more Southerly, being the most Southern part of Africa.

Description of the Land.—The features of the land about Agulhas distinguish it from the neighbouring head lands. A ridge-shaped undulating clump, rising from the flat ground, is separated into four ridge-shaped hills by irregular ravines running nearly true East and West. The middle ridges enter, wedge-like, at the East end, and are lost towards the centre, where the ravine widens to a mile in breadth. The middle ridges are the lowest, the Northern and Southern are nearly of equal height.

Viewed at a distance from the seaward, Easterly or Westerly, the North and South elevations being seen nearly end on, resemble two oblong hummocks; but the former extending more Easterly appears the highest as seen from the Eastward.

Viewed at a distance from the Southward, the South ridge masks the others, save at their East end; but the ravines being hid, the whole appear to be united (only the South and middle ridges are noticed on the chart. They are all given on Col. MICHELL's plan.)

The highest part of the South ridge is 455 feet above the level of the sea, and its true meridional distance from the shore is almost exactly one mile. From this point the descent Eastward is rather gradual. Westward the descent is at first steep, then slightly undulates. Southward it is steep, then undulates to within 300 yards of the shore, where the ground becomes flat.

On the first undulation from the shore, which is about 55 feet above the level of the sea, nearly true South of the highest point before mentioned, and N. 30° W., 520 yards from Cape Agulhas, the Light House is built.

This spot was selected by the Masters of H. M. Ships President, Brilliant and Rosamond, (Messrs. REES, RUSSEL and ASHTON), under the command of Capt FOOTE, R. N., in conjunction with Lieut.-Colonel MICHELL.

The Light commands to seaward between E. and N. W. by W., or more correctly, E. to N. 57° 15′ W.

Description of the Shore.—West of the Agulhas Promontory the shore bends North-westerly, then round to the head-land called Gunner's Quoin, forming an irregular shallow incurvation of about 19 miles in breadth. Immediately to the E. N. E. of the Promontory are two deep indentations. The first called St Mungo's inlet. The next is deeper and wider, and the projection which separates them is called St. Mungo's Point. From the last inlet the shore runs jagged to the dangerous projection called Northumberland Point, the site of the wreck of the ship "Duke of Northumberland," which Point forms the west horn of Struys Bay.

The whole of the beach, from the west of the Agulhas Promontory to Northumberland Point, consists of rugged sand stone and quartz rocks, or rocky reef, perfectly impracticable even for a boat. At the Promontory groups of rock prevail; at the Cape, rocks, and rocky reef, extending out a third of a mile. At the inlets, flat rocky reef exposed at low water for a third of a mile; thence rocky to Northumberland Point, where it is sand and reef.

Exposed to the uninterrupted oscillations of the Southern Ocean, the sea breaks heavy on this iron bound shore, particularly during Southern winds. A vessel touching upon it, has not the slightest chance of escaping destruction.

The coast between Northumberland Point, and Struys Point, viz, of Struys Bay, is low and sandy, but a short distance from the beach, there is a line of sand hills varying from 50 to 150 feet in height, some of them covered with dark coloured bush, a feature that distinguishes the coast from Struys Point to the next Point Eastward of it. There is no high land sufficiently near to interfere with the distinguishing character of the hills Northward of Agulhas, as viewed from the seaward.

Northumberland Point bears East from the Light 3¼ miles. It is low and sandy immediately on the beach; but a very dangerous ledge of rocks extends S. 37°.30′ E., 1 mile from the Point, and a detached rock was fixed by intersection while breaking, which places it S. 58°.30′ E, 1⅛ miles from the Point; and S. 81°.40′ E., 4¼ miles from the Light. The extreme of Northumberland Point reef bears S. 77°.30′ E., 3 1/16 miles nearly from the Light. Westward from the Point the reefs extend about one-third of a mile and break heavily when the wind is from the S. E. In one or two places it breaks further out but in no place exceeds half a mile.

Struys Point is the outer extreme of a number of sand hills, and as before stated, forms the Eastern horn of Struys Bay. It bears from Northumberland Point, which is the Western horn, N. 79° .30′ E., 11 miles (estimated), and N. 82° .20′ E., 15 miles from the Light House. This point is more dangerous than Northumberland Point, inasmuch as the reefs lie much further off the shore, and there is no high land to enable the mariner to determine his position. Circumstances did not allow of this Point being included in the Agulhas survey; but during a strong South-easter it was remarked from the summit of the sand hills near the Point, that the reef extended seaward about 3 miles, and was then breaking with fury.

Like Northumberland Point, the color of the water off this Point changes to seaward from brown to light, then dark green; from which it may be inferred, together with the known shallowness of the water off Northumberland Point, that the Lead as well as the color of the water, will always warn a ship of the approach of danger.

Struys Bay is formed by Struys Point to the East and Northumberland Point to the West. The landing place is in a small bay or cove to the N. W. of Northumberland Point, sheltered by a projecting shelf of shingle from each extremity of the cove. The jetty, constructed from pieces of wreck, renders the landing easy; but at the outer horns of the shingle there is only water sufficient for a boat at quarter flood in fine weather. Three or four huts at the head of the jetty, point out its position from the Bay. Immediately in the neighbourhood, on higher ground, is a stone dwelling-house, with a signal staff a few yards behind it, termed the telegraph staff on the chart.

The marks for anchoring are the large stone house near the beach W. ¼ S., and the sandy extreme of Northumberland Point S. W. by S., in 5 fathoms sand. Here the bottom is clear, while to the westward and nearer to the reef where the water is smoother the bottom is foul,—rocks interspersed with patches of sand. The latter is unsafe, the cable is liable to snap from fouling the rocks, an accident that befel H. M. Vessel "Dee," while, lying there in a light South-westerly wind accompanied by the usual swell.

Directions for Anchoring.—Vessels from the westward, intending to anchor in this bay, should not bring the Light House to bear more Westerly than W. by N. ¼ N., until Northumberland Point bears N. W. ¼ N. Then steer N. N. E. or N. E. by N. until the stone house before mentioned bears W. N. W. This will lead clear of the outer detached reefs off Northumberland Point. Proceed then to N. W. and bring the anchorage marks on.

The light will not be visible from this anchoring ground, owing to the swell of the intervening land.

Precautions respecting Struys Bay.—Shelter may be obtained in this bay during Westerly and North-Westerly winds only. None is afforded with the wind between S. W. round to the Southward and East. With any of the latter winds it is unsafe, if not impossible, to ride in this bay, for the sea rises to such an extent as to break in 7 or 8 fathoms, a circumstance that was remarked on two occasions while H. M. Steamer "Dee" was standing off waiting for the weather to moderate to enable her to anchor. At the time of anchoring, although the wind had subsided for several hours, the water nearly broke in 7 fathoms where the anchor was let go; and at the place from whence she had put to sea three days before in 4¾ fathoms, the sea was breaking heavily. As a general rule, vessels seeking shelter in this bay in a N. W. gale, should put to sea immediately after it subsides: for the wind frequently changes in a few hours from a strong N. W. to a S. E. or South point; in which case it is very difficult to work out in consequence of the heavy sea that rises with these winds.

Currents.—During the examinations of the Coast (Sept. 1848) no current was observed in Struys Bay, nor about the coast 2½ miles from the shore, as far to the westward of Agulhas as the letter E. on the chart: but it was confidently asserted by fishermen, and the residents at Struys Bay, that a very strong current frequently sets to the Westward round Northumberland Point.

Tides.—Circumstances did not allow of the Tides being observed with due accuracy. Two copper plugs were let into rocks S. W. of the Light House to mark the high and low water points nearly at Spring Tides. The comparisons with these plugs on October 15, 16, 18, 19, 28, 29, (1848), and an observation at the jetty in Struys Bay, on October 28, give the establishment, and rise and fall, nearly similar to what prevails in Table Bay and Simon's Bay.

Magnetic Variation.—This was determined by means of two Magnets, on the flat ground between the Light House and Beach. The result (29° 20′ W.) has been employed for the compass bearings, given in these Instructions.

4.—Description of the Light Apparatus.

This Light is of the first or most brilliant class, and is the work of Mr. Henry le Paute. It is constructed upon what is technically called the Dioptric principle.

A hollow cylinder with a paraboloid top of about 19 feet in circumference, and 10 feet in height, is composed (omitting a door way) of 28 horizontal tiers of glass and reflectors, firmly fixed in a metallic frame-work of six compartments; so that each tier is divided into six circular segments.

The centre tier is a large hoop-shaped plano-convex lens, 11 inches in depth. Next, 8 tiers of circular prisms above and 8 below the centre lens. Then 7 tiers of reflectors above and 4 tiers below. Three-fourths of the circumference of the cylinder is formed by this combination. The remaining quadrant which is towards the land, and its centre due North, serves for the door way into the cylinder; but the door is lined with two large concave metallic reflectors, each two feet in breadth and three feet in height.

The burner, consisting of four concentric Argand Wicks, 4 inches in diameter, is placed in the centre of the cylinder in the focus of the large lens. It is supplied with oil by a force pump driven by clock-work; and there is a simple contrivance, which gives notice by the ringing of a bell when the reservoir requires to be replenished.

The frame work of the Lenticular (the name given to the whole combination) is firmly attached to a cast-iron circular floor, supported by a stem of cast-iron; the lower end of which is let into a block of granite resting upon the crown of the supporting dome, where it (the stone) is surrounded by masonry.

The theory of the Lenticular may be understood, as follows:—The burner being in the focus of the plano convex lens, the rays of light that impinge upon the inner plane surface, emerge outside horizontal.

The bases of the prisms are perpendicular inside; their upper planes are horizontal, and their hypothenusal planes outside slant downwards and inwards. The depth of each base successively diminishes from 3 inches to 1⅛ inch in depth, in the order from the centre lens upwards and downwards, which is the order of the increasing inclination of the impinging rays from the burner. The effect of the prismatic form, is to turn the rays, and to send them out horizontal, upon the same principle by which objects in a horizontal direction in front of a Camera Lucida are seen by looking down into it.

The tiers of reflectors commence at the height and depression where the still greater inclination of the impinging rays from the burner would cause a prism to decompose them in the horizontal direction into the prismatic or rainbow colours The reflectors are concave towards the lens, their curvatures increasing as they recede from the centre lens. They reflect the rays that fall upon them to the prisms, whence they are sent out horizontal.

The two large reflectors behind on the inside of the door return the rays from their direction to the large lens, through which they escape horizontal.

Thus all the light from the burner, save the small quantity that escapes up the chimney glass, is bent into one brilliant horizontal sheet to overspread the horizon.

This splendid specimen of skill is protected by a Lantern 10½ feet in diameter, or 33 feet in circumference, glazed with thick plate glass, and surmounted by a copper dome, from which a lightning conductor of wire rope descends to the ground.

The Light House was planned by Lieut. Colonel Michell, the late talented Surveyor General at the Cape, who made a journey to Paris for the express purpose of selecting the Lenticular Apparatus.

It may be proper to mention, that the Tower of the Light House is to be painted, and will show alternate horizontal bands of white and red, two of each.

Messrs. Rees, Carr and Skead of H. M. Ships President, Nimrod and Dee, respectively, particularly Mr. Skead, provided a large portion of the Sailing Instructions. These, with the remainder by myself, I have arranged and compared carefully with the Chart recently constructed from measurement and rigorous trigonometric calculation. The other matter is by myself, and I hold myself responsible for the accuracy of the whole.

I may add, that one of the trigonometric stations in the measurement of the Arc of the Meridian is on the highest point of the hill above the Light House; by means of which, the Latitude and Longitude of the Light House are derived from the position of the Observatory. Thus the Light is an exact Geographical Point.

Notification.—Notice is hereby given, that in pursuance of instructions received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, Supplies on account of the Home Treasury, will continue to be raised during the ensuing Official Year 1849-50, on the security of Goods to be hypothecated to the East India Company, and that, so far as is at present known, the sum required to be provided in India by the purchase of Bills will be £900,000 liable, however, to such modification or extension as may hereafter be demanded by the exigencies of the Public Service.

Advances of Cash will accordingly be made, for this purpose, by the Governments of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, to the extent of ¾ths of the value of the Goods hypothecated, and the Bills in repayment of these advances are to be drawn at six months' sight, at the rate of 1*s.* 10*d.* per Company's Rupee, until further notice.

It is also further notified, that in, pursuance of instructions received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, the Governments of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, have been authorized, in any case in which they may consider such a course to be expedient, to dispense with the obligation to insure, which is imposed by the existing terms and conditions upon parties who may obtain advances from the respective Governments, on the security of Goods hypothecated to the East India Company, intimating to them that the Hon'ble Court will make the insurance in England, and requiring a Declaration binding the parties to repay the premium upon insurances, which the Court may effect before the Bills of Lading and other Shipping Documents are handed over to their Agents.

It is to be understood that the Insurance to be effected, will only be to the amount of the advance in each case, so as to cover the East India Company's risk.

In all other respects the existing terms and conditions of the advances to be made by the respective Governments, will remain in force, and be the same as published in the Calcutta Gazette under date the 1st April 1842.

THE LIGHT ON CAPE AGULHAS.

Colonial Office, Cape of Good Hope, 15th December, 1848.

A Light House having been erected at Cape Agulhas, near the Southernmost point of the Continent of Africa, the following Sailing Instructions for vessels approaching that point, which have been drawn up by T. MACLEAR, Esq., F. R. S., Her Majesty's Astronomer Royal at the Cape of Good Hope, and which include a description of the land and shore about Agulhas,—instructions for anchoring in Struys Bay,—and a description of the construction of the Light Apparatus, are, by direction of His Excellency the Governor, published for general information.

His Excellency has further desired it to be notified that, the works being now completed, the Lantern will be lighted on the 1st of March next; and will, thereafter, continue to be lighted every evening at sunset.

By His Excellency's Command,

(Signed) JOHN MONTAGU,

Secretary to Government.

CAPE AGULHAS LIGHT.

It has been thought advisable to reverse the logical order of the matter connected with the establishment of this Light, so that what is most wanted should appear first, and further information be had by reference to the particular heads.

The adopted arrangement is as follows :—

1. General Sailing Instructions for Passing Agulhas.
2. Description of the Land and Shore about Agulhas.
3. Instructions for anchoring in Struys Bay, Currents, Tides, &c.
4. Description of the Construction of the Light Apparatus.

1.—General Sailing Instructions for Passing Agulhas.

	°	′	″		h.	m.	s.
Latitude of the Light, ...	34	49	45·7
Longitude, East of Greenwich, ...	20	0	40	=	1	20	2·67

Magnetic Variation 29° 20′ W.

The Light can be seen in clear weather in any direction seaward, between East and North West by West, at the distance of six leagues from a deck 15 feet high. It is a steady white Light.

All the bearings mentioned are Magnetic, and all the distances expressed in miles are Geographical, unless the contrary is stated.

If a vessel from the Eastward passes Struys Point at the distance of 5 miles from the shore, and steers a W. by S. course exactly, she will pass the most Southerly projection of the Northumberland Point Reef at the distance of 4¼ miles, and the Light at the distance of 5¼ miles, and clear Gunner's Quoin. This is the limit Northward within which no sailing vessel should be found. It secures every advantage that could possibly be obtained by a closer course, and at that distance the Light will be brilliant.

Precautions.—In clear weather, the Light may be seen, when 5 or 6 miles Eastward of Struys Point, from a look-out at the height of 35 feet; and if the vessel then should chance to be close in shore, by steering the above course, she might touch the shoal off Struys Point. To guard against this, when the Light is first seen, it should be brought immediately to bear W. by N.; and keeping this bearing of the Light, the vessel will pass 2 miles to the Southward of any danger respecting Struys Point.

Care should be taken when approaching the land before the Light is discovered, for in hazy weather, or from spray in a fresh breeze, combined with the distance of Struys Point (about 15 miles), the Light may be faint or altogether obscured, and the vessel may get within the line of danger. Under these circumstances, the Lead should not be neglected, and the depth should not be less than 20 fathoms, without putting about immediately to the South.

The like precautions are required in the day time, particularly in foggy weather; for the high land of Agulhas may be invisible, while the sand hills of Struys Bay and the breakers off Northumberland Point are distinctly seen. On these occasions it is difficult to determine whether the vessel is to the Eastward or Westward of Struys Point; because the shore features of the Bay Eastward of that Point, are similar to those of Struys Bay, although the extent is less.

Sailing vessels in particular should adhere to the rules, for if it should fall calm, the heavy swell which constantly rolls towards the shore would carry them with it, and the only resource, that of anchoring, would probably be of no avail from the rocky nature of the bottom, combined with the swell. The "St. Mungo" is said to have been wrecked in this way.

Coming from the Westward, the Light will be seen first on a S. 57° 15′ E. bearing. The extreme end of the low ground called Gunner's Quoin Point bears N. 52° 30′ W. from the Light House, distant 19¾ miles, but it is not visible from it. The sea was remarked breaking a long way off the Point,—it will therefore be necessary to keep off until the Light becomes visible.

With the precautions here given, there will be as little danger in rounding Agulhas as in sounding the Cape of Good Hope, or indeed any other head land.

2.—Description of the Land and Shore about Agulhas.

Cape Agulhas is defined to be the rocky projection from the South East corner of the Agulhas Promontory, the centre of which Promontory is about ¼th of a mile Westward of the projection, and about 200 yards more Southerly, being the most Southern part of Africa.

Description of the Land.—The features of the land about Agulhas distinguish it from the neighbouring head lands. A ridge-shaped undulating clump, rising from the flat ground, is separated into four ridge-shaped hills by irregular ravines running nearly true East and West. The middle ridges enter, wedge-like, at the East end, and are lost towards the centre, where the ravine widens to a mile in breadth. The middle ridges are the lowest, the Northern and Southern are nearly of equal height.

Viewed at a distance from the seaward, Easterly or Westerly, the North and South elevations being seen nearly end on, resemble two oblong hummocks; but the former extending more Easterly appears the highest as seen from the Eastward.

Viewed at a distance from the Southward, the South ridge masks the others, save at their East end; but the ravines being hid, the whole appear to be united (only the South and middle ridges are noticed on the chart. They are all given on Col. MICHELL's plan.)

The highest part of the South ridge is 455 feet above the level of the sea, and its true meridional distance from the shore is almost exactly one mile. From this point the descent Eastward is rather gradual. Westward the descent is at first steep, then slightly undulates. Southward it is steep, then undulates to within 300 yards of the shore, where the ground becomes flat.

On the first undulation from the shore, which is about 55 feet above the level of the sea, nearly true South of the highest point before mentioned, and N. 30° W., 520 yards from Cape Agulhas, the Light House is built.

This spot was selected by the Masters of H. M. Ships President, Brilliant and Rosamond, (Messrs. REES, RUSSEL and ASHTON), under the command of Capt. FOOTE, R. N., in conjunction with Lieut.-Colonel MICHELL.

The Light commands to seaward between E. and N. W. by W., or more correctly, E. to N. 57° 15′ W.

Description of the Shore.—West of the Agulhas Promontory the shore bends North-westerly, then round to the head-land called Gunner's Quoin, forming an irregular shallow incurvation of about 19 miles in breadth. Immediately to the E. N. E. of the Promontory are two deep indentations. The first called St. Mungo's inlet. The next is deeper and wider, and the projection which separates them is called St. Mungo's Point. From the last inlet the shore runs jagged to the dangerous projection called Northumberland Point, the site of the wreck of the ship "Duke of Northumberland," which Point forms the west horn of Struys Bay.

The whole of the beach, from the west of the Agulhas Promontory to Northumberland Point, consists of rugged sand stone and quartz rocks, or rocky reef, perfectly impracticable even for a boat. At the Promontory groups of rock prevail; at the Cape, rocks, and rocky reef, extending out a third of a mile. At the inlets, flat rocky reef exposed at low water for a third of a mile; thence rocky to Northumberland Point, where it is sand and reef.

Exposed to the uninterrupted oscillations of the Southern Ocean, the sea breaks heavy on this iron bound shore, particularly during Southern winds. A vessel touching upon it, has not the slightest chance of escaping destruction.

The coast between Northumberland Point, and Struys Point, viz., of Struys Bay, is low and sandy, but a short distance from the beach, there is a line of sand hills varying from 50 to 150 feet in height, some of them covered with dark coloured bush, a feature that distinguishes the coast from Struys Point to the next Point Eastward of it. There is no high land sufficiently near to interfere with the distinguishing character of the hills Northward of Agulhas, as viewed from the seaward.

Northumberland Point bears East from the Light 3⅛ miles. It is low and sandy immediately on the beach; but a very dangerous ledge of rocks extends S. 37°.30′ E., 1 mile from the Point, and a detached rock was fixed by intersection while breaking, which places it S. 58°.30′ E., 1⅛ miles from the Point; and S. 81°.40′ E., 4¼ miles from the Light. The extreme of Northumberland Point reef bears S. 77°.30′ E., 3⅛ miles nearly from the Light. Westward from the Point the reefs extend about one-third of a mile and break heavily when the wind is from the S. E. In one or two places it breaks further out but in no place exceeds half a mile.

Struys Point is the outer extreme of a number of sand hills, and as before stated, forms the Eastern horn of Struys Bay. It bears from Northumberland Point, which is the Western horn, N. 79° .30′ E., 11 miles (estimated), and N. 82° .20′ E., 15 miles from the Light House. This point is more dangerous than Northumberland Point, inasmuch as the reefs lie much further off the shore, and there is no high land to enable the mariner to determine his position. Circumstances did not allow of this Point being included in the Agulhas survey; but during a strong South-easter it was remarked from the summit of the sand hills near the Point, that the reef extended seaward about 3 miles, and was then breaking with fury.

Like Northumberland Point, the color of the water off this Point changes to seaward from brown to light, then dark green; from which it may be inferred, together with the known shallowness of the water off Northumberland Point, that the Lead as well as the color of the water, will always warn a ship of the approach of danger.

Struys Bay is formed by Struys Point to the East and Northumberland Point to the West. The landing place is in a small bay or cove to the N. W. of Northumberland Point, sheltered by a projecting shelf of shingle from each extremity of the cove. The jetty, constructed from pieces of wreck, renders the landing easy; but at the outer horns of the shingle there is only water sufficient for a boat at quarter flood in fine weather. Three or four huts at the head of the jetty, point out its position from the Bay. Immediately in the neighbourhood, on higher ground, is a stone dwelling-house, with a signal staff a few yards behind it, termed the telegraph staff on the chart.

The marks for anchoring are the large stone house near the beach W. ¼ S., and the sandy extreme of Northumberland Point S. W. by S., in 5 fathoms sand. Here the bottom is clear, while to the westward and nearer to the reef where the water is smoother the bottom is foul,—rocks interspersed with patches of sand. The latter is unsafe, the cable is liable to snap from fouling the rocks, an accident that befel H. M. Vessel "Dee," while, lying there in a light South-westerly wind accompanied by the usual swell.

Directions for Anchoring.—Vessels from the westward, intending to anchor in this bay, should not bring the Light House to bear more Westerly than W. by N. ¼ N., until Northumberland Point bears N. W. ¼ N. Then steer N. N. E. or N. E. by N. until the stone house before mentioned bears W. N. W. This will lead clear of the outer detached reefs off Northumberland Point. Proceed then to N. W. and bring the anchorage marks on.

The light will not be visible from this anchoring ground, owing to the swell of the intervening land.

Precautions respecting Struys Bay.—Shelter may be obtained in this bay during Westerly and North-Westerly winds only. None is afforded with the wind between S. W. round to the Southward and East. With any of the latter winds it is unsafe, if not impossible, to ride in this bay, for the sea rises to such an extent as to break in 7 or 8 fathoms, a circumstance that was remarked on two occasions while H. M. Steamer "Dee" was standing off waiting for the weather to moderate to enable her to anchor. At the time of anchoring, although the wind had subsided for several hours, the water nearly broke in 7 fathoms where the anchor was let go, and at the place from whence she had put to sea three days before in 4¾ fathoms, the sea was breaking heavily. As a general rule, vessels seeking shelter in this bay in a N. W. gale, should put to sea immediately after it subsides: for the wind frequently changes in a few hours from a strong N. W. to a S. E. or South point; in which case it is very difficult to work out in consequence of the heavy sea that rises with these winds.

Currents.—During the examinations of the Coast (Sept. 1848) no current was observed in Struys Bay, nor about the coast 2½ miles from the shore, as far to the westward of Agulhas as the letter E. on the chart: but it was confidently asserted by fishermen, and the residents at Struys Bay, that a very strong current frequently sets to the Westward round Northumberland Point.

Tides.—Circumstances did not allow of the Tides being observed with due accuracy. Two copper plugs were let into rocks S. W. of the Light House to mark the high and low water points nearly at Spring Tides. The comparisons with these plugs on October 15, 16, 18, 19, 28, 29, (1848), and an observation at the jetty in Struys Bay, on October 28, give the establishment, and rise and fall, nearly similar to what prevails in Table Bay and Simon's Bay.

Magnetic Variation.—This was determined by means of two Magnets, on the flat ground between the Light House and Beach. The result (29° 20′ W.) has been employed for the compass bearings, given in these Instructions.

4.—Description of the Light Apparatus.

This Light is of the first or most brilliant class, and is the work of Mr. Henry le Paute. It is constructed upon what is technically called the Dioptric principle.

A hollow cylinder with a paraboloid top of about 19 feet in circumference, and 10 feet in height, is composed (omitting a door way) of 28 horizontal tiers of glass and reflectors, firmly fixed in a metallic frame-work of six compartments; so that each tier is divided into six circular segments.

The centre tier is a large hoop-shaped plano-convex lens, 11 inches in depth. Next, 8 tiers of circular prisms above and 8 below the centre lens. Then 7 tiers of reflectors above and 4 tiers below. Three-fourths of the circumference of the cylinder is formed by this combination. The remaining quadrant which is towards the land, and its centre due North, serves for the door way into the cylinder; but the door is lined with two large concave metallic reflectors, each two feet in breadth and three feet in height.

The burner, consisting of four concentric Argand Wicks, 4 inches in diameter, is placed in the centre of the cylinder in the focus of the large lens. It is supplied with oil by a force pump driven by clock-work; and there is a simple contrivance, which gives notice by the ringing of a bell when the reservoir requires to be replenished.

The frame work of the Lenticular (the name given to the whole combination) is firmly attached to a cast-iron circular floor, supported by a stem of cast-iron; the lower end of which is let into a block of granite resting upon the crown of the supporting dome, where it (the stone) is surrounded by masonry.

The theory of the Lenticular may be understood, as follows:—The burner being in the focus of the plano convex lens, the rays of light that impinge upon the inner plane surface, emerge outside horizontal.

The bases of the prisms are perpendicular inside; their upper planes are horizontal, and their hypothenusal planes outside slant downwards and inwards. The depth of each base successively diminishes from 3 inches to 1½ inch in depth, in the order from the centre lens upwards and downwards, which is the order of the increasing inclination of the impinging rays from the burner. The effect of the prismatic form, is to turn the rays, and to send them out horizontal, upon the same principle by which objects in a horizontal direction in front of a Camera Lucida are seen by looking down into it.

The tiers of reflectors commence at the height and depression where the still greater inclination of the impinging rays from the burner would cause a prism to decompose them in the horizontal direction into the prismatic or rainbow colours. The reflectors are concave towards the lens, their curvatures increasing as they recede from the centre lens. They reflect the rays that fall upon them to the prisms, whence they are sent out horizontal.

The two large reflectors behind on the inside of the door return the rays from their direction to the large lens, through which they escape horizontal.

Thus all the light from the burner, save the small quantity that escapes up the chimney glass, is bent into one brilliant horizontal sheet to overspread the horizon.

This splendid specimen of skill is protected by a Lantern 10½ feet in diameter, or 33 feet in circumference, glazed with thick plate glass, and surmounted by a copper dome, from which a lightning conductor of wire rope descends to the ground.

The Light House was planned by Lieut. Colonel Michell, the late talented Surveyor General at the Cape, who made a journey to Paris for the express purpose of selecting the Lenticular Apparatus.

It may be proper to mention, that the Tower of the Light House is to be painted, and will show alternate horizontal bands of white and red, two of each.

Messrs. Rees, Carr and Skead of H. M. Ships, President, Nimrod and Dee, respectively, particularly Mr. Skead, provided a large portion of the Sailing Instructions. These, with the remainder by myself, I have arranged and compared carefully with the Chart recently constructed from measurement and rigorous trigonometric calculation. The other matter is by myself, and I hold myself responsible for the accuracy of the whole.

I may add, that one of the trigonometric stations in the measurement of the Arc of the Meridian is on the highest point of the hill above the Light House; by means of which, the Latitude and Longitude of the Light House are derived from the position of the Observatory. Thus the Light is an exact Geographical Point.

It is also further notified, that in, pursuance of instructions received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, the Governments of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, have been authorized, in any case in which they may consider such a course to be expedient, to dispense with the obligation to insure, which is imposed by the existing terms and conditions upon parties who may obtain advances from the respective Governments, on the security of Goods hypothecated to the East India Company, intimating to them that the Hon'ble Court will make the insurance in England, and requiring a Declaration binding the parties to repay the premium upon insurances, which the Court may effect before the Bills of Lading and other Shipping Documents are handed over to their Agents.

The ARMY LIST will be published on Hart's plan, and all profits arising from its sale be added to the Funds of the Military Orphan Society.

In addition to this strong claim to the patronage of the Army, for whose benefit it is intended, it will place on permanent record the Field Services of every Officer of the Bengal Army.

It is not expected that the first Number will be entirely free from errors; but as great care has been taken by the Officers entrusted with its preparation to verify the dates of Commission and Promotion, it is hoped that absolute accuracy will shortly be obtained.

The Field Services of every Officer who has communicated with the General Management, will be recorded, and those of all Officers who have not yet been able to comply with the requisition, will be published in each succeeding Quarterly Number, as they are furnished.

The CIVIL LIST will exhibit the date of commencement of Service, the date of arrival in India, and the present office and date of appointment of it of every Member of that branch of the Service.

The publication of the above ARMY and CIVIL LISTS, for which several hundred Subscribers in every part of India, are already enrolled, will afford an eligible opportunity for advertisements, the charge for which may be ascertained by application to the Superintendent of the Military Orphan Press.

The Price of each Quarterly Number will be Co.'s Rs. 3, paid in advance.

No. 1638 of 1849.

Judicial Department, Agra, the 5th May, 1849.

NOTIFICATION.—The following Circular letter is published for general information :

Circular to Commissioners of Police in the N. W. P.

The attention of the Government has been lately drawn to the losses suffered by the mercantile community in consequence of the wreck, or burning of boats laden with merchandize. Apprehensions exist that these are often occasioned either by the misconduct of the boatmen or by the rapacity of the inhabitants along the river banks, who thus endeavour to conceal the crime of which they have been guilty.

2nd. You are therefore requested to call upon the Magistrates in your Division to exercise the greatest vigilance on such occasions. Enquiry must always be made into the cause of such events, and a report furnished by the Police Darogha to the Magistrate.

3rd. Whenever on the complaint of the Churundar, or Officer in charge of the boat on the part of the Owners of the Cargo, or from any other sufficient cause, there be reason to suppose that the loss or destruction of the boat is owing to the wilful misconduct of the boatmen, or the violence of lawless depredators; a searching enquiry should be made into the circumstances, and the suspected persons should be arrested, and dealt with as the law directs. Every means must also be taken for the preservation of the goods which are saved from the boat. For this purpose the Churundar should not be unnecessarily interfered with, but he must be supported and protected in the discharge of his duty. If there be not present any Churundar, or person empowered to act for the Owners, the Police must themselves take charge of the goods.

4th. In order the better to enable the Owners of goods to keep a check on their Agents, and to inform themselves of the real cause of the losses they may sustain, they will be invited whenever they hear of the loss of a boat, to address to the Magistrate, post paid, a communication either in English or Oordoo, in the form attached to this letter. The Magistrate, to whom it is addressed, will cause a brief extract to be drawn up in his Office, explaining in Oordoo the circumstances of the case, so far as they can be ascertained, and will forward it for the information of the Owner through the Magistrate of the district in which he may reside.

5th. You will be careful to see that these instructions are followed, and you will especially notice cases of this nature in your Annual Report.

6th. You will also enjoin on the Magistrates the necessity for using every precaution that the vigilance, which will now be exercised for the repression of wrong, be not made the means of petty extortion from well conducted and unoffending travellers or traders.

Fort William, Financial Department, the 31st March, 1849.

NOTIFICATION.—Notice is hereby given, that in pursuance of instructions received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, Supplies on account of the Home Treasury, will continue to be raised during the ensuing Official Year 1849-50, on the security of Goods to be hypothecated to the East India Company, and that, so far as is at present known, the sum required to be provided in India by the purchase of Bills will be £900,000 liable, however, to such modification or extension as may hereafter be demanded by the exigencies of the Public Service.

Advances of Cash will accordingly be made, for this purpose, by the Governments of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, to the extent of ¾ths of the value of the Goods hypothecated, and the Bills in repayment of these advances are to be drawn at six months' sight, at the rate of 1s. 10d. per Company's Rupee, until further notice.

It is also further notified, that in, pursuance of instructions received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, the Governments of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, have been authorized, in any case in which they may consider such a course to be expedient, to dispense with the obligation to insure, which is imposed by the existing terms and conditions upon parties who may obtain advances from the respective Governments, on the security of Goods hypothecated to the East India Company, intimating to them that the Hon'ble Court will make the insurance in England, and requiring a Declaration binding the parties to repay the premium upon insurances, which the Court may effect before the Bills of Lading and other Shipping Documents are handed over to their Agents.

It is to be understood that the Insurance to be effected, will only be to the amount of the advance in each case, so as to cover the East India Company's risk.

In all other respects the existing terms and conditions of the advances to be made by the respective Governments, will remain in force, and be the same as published in the Calcutta Gazette under date the 1st April 1842.

It is to be understood that the Insurance to be effected, will only be to the amount of the advance in each case, so as to cover the East India Company's risk.

In all other respects the existing terms and conditions of the advances to be made by the respective Governments, will remain in force, and be the same as published in the Calcutta Gazette under date the 1st April 1842.

NOTIFICATION.—Notice is hereby given, that in pursuance of instructions received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, Supplies on account of the Home Treasury, will continue to be raised during the ensuing Official Year 1849-50, on the security of Goods to be hypothecated to the East India Company, and that, so far as is at present known, the sum required to be provided in India by the purchase of Bills will be £900,000 liable, however, to such modification or extension as may hereafter be demanded by the exigencies of the Public Service.

Advances of Cash will accordingly be made, for this purpose, by the Governments of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, to the extent of ¾ths of the value of the Goods hypothecated, and the Bills in repayment of these advances are to be drawn at six months' sight, at the rate of 1*s.* 10*d.* per Company's Rupee, until further notice.

It is also further notified, that in, pursuance of instructions received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, the Governments of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, have been authorized, in any case in which they may consider such a course to be expedient, to dispense with the obligation to insure, which is imposed by the existing terms and conditions upon parties who may obtain advances from the respective Governments, on the security of Goods hypothecated to the East India Company, intimating to them that the Hon'ble Court will make the insurance in England, and requiring a Declaration binding the parties to repay the premium upon insurances, which the Court may effect before the Bills of Lading and other Shipping Documents are handed over to their Agents.

It is to be understood that the Insurance to be effected, will only be to the amount of the advance in each case, so as to cover the East India Company's risk.

In all other respects the existing terms and conditions of the advances to be made by the respective Governments, will remain in force, and be the same as published in the Calcutta Gazette under date the 1st April 1842.

XLII. On the hearing or trial of any action or any other proceeding under this Act the parties thereto, their wives, and all other persons, may be examined, either on behalf of the plaintiff or defendant, subject nevertheless to the Acts and Regulations in force with respect to the examination of women of a rank and situation in life, which, according to the customs of the Country, would render it improper to compel them to appear in a Court of Justice.

XLIII. Every person who, in any examination upon oath or solemn affirmation under this Act, shall wilfully and corruptly give false evidence shall be deemed guilty of perjury.

XLIV. Either of the parties to the suit or any other proceeding under this Act may obtain, at the office of the Clerk of the Court, Summonses to witnesses, with or without a Clause requiring the production of Books, Deeds, Papers and Writings in their possession or control, and in any such Summons any number of names may be inserted.

XLVII. Payment of any fine imposed by any Court under the authority of this Act may be enforced upon the order of the Judges, in like manner as payment of any debt adjudged in the said Court, and shall be accounted for as herein provided.

XLVIII. All the costs of any action or proceeding in the Court, not herein otherwise provided for, shall be paid by or apportioned between the parties, in such manner as the Judges shall think fit; and, in default of any special direction, shall abide the event of the action; and execution may issue for the recovery of any such costs, in like manner as for any debt adjudged in the said Court.

XLIX. Every order and judgment of any Court holden under this Act, except as herein provided, shall be final and conclusive between the parties; but the Judges shall have power to nonsuit the plaintiff, in every case in which satisfactory proof shall not be given to them, entitling either the plaintiff or defendant to the Judgment of the Court; and shall also in every case whatever have the power, if they shall think fit, to order a new trial to be had, upon such terms as they shall think reasonable, and in the meantime to stay the proceedings.

L. No cause commenced in any Court holden under this Act shall be removed from the said Court into the Supreme Court by any Writ or Process, unless the debt or damage claimed exceeds One Hundred Rupees, and then only by leave of a Judge of the said Supreme Court on proof to his satisfaction that some question of law is likely to arise therein, which, by reason either of its difficulty, novelty or general importance, or of some erroneous course of decision on the same point in the Court of Requests may appear to him fit to be tried in the Supreme Court, and upon such terms as to payment of costs, giving security for debt or costs, or otherwise, as he shall think fit.

LI. The Judges of the Court of Requests may, in their discretion, reserve any question of law on which they entertain doubts, or which they shall be requested by either party to the suit to reserve, for the opinion of the Judges of the Supreme Court, and may give judgment contingent upon the opinion of the said Supreme Court on a case which they shall thereupon be entitled to state to the said Court.

LII. No person shall be entitled to appear for any other party to any proceeding in any of the said Courts, unless he be an Attorney of the Supreme Court, or an Advocate of the Supreme Court instructed by such Attorney on behalf of the party; or, by leave of the Judges, any other person allowed by the Judges to appear instead of such party; but no Advocate, Attorney, or other person, except by leave of the Judges, shall be entitled to be heard to argue any question as counsel for any other person, in any proceeding in any Court holden under this Act.

LIII. The Judges may make orders concerning the time or times, and by what instalments, any debt or damages or costs for which Judgment shall be obtained in the said Court shall be paid; and all such Monies shall be paid into Court, unless the Judges shall otherwise order.

LIV. If there be cross Judgments between the Parties, execution shall be taken out by that Party only who shall have obtained Judgment for the larger sum, and for so much only as shall remain after deducting the smaller sum; and satisfaction for the remainder shall be entered, as well as satisfaction on the Judgment for the smaller sum; and if both sums shall be equal, satisfaction shall be entered upon both Judgments.

LV. Whenever the Court shall have made an order for the payment of Money, the amount shall be recoverable, in case of default or failure of payment thereof forthwith, or at the time or times and in the manner directed, by execution against the body or the Goods and Chattels of the person against whom such order is made without further notice or order; and the Clerk of the said Court, at the request of the person prosecuting such order, shall issue under the seal of the Court a Writ of Execution to one of the Bailiffs of the Court, which shall be his warrant to take the body of such person in execution, or to levy, or cause to be levied, by Distress and sale of the Goods and Chattels of such person such sum of Money as shall be so ordered, wheresoever they may be found within the district of the Court, and also the costs of the execution; and all Constables and other Peace Officers within their several Jurisdictions shall aid in the execution of every such Writ.

LVI. If the Court shall have made any order for payment of any sum of Money by instalments, execution upon such order shall not issue until after default in payment of some instalment according to such order; and execution or successive executions may then issue without further notice or order for the whole of the said sum of Money and costs then remaining unpaid, or for such portion thereof as the Court shall order, either at the time of making the original order, or at any subsequent time, under the seal of the Court.

LVII. Whenever any warrant shall issue for taking in execution the body of any person under this Act, the Bailiffs of the Court shall be empowered, by virtue thereof, to take and convey him to any prison, appointed by the Governor in Council to be the prison of the Court, there to remain for such term as shall be directed by the warrant, not longer than six Calendar months or until he shall sooner perform the order of the Court.

LVIII. No person shall be imprisoned twice under the same judgment, nor shall execution against the body and goods issue at the same time under the same judgment.

LIX. Every person suing out a warrant of execution against the body of any other person under this Act shall deposit with the Clerk of the Court, at the time of the issue of the warrant, diet money for one week, after the rate of one anna and a half for each day, which shall be paid by the Clerk to the keeper of the prison at the time of the execution of the warrant.

LX. Notice of the execution of every such warrant shall be forthwith given to the person at whose suit it issued, who shall thereupon deposit with the keeper of the prison, diet money for the remainder of the month in which the warrant is executed, after the same daily rate, and shall continue thereafter to deposit monthly with the said keeper, in advance, diet money at the same daily rate, for each month which the debtor is liable to be kept in prison at his suit.

LXI. The diet money shall be employed for the subsistence of the prisoner; and if, by default of the detaining creditor, such diet money is not paid, the prisoner shall be entitled to his discharge by order of the Court.

LXII. All diet money, which shall be spent in providing subsistence for any prisoner, shall be costs in the cause, and all diet money, which shall not be so spent, shall be repaid to the creditor advancing the same.

LXIII. Whenever any prisoner shall offer good and reasonable security for payment of any debt or damage and costs, either in full or by instalments as the Court shall think reasonable, the Court may order him to be discharged on giving such security.

LXIV. Upon payment of the debt or damage and costs in full, the prisoner shall be entitled to be forthwith discharged.

LXV. If the debt or damage and costs are not paid, the imprisonment shall not extinguish the liability to pay the same; but all property then belonging to or afterwards acquired by the prisoner shall be liable to be taken in execution after his discharge from prison for satisfaction thereof, or of so much thereof as is not paid, including the diet money actually expended for subsistence of the prisoner.

LXVI. Every Bailiff executing any process of execution issuing out of the said Court against the Goods of any person, may, by virtue thereof, seize and take any of the Goods of such person, (excepting the necessary wearing apparel and bedding of such person or his family, and the tools and implements of his trade,) and may also seize and take any Money or Bank Notes, and any Cheques, Bills of Exchange, Promissory Notes, Bonds, Specialties or Securities for Money belonging to any such person against whom any execution shall have issued as aforesaid.

LXVII. LXVIII. If it shall, at any time, appear to the satisfaction of the Court that any defendant is unable, from sickness or other sufficient cause, to pay and discharge the debt or damages recovered against him, or any instalment thereof ordered to be paid as aforesaid, the Judges in their discretion may suspend or stay any Judgment, order or execution given, made or issued in such action, for such time and on such terms as they shall think fit, and so, from time to time, until it shall appear by the like proof as aforesaid that such temporary cause of disability has ceased.

LXIX. No sale of any Goods, which shall be taken in execution as aforesaid shall be made, until after the end of five days at least next following the day on which such Goods have been so taken, unless such Goods be of a perishable nature, or upon the request, in writing, of the party whose Goods have been taken.

LXX. Until such sale the Goods shall be deposited by the Bailiff by whom they were taken in some fit place, or they may remain in the custody of a fit person approved by the Judges to be put in possession by the Bailiff.

LXXI. LXXII. No Goods taken in execution under this Act shall be sold for the purpose of satisfying the Warrant of Execution; except by one of the brokers or appraisers so appointed.

LXXIV. The Clerk of the Court shall keep an account of all sums received upon such sales, distinguishing the amount paid to the party entitled to the benefit of the execution, and the amount levied and retained as costs, and also of all sums allowed to the brokers and appraisers upon such sales.

LXXVI. If any such claim of rent in arrear is made, the Bailiff making the levy shall distrain as well for the amount of the rent so claimed, and the costs of such additional distress, as for the amount of Money and costs for which the Warrant of Execution issued under this Act; and shall not proceed to sell the same or any part thereof within five days next after such distress is taken.

The Clerk of every Court holden under this Act shall cause a note of all Summonses, and of all orders, and of all Judgments and executions, and returns thereto, and of all Fines, and of all other proceedings of the Court, to be fairly entered from time to time in a Book belonging to the Court, which shall be kept at the office of the Court; and such entries in the said Book, or a Copy thereof bearing the seal of the Court, and purporting to be signed and certified as a true Copy by the Clerk of the Court, shall, at all times, be admitted in all Courts and places whatsoever as evidence of such entries, and of the proceeding referred to by such entry or entries, and of the regularity of such proceeding, without any further proof.

LXXXII. The Clerk of every such Court shall, in the month of March in each year, make out a correct list of all sums of Money belonging to Suitors in the Court, which shall have been paid into Court, and which shall have remained unclaimed for five years before the first day of the month of January then last past, specifying the names of the parties for whom or on whose account the same were so paid into Court; and a Copy of such List shall be put up and remain during Court hours in some conspicuous part of the Court House, and at all times in the Clerk's office; and all sums of Money which shall have been paid into any such Court, to the use of any Suitor or Suitors thereof, and which shall have remained unclaimed for the period of six years before the passing of this Act, and which are now in the hands of any Commissioner or Officer of such Court, or otherwise held in trust for such Suitors, and all further sums of Money, which shall hereafter be paid into such Court to the use of any Suitor or Suitors thereof, shall, if unclaimed for the period of six years after the same shall have been so paid into Court, be applicable as part of the fees receivable on account of the Court, and shall be carried to the same account; and no person shall be entitled to claim any sum which shall have remained unclaimed for six years; but no time during which the person entitled to claim such sum shall have been an infant or married woman or of unsound mind or out of the Territories under the Government of the East India Company, shall be taken into account in estimating the said period of six years.

LXXXIII. If any person shall wilfully insult any Judge, Clerk or Officer of the said Court, for the time being, during his sitting or attendance in Court, or in going to or returning from the Court; or shall wilfully interrupt the proceedings of the Court, or otherwise misbehave in Court, it shall be lawful for any Bailiff or Officer of the Court, with or without the assistance of any other person, by the order of the Judges to take such offender into custody, and detain him until the rising of the Court; and the Judges shall be empowered, if they shall think fit, by a Warrant under their hands, and sealed with the seal of the Court, to commit any such offender to any Prison to which they have power to commit offenders under this Act, for any time not exceeding seven days, or to impose upon any such offender a Fine not exceeding Fifty Rupees for every such offence, and in default of payment thereof to commit the offender to any such Prison as aforesaid, for any time not exceeding seven days, unless the said Fine be sooner paid.

LXXXIV. If any Officer or Bailiff of any Court holden under this Act shall be assaulted while in the execution of his duty, or if any rescue shall be made or attempted to be made of any person arrested, or Goods levied under process of the Court, the person so offending shall be liable to a Fine not exceeding One Hundred Rupees to be recovered by order of the Court, or before a Magistrate as hereinafter provided; and the Bailiff of the Court, or any Peace Officer in any such case may take the offender into custody, (with or without Warrant,) and bring him before such Court, or Magistrate accordingly.

LXXXV. If any Bailiff of the said Court, who shall be employed to execute any Warrant of the Court, shall, by neglect, or connivance or omission, lose an opportunity of executing such Warrant, then upon complaint of the party aggrieved by reason of such neglect, connivance or omission, (and the fact alleged being proved to the satisfaction of the Court,) the Judges shall order the Bailiff to pay such damages as it shall appear that the plaintiff has sustained thereby, not exceeding in any case the sum of Money for which the said execution is issued, and the Bailiff shall be liable thereto; and upon demand made thereof, and on his refusal so to pay and satisfy the same, payment thereof shall be enforced by such ways and means as are herein provided for enforcing a judgment recovered in the said Court.

LXXXVI. If any Clerk, Bailiff or Officer of the Court, acting under colour or pretence of the process of the said Court, shall be charged with extortion or misconduct, or with not duly paying or accounting for any Money levied by him under the authority of this Act, the Judges may inquire into such matter in a summary way, and for that purpose may summon and enforce the attendance of all necessary parties in like manner as the attendance of witnesses in any case may be enforced, and may make such order thereupon for the repayment of any money extorted, or for the due payment of any money so levied as aforesaid, and for the payment of such damages, and costs, as they shall think just; and also, if they shall think fit, may impose such fine upon the Clerk, Bailiff or Officer not exceeding One Hundred Rupees for each offence, as they shall deem adequate; and in default of payment of any money so ordered to be paid, payment of the same may be enforced by such ways and means as are herein provided for enforcing a judgment recovered in the said Court.

LXXXVII. Every Clerk, Bailiff, or other officer employed in putting this Act or any of the powers thereof in execution, who shall wilfully and corruptly exact, take, or accept any fee or reward whatsoever, other than his lawful salary and the fees and costs allowed under this Act, for any thing done or to be done by virtue of this Act, or on any account whatsoever relative to putting this Act into execution, shall, upon proof thereof before the said Court, and in the case of a Clerk on confirmation of the finding of the Court by the Governor in Council, be for ever incapable of serving, or being employed under this Act in any office of profit or emolument, and shall also be liable for damages as herein provided.

LXXXVIII. If any claim shall be made to, or in respect of, any Goods or Chattels taken in execution under the process of any Court holden under this Act, or in respect of the proceeds or value thereof, by any Landlord for rent, or by any person not being the party against whom such process has issued, the Clerk of the Court, upon application of the officer charged with the execution of such process, as well before as after any action brought against such officer, may issue a Summons calling before the said Court, as well the party issuing such process as the party making such claim, and thereupon any action which shall have been brought in the Supreme Court in respect of such claim, shall be stayed, and any Judge of the Supreme Court on proof of the issue of such Summons, and that the Goods and Chattels were so taken in execution, may order the party bringing such action to pay the costs of all proceedings had upon such action after the issue of such Summons out of the Court of Requests, and the Judges of the Court of Requests shall adjudicate upon such claim and make such order between the parties in respect thereof, and of the costs of the proceedings as to him shall seem fit, and such order shall be enforced in like manner as any order made in any suit brought in such Court.

LXXXIX. The powers of Act Nor VIII. of 1847, to regulate distresses for small rents in Calcutta, shall be extended to the recovery of all arrears of rent not exceeding Five Hundred Rupees, and the Judges of every Court of Requests under this Act shall be empowered to exercise within their several jurisdictions the extended powers of the said Act; and the said Act shall be construed as if instead of Calcutta and the Settlement of Fort William in Bengal, the limits of the jurisdiction of the Court had been therein mentioned, and the Judges of the Courts of Requests under this Act instead of the Commissioners of the Court therein mentioned, and the amount of Five Hundred Rupees instead of One Hundred Rupees, and the forms contained in the Schedule annexed to the said Act shall be altered accordingly, and shall refer to this Act instead of Act No. VII. of 1847.

XC. As soon as the term and interest of the tenant of any House, Land, or other Corporeal hereditament, where the value of the premises or the rent payable in respect of such tenancy, did not exceed the rate of Five Hundred Rupees by the year, and upon which no fine shall have been paid, shall have ended, or shall have been duly determined by a legal notice to quit, and such tenant, or if such tenant do not actually occupy the premises or occupy only a part thereof, any person by whom the same or any part thereof shall be then actually occupied, shall neglect or refuse to quit and deliver up possession of the premises, or of such part thereof respectively, the Landlord or his agent may take out a Summons from the Court directed to such tenant or occupier.

XCI. If the tenant or occupier shall not thereupon appear at the time and place appointed, and show cause to the contrary, and shall still neglect or refuse to deliver up possession of the premises, or of such part thereof, of which he is then in possession, to the said Landlord or his agent, such Landlord or agent may give to the Court proof of the holding, and of the end or other determination of the tenancy with the time or manner thereof, and where the title of the Landlord has accrued since the letting of the premises, the right by which he claims the possession.

XCII. Upon proof of service of the Summons, and of the neglect or refusal of the tenant or occupier, as the case may be, the Judges may issue a Warrant under the Seal of the Court, to any Bailiff of the Court requiring and authorizing him within a period to be therein named not less than seven or more than ten clear days from the date of such warrant, to give possession of the premises to such Landlord or agent, and such Warrant shall be a sufficient Warrant to the said Bailiff to enter upon the premises with such assistants as he shall deem necessary, and to give possession accordingly: Provided always, that entry upon any such Warrant shall not be made on a Sunday, Good-Friday, or Christmas-day, or any other day observed by the Court as a Holiday, or at any time except between the hours of six in the morning and six in the afternoon: Provided also, that nothing herein contained shall be deemed to protect any person by whom any such Warrant shall be sued out of the Court of Requests, from any action which may be brought against him by any such tenant or occupier for such entry and taking possession, where such person had not, at the time of suing out the same as aforesaid, lawful right to the possession of the same premises.

XCIII. Such Summons as last aforesaid may be served either personally or by leaving the same with some person, being in and apparently residing at the place of abode of the person or persons so holding over as aforesaid; Provided that if the person or persons so holding over, or any or either of them cannot be found, and the place of abode of such person or persons shall either not be known, or admission thereto cannot be obtained for serving such Summons, the posting of the said Summons on some conspicuous part of the premises so held over, shall be deemed to be good service upon such person or persons respectively.

XCIV. No action or prosecution shall be maintainable against the Judges or against the Clerk of the Court, by whom such Warrant as aforesaid shall have been issued, or against any Bailiff or other person by whom such Warrant may be executed or Summons affixed, for issuing such Warrant, or executing the same respectively, or affixing such Summons, by reason that the person by whom the same shall be sued out had not lawful right to the possession of the premises.

XCV. Where the Landlord at the time of applying for such Warrant as aforesaid had lawful right to the possession of the premises, or of the part thereof so held over as aforesaid, neither the said Landlord nor his agent, nor any other person acting in his behalf, shall be deemed to be a trespasser, by reason merely of any irregularity or informality in the mode of proceeding for obtaining possession under the authority of this Act; but the party aggrieved may, if he think fit, bring an action on the case for such irregularity or informality, in which the damage alleged to be sustained thereby shall be specially laid, and may recover full satisfaction for such special damage with costs of suit: Provided that, if the special damage so laid be not proved, the defendant shall be entitled to a verdict, and that, if proved, but assessed at any sum not exceeding Ten Rupees, the plaintiff shall recover no more costs than damages, unless the Judge, before whom the trial shall have been holden, shall certify that in his opinion full costs ought to be allowed.

XCVI. In every case in which the person by whom any such Warrant shall be sued out of the Court of Requests, had not at the time of suing out the same lawful right to the possession of the premises, the suing out of any such Warrant as last aforesaid, shall be deemed a trespass by him against the tenant or occupier of the premises, although no entry shall be made by virtue of the Warrant; and in case any such tenant or occupier will become bound with two sufficient Sureties, to be approved by the Clerk of the Court, in such sums as to the Judges shall seem reasonable, regard being had to the value of the premises and to the probable cost of such action, to sue the person by whom such Warrant was sued out with effect and without delay, and to pay all the costs of the proceeding in such action, in case a verdict shall pass for the defendant, or the plaintiff shall discontinue or not prosecute his action, or become nonsuit therein, execution upon the Warrant shall be stayed until Judgment shall have been given in such action of trespass; and, if upon the trial of such action of trespass, a verdict shall pass for the plaintiff, such verdict and Judgment thereupon shall supersede the said Warrant.

XCVII. Every bond given on the removal of any action out of the Court of Requests or upon staying, delaying, or reversing any judgment or execution awarded therein, or the execution of any such Warrant of possession as aforesaid, or on moving for a new trial, or to set aside a verdict, judgment or nonsuit, shall be made to the other party to the action, and shall be approved by the Judges and attested under the seal of the Court; and if the bond so taken be forfeited, or if upon the proceeding for securing which such bond was given, the Judge before whom such proceeding shall be had shall not certify upon the record in Court, that the condition of the bond hath been fulfilled, the party to whom the bond shall have been so made may bring an action of debt and recover thereon: Provided always, that the Court in which such action as last aforesaid shall be brought may, by a rule of Court, give such relief to the parties liable upon such bond as may appear to him reasonable, and such rule shall have the nature and effect of a defeasance to such bond.

XCVIII. All actions and proceedings which before the passing of this Act might have been brought in the Supreme Court, where any Officer of the Court of Requests shall be a party, except in respect of any claim to any Goods and Chattels taken in execution of the process of the Court, or the proceeds or value thereof, may be brought and determined in the Supreme Court, at the election of the party suing or proceeding, as if this Act had not been passed.

XCIX. If any action shall be commenced after the passing of this Act in the Supreme Court, for any cause other than those lastly herein before specified, for which a Summons might have been taken out from a Court holden under this Act, and a verdict shall be found for the plaintiff for a sum less than Five Hundred Rupees, if the said action is founded on contract, or less than One Hundred Rupees, if it is founded on Tort, the plaintiff shall have Judgment to recover such sum only, and no costs; and if a verdict shall not be found for the plaintiff the defendant shall be entitled to his costs as between Attorney and Client, unless in either case the Judge who shall try the cause shall certify on the back of the record that the action was fit to be brought in the Supreme Court.

C. If any person shall bring any suit in the Supreme Court in respect of any grievance committed by the Clerk, Bailiff, or Officer of any Court holden under this Act, under colour or pretence of the process of the said Court, and upon the trial of the action, no greater damages shall be found for the Plaintiff than the sum of Five Hundred Rupees, no costs shall be awarded to the plaintiff in such action unless the Judge shall certify in Court upon the back of the Record, that the action was fit to be brought in the Supreme Court.

CI. All penalties, fines and forfeitures by this Act, inflicted or authorized to be imposed, (the manner of recovering and applying whereof is not hereby otherwise particularly directed), upon proof before any Magistrate having jurisdiction where the offender shall reside or be, or the offence shall be committed, either by the confession of the party offending, or by the oath or affirmation of any credible witness, shall be levied, with the costs attending the Summons and conviction, by distress and sale of the Goods and Chattels of the party offending, by Warrant under the hand of any such Magistrate, and the overplus (if any) after such penalties, fines and forfeitures, and the charges of such distress and sale are deducted, shall be returned, upon demand, unto the owner of such Goods and Chattels.

CII. If any such penalties, fines and forfeitures respectively, shall not be paid forthwith upon conviction, it shall be lawful for such Magistrate to order the offender so convicted to be detained in safe custody until return can conveniently be made to such Warrant of distress; unless such offender shall give sufficient security to the satisfaction of such Magistrate for his appearance before him on such day as shall be appointed for the return of such Warrant of distress, such day not being more than eight days from the time of taking any such security, which security the Magistrate shall be empowered to take by way of recognizance or otherwise, as to him shall seem fit.

CIII. If upon return of such Warrant it shall appear that no sufficient distress can be had thereupon, or in case it shall appear to the satisfaction of the Magistrate either by confession of the offender or otherwise that he hath not within the jurisdiction of such Magistrate sufficient Goods and Chattels, whereon to levy all such penalties, forfeitures, costs and charges; the Magistrate may, at his discretion, without issuing any Warrant of distress, commit the offender to the Common Gaol or House of Correction, for any time not exceeding three Calendar Months, unless such penalties, forfeitures and fines, and all reasonable charges attending the recovery thereof, shall be sooner paid and satisfied.

CIV. The Monies arising from any such penalties, forfeitures and fines as aforesaid when paid and levied, shall, (if not by this Act directed to be otherwise applied,) be from time to time paid to the Clerk of the Court, and shall be applied in like manner as the fees thereof.

CV. In all cases in which by this Act any penalty or forfeiture is made recoverable before a Magistrate, such Magistrate may summon before him the party complained against, and on such Summons may hear and determine the matter of such complaint; and, on proof of the offence, may convict the offender, and adjudge him to pay the penalty or forfeiture incurred, and proceed to recover the same, although no information in writing shall have been exhibited before him; and all such proceedings by Summons without information in Writing shall be as valid and effectual to all intents and purposes, as if an information in Writing had been exhibited.

CVI. In all cases where any conviction shall be had for any offence committed against this Act, the Form of conviction may be in the words or to the effect following: (that is to say,) "Be it "remembered that on this day of "in the year "A. B. is convicted before "a Magistrate "for the (or before a "Judge appointed under Act of 1849) of "having (state the offence;) and I (or we) the "said do adjudge the said "to forfeit and pay for the same "the sum of [or to be committed "to for the space of] given under "hand ( ) and seal ( ) "the day and year aforesaid."

CVII. No order, verdict, or Judgment or other proceeding, made concerning any of the matters aforesaid, shall be quashed or vacated for want of Form.

CVIII. Where any distress shall be made for any sum of Money to be levied by virtue of this Act, the distress itself shall not be deemed unlawful, nor the party making the same be deemed a trespasser, on account of any defect or want of form in the information, Summons, Conviction, Warrant of Distress, or other proceeding relating thereto, nor shall the party destraining be deemed a trespasser from the beginning, on account of any irregularity which shall afterwards be committed by the party so distraining, but the person aggrieved by such irregularity may recover full satisfaction for the special damage in an action upon the case.

CIX. All actions and prosecutions to be commenced against any person for any thing done in pursuance of this Act, shall be commenced within three Calendar Months after the fact committed, and not afterwards, and notice in Writing of such action, and of the cause thereof shall be given to the defendant one Calendar Month at least before the commencement of the action; and no plaintiff shall recover in any such action, if tender of sufficient amends shall have been made before such action is brought, or if after action brought, a sufficient sum of Money shall have been paid into Court, with costs by or on behalf of the defendant.

XXVI. Any Summons or other Process of any of the said Courts, service of which is needed out of the district of the Court may be exhibited in any Court of Law or before any Magistrate, and shall be thereupon endorsed by the Magistrate or Judge of such Court; and, when so endorsed, may be served in like manner as any order or Process from such Court or Magistrate; and such Service shall be as valid as if the same had been made by the Bailiff of the Court out of which such Summons or other Process shall have issued within the jurisdiction of the Court for which he acts.

XXVII. Service of any Summons or other Process of the Court, which shall require to be served out of the district of the Court, may be proved by Affidavit, or solemn affirmation, purporting to be sworn or made before any Judge or Magistrate; and, in every case of the unavoidable absence of the Bailiff by whom any Summons or other Process of the Court has been served, the Service of such Summons or other Process may be proved, if the Judges think fit, in the same manner as a Summons served out of the district of the Court.

XXVIII. Any minor may prosecute a suit in any Court holden under this Act for any sum of Money not greater than Five Hundred Rupees, which may be due to him for wages or piecework, or for work as a Servant, in the same manner as if he were of full age.

A plaintiff shall not be allowed to divide any cause of action, for the sake of bringing two or more suits in any of the said Courts; but any plaintiff, having cause of action for more than Five Hundred Rupees, may abandon the excess, which shall be stated in the summons, and thereupon the plaintiff shall, on proving his case, recover to an amount not exceeding Five Hundred Rupees; and the judgment of the Court shall be in full discharge of all demands in respect of such cause of action; and entry of the judgment shall be made accordingly.

XXXII. The Governor General, and Members of the Supreme Council of India, the Governors and Members of Council of the Presidencies of Fort William in Bengal, Fort St. George and Bombay respectively, and the Chief Justices and Judges of the several Supreme Courts established therein by Royal Charter, shall not be liable to arrest or imprisonment by Process issuing out of any Court holden under this Act.

XXXIII. Where any plaintiff shall have any demand recoverable under this Act against two or more persons jointly answerable, it shall be sufficient if any of such persons be served with Process, and judgment may be obtained and execution issued against the person or persons so served, notwithstanding that others, jointly liable, may not have been served or sued, or may not be within the jurisdiction of the Court; and every such person against whom judgment shall have been obtained under this Act, and who shall have satisfied such judgment, shall be entitled to demand and recover in the Court, holden under this Act, contribution from any other person jointly liable with him; and in all cases of misjoinder of defendants, the Judges may order the suit to proceed against such of the defendants only against whom cause of action appears, and may give judgment against them only; giving also judgment for costs for the defendants improperly joined.

XXXIV. The Judges of the Court shall determine all questions as well of fact as of Law, in all cases which they have authority to try.

XXXV. On the day in that behalf named in the Summons, the plaintiff shall appear, and thereupon the defendant shall be required to appear to answer; and on answer being made in Court, the Judges shall proceed in a summary way to try the cause, and give Judgment, without further pleading or formal joinder of issue.

XXXVI. The Judges may, in any case, with the consent of both parties to the suit, order the same, with or without other matters within the jurisdiction of the Court in dispute between such parties, to be referred to arbitration, to such person or persons, and in such manner, and on such terms as they shall think reasonable and just; and such reference shall not be revocable by either party, except by consent of the Judges; and the award of the arbitrator or arbitrators or umpire shall be entered as the Judgment in the cause, and shall be as binding and effectual to all intents as if given by the Judges; provided that the Judges may, if they think fit, on application to to them at the first Court held after the expiration of one week, after the entry of such award, set aside any such award, or may, with the consent of both parties revoke the reference, or order another reference to be made in the manner aforesaid.

XXXVII. The Judges of each Court holden under this Act, subject to the approval of the judges of the Supreme Court, shall have power to make and issue all the general rules for regulating the practice and proceedings of the Court, and also to frame forms for every proceeding in the Court for which they shall think it necessary that a form be provided, and also for keeping all books, entries, and accounts to be kept by the Clerk of the Court, and from time to time to alter any such rule or form; and the rules so made and the forms so framed, shall be observed and used in the Court of that Presidency, and shall be sent to the Supreme Court for approval, but shall be of force until disapproved; and in any case, not expressly provided for herein, or by the said rules, the general principles of practice in the Supreme Court may be adopted and applied at the discretion of the Judges, to actions and proceedings in their Court.

XXXVIII. If upon the day of the return of any Summons, or at any continuation or adjournment of the said Court, or of the cause for which the said Summons shall have been issued, the plaintiff shall not appear, the cause shall be struck out; and if he shall appear, but shall not make proof of his demand to the satisfaction of the Court, the Judges may nonsuit the plaintiff or give judgment for the defendant; and, in either case, where the defendant shall appear and shall not admit the demand, may award to the defendent, by way of costs and satisfaction for his trouble and attendance, such sum as they, in their discretion, shall think fit; and such sum shall be recoverable from the plaintiff by such ways and means as any debt or damage ordered to be paid by the same Court can be recovered: provided always that if the plaintiff shall not appear when called upon, and the defendant, or some one duly authorized on his behalf, shall appear, and admit the cause of action to the full amount claimed, and pay the fees payable in the first instance by the plaintiff, the Court, if it shall think fit, may proceed to give Judgment, as if the plaintiff had appeared.

XXXIX. If on the day so named in the Summons, or at any continuation or adjournment of the Court, or cause in which the Summons was issued, the defendant shall not appear or sufficiently excuse his absence, or shall neglect to answer when called in Court, the Judges, upon due proof of service of the Summons, may issue a writ of attachment to compel the appearance of the defendant; or in their discretion may proceed to the hearing or trial of the cause on the part of the plaintiff only, and the judgment thereupon shall be as valid is if both parties had attended; provided always, that the Judges in any such case, at the same or any subsequent Court, may set aside any judgment so given in the absence of the defendant, and the execution thereupon; and may grant new trial of the cause, upon such terms, as to payment of costs, giving security for debt or costs, or otherwise, as they think fit, on sufficient cause shown to them for that purpose.

XL. The Judges may in any case make orders for granting time to the plaintiff or defendant to proceed in the prosecution or defence of the suit, and also may, from time to time, adjourn any Court, or the hearing or further hearing of any cause, in such manner as to them may seem fit.

XLI. The defendant in any action brought under this Act, for the recovery of money, whether for debt or damages, within such time as shall be directed by the rules for regulating the practice of the Court, may pay into Court such sum of money as he shall think a full satisfaction for the demand of the plaintiff, with the costs incurred by the plaintiff up to the time of such payment; and the said sum of money shall be paid to the plaintiff; but, if he shall elect to proceed, and if the plaintiff shall recover no further sum in the action than shall have been so paid into Court, the plaintiff shall pay to the defendant the costs incurred by him in the said action after such payment; and such costs shall be settled by the Court, and an order shall thereupon be made by the Court for the payment of such costs by the plaintiff.

XLII. On the hearing or trial of any action or any other proceeding under this Act the parties thereto, their wives, and all other persons, may be examined, either on behalf of the plaintiff or defendant, subject nevertheless to the Acts and Regulations in force with respect to the examination of women of a rank and situation in life, which, according to the customs of the Country, would render it improper to compel them to appear in a Court of Justice.

XLIII. Every person who, in any examination upon oath or solemn affirmation under this Act, shall wilfully and corruptly give false evidence shall be deemed guilty of perjury.

XLIV. Either of the parties to the suit or any other proceeding under this Act may obtain, at the office of the Clerk of the Court, Summonses to witnesses, with or without a Clause requiring the production of Books, Deeds, Papers and Writings in their possession or control, and in any such Summons any number of names may be inserted.

XLV. Every person on whom any such Summons shall have been served, either personally or in such other manner as shall be directed by the general Rules or practice of the Court, and who shall refuse or neglect, without sufficient cause, to appear, or to produce any Books, Papers, or Writings required by such Summons to be produced, and also every person present in Court who shall be required to give evidence, and who shall refuse to be sworn and give evidence, shall forfeit and pay such fine, not exceeding One Hundred Rupees, as the Judges shall set on him; and the whole or any part of such fine, in the discretion of the Judges, after deducting the costs, may be applied towards indemnifying the party injured by such refusal or neglect.

XLVI. The Judges of any Court established under this Act, in all suits where the debt or demand exceeds the sum of Thirty Rupees, upon proof before them, that any defendant against whom a Summons has been taken out, conceals himself from or otherwise evades process of the Court, or is disposing of his property and effects with intent to defraud the plaintiff, or his creditors generally, or is about to withdraw his person or effects from the jurisdiction of the Court, may issue a Warrant for the apprehension of such person, and may commit him to Gaol until he shall find security for his appearance in the said Court from time to time, until judgment shall be pronounced in the suit commenced by such Summons, and for payment of the amount and the costs which may be decreed against him therein.

XLVII. Payment of any fine imposed by any Court under the authority of this Act may be enforced upon the order of the Judges, in like manner as payment of any debt adjudged in the said Court, and shall be accounted for as herein provided.

XLVIII. All the costs of any action or proceeding in the Court, not herein otherwise provided for, shall be paid by or apportioned between the parties, in such manner as the Judges shall think fit; and, in default of any special direction, shall abide the event of the action; and execution may issue for the recovery of any such costs, in like manner as for any debt adjudged in the said Court.

XLIX. Every order and judgment of any Court holden under this Act, except as herein provided, shall be final and conclusive between the parties; but the Judges shall have power to nonsuit the plaintiff, in every case in which satisfactory proof shall not be given to them, entitling either the plaintiff or defendant to the Judgment of the Court; and shall also in every case whatever have the power, if they shall think fit, to order a new trial to be had, upon such terms as they shall think reasonable, and in the meantime to stay the proceedings.

L. No cause commenced in any Court holden under this Act shall be removed from the said Court into the Supreme Court by any Writ or Process, unless the debt or damage claimed exceeds One Hundred Rupees, and then only by leave of a Judge of the said Supreme Court on proof to his satisfaction that some question of law is likely to arise therein, which, by reason either of its difficulty, novelty or general importance, or of some erroneous course of decision on the same point in the Court of Requests may appear to him fit to be tried in the Supreme Court, and upon such terms as to payment of costs, giving security for debt or costs, or otherwise, as he shall think fit.

LI. The Judges of the Court of Requests may, in their discretion, reserve any question of law on which they entertain doubts, or which they shall be requested by either party to the suit to reserve, for the opinion of the Judges of the Supreme Court, and may give judgment contingent upon the opinion of the said Supreme Court on a case which they shall thereupon be entitled to state to the said Court.

LII. No person shall be entitled to appear for any other party to any proceeding in any of the said Courts, unless he be an Attorney of the Supreme Court, or an Advocate of the Supreme Court instructed by such Attorney on behalf of the party; or, by leave of the Judges, any other person allowed by the Judges to appear instead of such party; but no Advocate, Attorney, or other person, except by leave of the Judges, shall be entitled to be heard to argue any question as counsel for any other person, in any proceeding in any Court holden under this Act.

LIII. The Judges may make orders concerning the time or times, and by what instalments, any debt or damages or costs for which Judgment shall be obtained in the said Court shall be paid; and all such Monies shall be paid into Court, unless the Judges shall otherwise order.

LIV. If there be cross Judgments between the Parties, execution shall be taken out by that Party only who shall have obtained Judgment for the larger sum, and for so much only as shall remain after deducting the smaller sum; and satisfaction for the remainder shall be entered, as well as satisfaction on the Judgment for the smaller sum; and if both sums shall be equal, satisfaction shall be entered upon both Judgments.

LV. Whenever the Court shall have made an order for the payment of Money, the amount shall be recoverable, in case of default or failure of payment thereof forthwith, or at the time or times and in the manner directed, by execution against the body or the Goods and Chattels of the person against whom such order is made without further notice or order; and the Clerk of the said Court, at the request of the person prosecuting such order, shall issue under the seal of the Court a Writ of Execution to one of the Bailiffs of the Court, which shall be his warrant to take the body of such person in execution, or to levy, or cause to be levied, by Distress and sale of the Goods and Chattels of such person such sum of Money as shall be so ordered, wheresoever they may be found within the district of the Court, and also the costs of the execution; and all Constables and other Peace Officers within their several Jurisdictions shall aid in the execution of every such Writ.

LVI. If the Court shall have made any order for payment of any sum of Money by instalments, execution upon such order shall not issue until after default in payment of some instalment according to such order; and execution or successive executions may then issue without further notice or order for the whole of the said sum of Money and costs then remaining unpaid, or for such portion thereof as the Court shall order, either at the time of making the original order, or at any subsequent time, under the seal of the Court.

LVII. Whenever any warrant shall issue for taking in execution the body of any person under this Act, the Bailiffs of the Court shall be empowered, by virtue thereof, to take and convey him to any prison, appointed by the Governor in Council to be the prison of the Court, there to remain for such term as shall be directed by the warrant, not longer than six Calendar months or until he shall sooner perform the order of the Court.

LVIII. No person shall be imprisoned twice under the same judgment, nor shall execution against the body and goods issue at the same time under the same judgment.

LIX. Every person suing out a warrant of execution against the body of any other person under this Act shall deposit with the Clerk of the Court, at the time of the issue of the warrant, diet money for one week, after the rate of one anna and a half for each day, which shall be paid by the Clerk to the keeper of the prison at the time of the execution of the warrant.

LX. Notice of the execution of every such warrant shall be forthwith given to the person at whose suit it issued, who shall thereupon deposit with the keeper of the prison, diet money for the remainder of the month in which the warrant is executed, after the same daily rate, and shall continue thereafter to deposit monthly with the said keeper, in advance, diet money at the same daily rate, for each month which the debtor is liable to be kept in prison at his suit.

LXI. The diet money shall be employed for the subsistence of the prisoner; and if, by default of the detaining creditor, such diet money is not paid, the prisoner shall be entitled to his discharge by order of the Court.

LXII. All diet money, which shall be spent in providing subsistence for any prisoner, shall be costs in the cause, and all diet money, which shall not be so spent, shall be repaid to the creditor advancing the same.

LXIII. Whenever any prisoner shall offer good and reasonable security for payment of any debt or damage and costs, either in full or by instalments as the Court shall think reasonable, the Court may order him to be discharged on giving such security.

LXIV. Upon payment of the debt or damage and costs in full, the prisoner shall be entitled to be forthwith discharged.

LXV. If the debt or damage and costs are not paid, the imprisonment shall not extinguish the liability to pay the same; but all property then belonging to or afterwards acquired by the prisoner shall be liable to be taken in execution after his discharge from prison for satisfaction thereof, or of so much thereof as is not paid, including the diet money actually expended for subsistence of the prisoner.

LXVI. Every Bailiff executing any process of execution issuing out of the said Court against the Goods of any person, may, by virtue thereof, seize and take any of the Goods of such person, (excepting the necessary wearing apparel and bedding of such person or his family, and the tools and implements of his trade,) and may also seize and take any Money or Bank Notes, and any Cheques, Bills of Exchange, Promissory Notes, Bonds, Specialties or Securities for Money belonging to any such person against whom any execution shall have issued as aforesaid.

LXVII. The Bailiff shall forthwith deliver any Cheques, Bills of Exchange, Promissory Notes, Bonds, Specialties, or other Securities for Money, which shall have been so seized or taken as aforesaid, to the Clerk or other person appointed by the Judges to receive the same, who shall hold them as a Security or Securities for the amount directed to be levied by such execution, or so much thereof as shall not have been otherwise levied or raised for the benefit of the plaintiff; and the plaintiff may sue in the name of the defendant, or in the name of any person in whose name the defendant might have sued, for the recovery of the sum or sums secured, or made payable thereby, when the time of payment thereof shall have arrived.

LXVIII. If it shall, at any time, appear to the satisfaction of the Court that any defendant is unable, from sickness or other sufficient cause, to pay and discharge the debt or damages recovered against him, or any instalment thereof ordered to be paid as aforesaid, the Judges in their discretion may suspend or stay any Judgment, order or execution given, made or issued in such action, for such time and on such terms as they shall think fit, and so, from time to time, until it shall appear by the like proof as aforesaid that such temporary cause of disability has ceased.

LXIX. No sale of any Goods, which shall be taken in execution as aforesaid shall be made, until after the end of five days at least next following the day on which such Goods have been so taken, unless such Goods be of a perishable nature, or upon the request, in writing, of the party whose Goods have been taken.

LXX. Until such sale the Goods shall be deposited by the Bailiff by whom they were taken in some fit place, or they may remain in the custody of a fit person approved by the Judges to be put in possession by the Bailiff.

LXXI. The Judges, from time to time, as they shall think proper, may appoint such and so many persons for keeping possession, and so many of their Bailiffs or other fit persons to be sworn brokers and appraisers for the purpose of selling or valuing any Goods, Chattels or Effects taken in execution under this Act, as shall appear to them to be necessary, and may direct security to be taken from each of them, for such sum and in such manner as they shall think fit, for the faithful performance of their duties, without injury or oppression; and the Judges may dismiss any person, broker or appraiser so appointed.

LXXII. No Goods taken in execution under this Act shall be sold for the purpose of satisfying the Warrant of Execution; except by one of the brokers or appraisers so appointed.

LXIII. The costs to be demanded or taken for such appraisement and sale shall be one anna in the rupee on the produce of the Goods sold; and the Judges may apply the sum so raised as costs towards payment of the contingent charges and remuneration of the said brokers and appraisers, in such manner as shall be approved by the Governor in Council.

LXXIV. The Clerk of the Court shall keep an account of all sums received upon such sales, distinguishing the amount paid to the party entitled to the benefit of the execution, and the amount levied and retained as costs, and also of all sums allowed to the brokers and appraisers upon such sales.

LXXV. The Landlord of any tenement in which any Goods shall be so taken may, by any Writing under his hand or under the hand of his Agent, to be delivered to the Bailiff making the levy, (which writing shall state the terms of holding, and the rent payable for the same) claim any rent in arrear then due to him, not exceeding the rent of four weeks where the tenement is let by the week, and not exceeding the rent accruing due in two terms of payment, where the tenement is let for any other term less than a year, and not exceeding in any case the rent accruing due in one year.

LXXVI. If any such claim of rent in arrear is made, the Bailiff making the levy shall distrain as well for the amount of the rent so claimed, and the costs of such additional distress, as for the amount of Money and costs for which the Warrant of Execution issued under this Act, and shall not proceed to sell the same or any part thereof within five days next after such distress is taken.

LXXVII. If any replevin be made of the Goods so taken, such of the Goods shall be sold under the execution as shall satisfy the Money and costs for which the Warrant of Execution is issued and the Costs of the sale; and the overplus of such sale (if any,) and also the residue of the Goods, shall be returned as in other cases of distress for rent, and replevin thereof, and for every such additional distress for rent in arrear, there shall be charged and taken the Fees allowed by Act VII. 1847, where the rent does not exceed One Hundred Rupees, and if the rent exceeds One Hundred Rupees, then after the rate of Three Rupees in the Hundred for the Affidavit and Warrant to distrain, Three Rupees in the Hundred for the order to sell, and Seven Rupees in the Hundred for Commission.

LXXVIII. Whenever any defendant against whom judgment shall have been given in the Court of Requests, shall go before execution thereof out of the jurisdiction of the Court, the Judge of any Zillah or town where he shall be found, upon receiving from the plaintiff either in person or by vakeel, an application in writing setting forth these facts, with a duly authenticated copy of the judgment of the Court, shall execute the said judgment in the manner prescribed by law for execution of his own decrees; unless the defendant shall allege any reasonable cause, why the judgment should not be executed, and shall give security to such amount as the Judge of such Zillah or town shall deem reasonable, that he will, within such time as shall be allowed him for that purpose, either satisfy the judgment, or produce a duly authenticated copy of an order of the Judges of the Court of Requests, discharging their former judgment.

LXXIX. No Judgment or execution shall be stayed, delayed or reversed upon or by any writ of error or supersede as thereon, to be sued for the reversing of any Judgment given in any Court holden under the provisions of this Act, unless the amount recovered exceeds One Hundred Rupees, and then only after the person suing out such writ shall become bound with two sufficient sureties to be approved by the Clerk of the Court, in treble the sum adjudged to be recovered in the former judgment, to prosecute the said writ with effect, and also to satisfy and pay, (if the writ be not prosecuted, or if the judgment be affirmed), the debt or damages and costs adjudged, and all costs and damages to be awarded for the delay of execution.

LXXX. Upon every Warrant of Execution issued against the Goods and Chattels of any person, the Clerk of the Court shall cause to be stated the sum of Money and costs adjudged with the sum paid for such Warrant; and if the Party against whom such execution shall be issued shall, before an actual sale of the Goods and Chattels, pay or cause to be paid or tendered unto the Clerk of the Court, or to the Bailiff holding the Warrant of Execution such sum of Money and costs, as aforesaid, or such part thereof as the person entitled thereto shall agree to accept in full of his debt or damages and costs, together with the Fees herein directed to be paid, the execution shall be superseded, and the Goods and Chattels of the said party shall be discharged and set at liberty.

LXXXI. The Clerk of every Court holden under this Act shall cause a note of all Summonses, and of all orders, and of all Judgments and executions, and returns thereto, and of all Fines, and of all other proceedings of the Court, to be fairly entered from time to time in a Book belonging to the Court, which shall be kept at the office of the Court; and such entries in the said Book, or a Copy thereof bearing the seal of the Court, and purporting to be signed and certified as a true Copy by the Clerk of the Court, shall, at all times, be admitted in all Courts and places whatsoever as evidence of such entries, and of the proceeding referred to by such entry or entries, and of the regularity of such proceeding, without any further proof.

LXXXII. The Clerk of every such Court shall, in the month of March in each year, make out a correct list of all sums of Money belonging to Suitors in the Court, which shall have been paid into Court, and which shall have remained unclaimed for five years before the first day of the month of January then last past, specifying the names of the parties for whom or on whose account the same were so paid into Court; and a Copy of such List shall be put up and remain during Court hours in some conspicuous part of the Court House, and at all times in the Clerk's office; and all sums of Money which shall have been paid into any such Court, to the use of any Suitor or Suitors thereof, and which shall have remained unclaimed for the period of six years before the passing of this Act, and which are now in the hands of any Commissioner or Officer of such Court, or otherwise held in trust for such Suitors, and all further sums of Money, which shall hereafter be paid into such Court to the use of any Suitor or Suitors thereof, shall, if unclaimed for the period of six years after the same shall have been so paid into Court, be applicable as part of the fees receivable on account of the Court, and shall be carried to the same account; and no person shall be entitled to claim any sum which shall have remained unclaimed for six years; but no time during which the person entitled to claim such sum shall have been an infant or married woman or of unsound mind, or out of the Territories under the Government of the East India Company, shall be taken into account in estimating the said period of six years.

LXXXIII. If any person shall wilfully insult any Judge, Clerk or Officer of the said Court, for the time being, during his sitting or attendance in Court, or in going to or returning from the Court, or shall wilfully interrupt the proceedings of the Court, or otherwise misbehave in Court, it shall be lawful for any Bailiff or Officer of the Court, with or without the assistance of any other person, by the order of the Judges to take such offender into custody, and detain him until the rising of the Court; and the Judges shall be empowered, if they shall think fit, by a Warrant under their hands, and sealed with the seal of the Court, to commit any such offender to any Prison to which they have power to commit offenders under this Act, for any time not exceeding seven days, or to impose upon any such offender a Fine not exceeding Fifty Rupees for every such offence, and in default of payment thereof to commit the offender to any such Prison as aforesaid, for any time not exceeding seven days, unless the said Fine be sooner paid.

LXXXIV. If any Officer or Bailiff of any Court holden under this Act shall be assaulted while in the execution of his duty, or if any rescue shall be made or attempted to be made of any person arrested, or Goods levied under process of the Court, the person so offending shall be liable to a Fine not exceeding One Hundred Rupees to be recovered by order of the Court, or before a Magistrate as hereinafter provided; and the Bailiff of the Court, or any Peace Officer in any such case may take the offender into custody, (with or without Warrant,) and bring him before such Court, or Magistrate accordingly.

LXXXV. If any Bailiff of the said Court, who shall be employed to execute any Warrant of the Court, shall, by neglect, or connivance or omission, lose an opportunity of executing such Warrant, then upon complaint of the party aggrieved by reason of such neglect, connivance or omission, (and the fact alleged being proved to the satisfaction of the Court,) the Judges shall order the Bailiff to pay such damages as it shall appear that the plaintiff has sustained thereby, not exceeding in any case the sum of Money for which the said execution is issued, and the Bailiff shall be liable thereto; and upon demand made thereof, and on his refusal so to pay and satisfy the same, payment thereof shall be enforced by such ways and means as are herein provided for enforcing a judgment recovered in the said Court.

LXXXVI. If any Clerk, Bailiff or Officer of the Court, acting under colour or pretence of the process of the said Court, shall be charged with extortion or misconduct, or with not duly paying or accounting for any Money levied by him under the authority of this Act, the Judges may inquire into such matter in a summary way, and for that purpose may summon and enforce the attendance of all necessary parties in like manner as the attendance of witnesses in any case may be enforced, and may make such order thereupon for the repayment of any money extorted, or for the due payment of any money so levied as aforesaid, and for the payment of such damages and costs, as they shall think just; and also, if they shall think fit, may impose such fine upon the Clerk, Bailiff or Officer not exceeding One Hundred Rupees for each offence, as they shall deem adequate; and in default of payment of any money so ordered to be paid, payment of the same may be enforced by such ways and means as are herein provided for enforcing a judgment recovered in the said Court.

LXXXVII. Every Clerk, Bailiff, or other officer employed in putting this Act or any of the powers thereof in execution, who shall wilfully and corruptly exact, take, or accept any fee or reward whatsoever, other than his lawful salary and the fees and costs allowed under this Act, for any thing done or to be done by virtue of this Act, or on any account whatsoever, relative to putting this Act into execution, shall, upon proof thereof before the said Court, and in the case of a Clerk on confirmation of the finding of the Court by the Governor in Council, be for ever incapable of serving, or being employed under this Act in any office of profit or emolument, and shall also be liable for damages as herein provided.

LXXXVIII. If any claim shall be made to, or in respect of, any Goods or Chattels taken in execution under the process of any Court holden under this Act, or in respect of the proceeds or value therof, by any Landlord for rent, or by any person not being the party against whom such process has issued, the Clerk of the Court, upon application of the officer charged with the execution of such process, as well before as after any action brought against such officer, may issue a Summons calling before the said Court, as well the party issuing such process as the party making such claim, and thereupon any action which shall have been brought in the Supreme Court in respect of such claim, shall be stayed, and any Judge of the Supreme Court on proof of the issue of such Summons, and that the Goods and Chattels were so taken in execution, may order the party bringing such action to pay the costs of all proceedings, had upon such action after the issue of such Summons out of the Court of Requests, and the Judges of the Court of Requests shall adjudicate upon such claim and make such order between the parties in respect thereof, and of the costs of the proceedings as to him shall seem fit, and such order shall be enforced in like manner as any order made in any suit brought in such Court.

LXXXIX. The powers of Act No. VII. of 1847, to regulate distresses for small rents in Calcutta, shall be extended to the recovery of all arrears of rent not exceeding Five Hundred Rupees, and the Judges of every Court of Requests under this Act shall be empowered to exercise within their several jurisdictions the extended powers of the said Act; and the said Act shall be construed as if instead of Calcutta and the Settlement of Fort William in Bengal, the limits of the jurisdiction of the Court had been therein mentioned, and the Judges of the Court of Requests under this Act instead of the Commissioners of the Court therein mentioned, and the amount of Five Hundred Rupees instead of One Hundred Rupees, and the forms contained in the Schedule annexed to the said Act shall be altered accordingly, and shall refer to this Act instead of Act No. VII. of 1847.

XC. As soon as the term and interest of the tenant of any House, Land, or other corporeal hereditament, where the value of the premises or the rent payable in respect of such tenancy, did not exceed the rate of Five Hundred Rupees by the year, and upon which no fine shall have been paid, shall have ended, or shall have been duly determined by a legal notice to quit, and such tenant, or, if such tenant do not actually occupy the premises or occupy only a part thereof, any person by whom the same or any part thereof shall be then actually occupied, shall neglect or refuse to quit and deliver up possession of the premises, or of such part thereof respectively, the Landlord or his agent may take out a Summons from the Court directed to such tenant or occupier.

XCI. If the tenant or occupier shall not thereupon appear at the time and place appointed, and show cause to the contrary, and shall still neglect or refuse to deliver up possession of the premises, or of such part thereof, of which he is then in possession, to the said Landlord or his agent, such Landlord or agent may give to the Court proof of the holding, and of the end or other determination of the tenancy with the time or manner thereof, and where the title of the Landlord has accrued since the letting of the premises, the right by which he claims the possession.

XCII. Upon proof of service of the Summons, and of the neglect or refusal of the tenant or occupier, as the case may be, the Judges may issue a Warrant under the Seal of the Court, to any Bailiff of the Court requiring and authorizing him within a period to be therein named not less than seven or more than ten clear days from the date of such warrant, to give possession of the premises to such Landlord or agent, and such Warrant shall be a sufficient Warrant to the said Bailiff to enter upon the premises with such assistants as he shall deem necessary, and to give possession accordingly: Provided always, that entry upon any such Warrant shall not be made on a Sunday, Good-Friday, or Christmas-day, or any other day observed by the Court as a Holiday, or at any time except between the hours of six in the morning and six in the afternoon: Provided also, that nothing herein contained shall be deemed to protect any person by whom any such Warrant shall be sued out of the Court of Requests, from any action which may be brought against him by any such tenant or occupier for such entry and taking possession, where such person had not, at the time of suing out the same as aforesaid, lawful right to the possession of the same premises.

XCIII. Such Summons as last aforesaid may be served either personally or by leaving the same with some person, being in and apparently residing at the place of abode of the person or persons so holding over as aforesaid; Provided that if the person or persons so holding over, or any or either of them cannot be found, and the place of abode of such person or persons shall either not be known, or admission thereto cannot be obtained for serving such Summons, the posting of the said Summons on some conspicuous part of the premises so held over, shall be deemed to be good service upon such person or persons respectively.

XCIV. No action or prosecution shall be maintainable against the Judges or against the Clerk of the Court, by whom such Warrant as aforesaid shall have been issued, or against any Bailiff or other person by whom such Warrant may be executed or Summons affixed, for issuing such Warrant, or executing the same respectively, or affixing such Summons, by reason that the person by whom the same shall be sued out had not lawful right to the possession of the premises.

XCV. Where the Landlord at the time of applying for such Warrant as aforesaid had lawful right to the possession of the premises, or of the part thereof so held over as aforesiad, neither the said Landlord nor his agent, nor any other person acting in his behalf, shall be deemed to be a trespasser, by reason merely of any irregularity or informality in the mode of proceeding for obtaining possession under the authority of this Act; but the party aggrieved may, if he think fit, bring an action on the case for such irregularity or informality, in which the damage alleged to be sustained thereby shall be specially laid, and may recover full satisfaction for such special damage with costs of suit: Provided that, if the special damage so laid be not proved, the defendant shall be entitled to a verdict, and that, if proved, but assessed at any sum not exceeding Ten Rupees, the plaintiff shall recover no more costs than damages, unless the Judge, before whom the trial shall have been holden, shall certify that in his opinon full costs ought to be allowed.

XCVI. In every case in which the person by whom any such Warrant shall be sued out of the Court of Requests, had not at the time of suing out the same lawful right to the possession of the premises, the suing out of any such Warrant as last aforesaid, shall be deemed a trespass by him against the tenant or occupier of the premises, although no entry shall be made by virtue of the Warrant; and in case any such tenant or occupier will become bound with two sufficient Sureties, to be approved by the Clerk of the Court, in such sum as to the Judges shall seem reasonable, regard being had to the value of the premises and to the probable cost of such action, to sue the person by whom such Warrant was sued out with effect and without delay, and to pay all the costs of the proceeding in such action, in case a verdict shall pass for the defendant, or the plaintiff shall discontinue or not prosecute his action, or become nonsuit therein, execution upon the Warrant shall be stayed until Judgment shall have been given in such action of trespass; and, if upon the trial of such action of trespass, a verdict shall pass for the plaintiff, such verdict and Judgment thereupon shall supersede the said Warrant.

XCVII. Every bond given on the removal of any action out of the Court of Requests or upon staying, delaying, or reversing any judgment or execution awarded therein, or the execution of any such Warrant of possession as aforesaid, or on moving for a new trial, or to set aside a verdict, judgment or nonsuit, shall be made to the other party to the action, and shall be approved by the Judges and attested under the seal of the Court; and if the bond so taken be forfeited, or if upon the proceeding for securing which such bond was given, the Judge before whom such proceeding shall be had shall not certify upon the record in Court, that the condition of the bond hath been fulfilled, the party to whom the bond shall have been so made may bring an action of debt and recover thereon: Provided always, that the Court in which such action as last aforesaid shall be brought may, by a rule of Court, give such relief to the parties liable upon such bond as may appear to him reasonable, and such rule shall have the nature and effect of a defeasance to such bond.

XCVIII. All actions and proceedings which before the passing of this Act might have been brought in the Supreme Court, where any Officer of the Court of Requests shall be a party, except in respect of any claim to any Goods and Chattels taken in execution of the process of the Court, or the proceeds or value thereof, may be brought and determined in the Supreme Court, at the election of the party suing or proceeding, as if this Act had not been passed.

XCIX. If any action shall be commenced after the passing of this Act in the Supreme Court, for any cause other than those lastly herein before specified, for which a Summons might have been taken out from a Court holden under this Act, and a verdict shall be found for the plaintiff for a sum less than Five Hundred Rupees, if the said action is founded on contract, or less than One Hundred Rupees, if it is founded on Tort, the plaintiff shall have Judgment to recover such sum only, and no costs; and if a verdict shall not be found for the plaintiff the defendant shall be entitled to his costs as between Attorney and Client, unless in either case the Judge who shall try the cause shall certify on the back of the record that the action was fit to be brought in the Supreme Court

C. If any person shall bring any suit in the Supreme Court in respect of any grievance committed by the Clerk, Bailiff, or Officer of any Court holden under this Act, under colour or pretence of the process of the said Court, and upon the trial of the action, no greater damages shall be found for the Plaintiff than the sum of Five Hundred Rupees, no costs shall be awarded to the plaintiff in such action unless the Judge shall certify in Court upon the back of the Record, that the action was fit to be brought in the Supreme Court.

CI. All penalties, fines and forfeitures by this Act, inflicted or authorized to be imposed, (the manner of recovering and applying whereof is not hereby otherwise particularly directed), upon proof before any Magistrate having jurisdiction where the offender shall reside or be, or the offence shall be committed, either by the confession of the party offending, or by the oath or affirmation of any credible witness, shall be levied, with the costs attending the Summons and conviction, by distress and sale of the Goods and Chattels of the party offending, by Warrant under the hand of any such Magistrate, and the overplus (if any) after such penalties, fines and forfeitures, and the charges of such distress and sale are deducted, shall be returned, upon demand, unto the owner of such Goods and Chattels.

CII. If any such penalties, fines and forfeitures respectively, shall not be paid forthwith upon conviction, it shall be lawful for such Magistrate to order the offender so convicted to be detained in safe custody until return can conveniently be made to such Warrant of distress; unless such offender shall give sufficient security to the satisfaction of such Magistrate for his appearance before him on such day as shall be appointed for the return of such Warrant of distress, such day not being more than eight days from the time of taking any such security, which security the Magistrate shall be empowered to take by way of recognizance or otherwise, as to him shall seem fit.

CIII. If upon return of such Warrant it shall appear that no sufficient distress can be had thereupon, or in case it shall appear to the satisfaction of the Magistrate either by confession of the offender or otherwise that he hath not within the jurisdiction of such Magistrate sufficient Goods and Chattels, whereon to levy all such penalties, forfeitures, costs and charges, the Magisrate may, at his discretion, without issuing any Warrant of distress, commit the offender to the Common Gaol or House of Correction, for any time not exceeding three Calendar Months, unless such penalties, forfeitures and fines, and all reasonable charges attending the recovery thereof, shall be sooner paid and satisfied.

CIV. The Monies arising from any such penalties, forfeitures and fines as aforesaid when paid and levied, shall, (if not by this Act directed to be otherwise applied,) be from time to time paid to the Clerk of the Court, and shall be applied in like manner as the fees thereof.

CV. In all cases in which by this Act any penalty or forfeiture is made recoverable before a Magistrate, such Magistrate may summon before him the party complained against, and on such Summons may hear and determine the matter of such complaint; and, on proof of the offence, may convict the offender, and adjudge him to pay the penalty or forfeiture incurred, and proceed to recover the same, although no information in writing shall have been exhibited before him; and all such proceedings by Summons without information in Writing shall be as valid and effectual to all intents and purposes, as if an information in Writing had been exhibited.

CVI. In all cases where any conviction shall be had for any offence committed against this Act, the Form of conviction may be in the words or to the effect following: (that is to say,) "Be it "remembered that on this day of "in the year "A. B. is convicted before "a Magistrate "for the (or before a "Judge appointed under Act of 1849) of "having (state the offence,) and I (or we) the "said do adjudge the said "to forfeit and pay for the same "the sum of [or to be committed "to for the space of] given under "hand ( ) and seal ( ) "the day and year aforesaid."

CVII. No order, verdict, or Judgment or other proceeding, made concerning any of the matters aforesaid, shall be quashed or vacated for want of Form.

CVIII. Where any distress shall be made for any sum of Money to be levied by virtue of this Act, the distress itself shall not be deemed unlawful, nor the party making the same be deemed a trespasser, on account of any defect or want of form in the information, Summons, Conviction, Warrant of Distress, or other proceeding relating thereto, nor shall the party destraining be deemed a trespasser from the beginning, on account of any irregularity which shall afterwards be committed by the party so distraining, but the person aggrieved by such irregularity may recover full satisfaction for the special damage in an action upon the case.

CIX. All actions and prosecutions to be commenced against any person for any thing done in pursuance of this Act, shall be commenced within three Calendar Months after the fact committed, and not afterwards, and notice in Writing of such action, and of the cause thereof shall be given to the defendant one Calendar Month at least before the commencement of the action; and no plaintiff shall recover in any such action, if tender of sufficient amends shall have been made before such action is brought, or if after action brought, a sufficient sum of Money shall have been paid into Court, with costs by or on behalf of the defendant.

Ordered, that the Draft now read be published for general information.

Ordered, that the said Draft be re-considered at the first meeting of the Legislative Council of India after the 12th day of August next.

SUPPLEMENT TO

The Calcutta Gazette.

Published by Authority.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 30, 1849.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, The 12th May, 1849.

The following Draft of a proposed Act was read in Council for the first time on the 12th May 1849:

ACT No. —— OF 1849.

An Act for the more easy recovery of Small Debts and demands in Calcutta, Madras and Bombay.

Whereas it is expedient to amend the constitution and practice, and to extend the jurisdiction, of the several Courts established at Calcutta, Madras and Bombay, for the recovery of Small Debts, It is enacted as follows:

I. The several Courts of Commissioners and of Requests, for the recovery of Small Debts, now holden in the towns of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay, under the authority of the Charter of Justice of King George the Second, and of two Acts of Parliament severally passed in the 37th and 39th year of the reign of King George the Third, and of the Regulations and Proclamations made from time to time for constituting, and for new modelling, altering and reforming the constitution and practice of the said Courts respectively, and of Act XII. 1848, shall be holden according to the provisions of this Act, from and after such several days as shall be declared within the said Towns by proclamation, to be made and published in due form of law in each of the said Towns by the Governor in Council.

II. Where in this Act the words "Governor in Council," or "Supreme Court," are used, they shall be taken to apply severally to the person or persons administering the executive Government, and to the Supreme Court, of each of the Presidencies of Fort William in Bengal, Fort St. George and Bombay, with reference only to the Court holden under this Act, in the same Presidency.

III. From and after the day declared in any such proclamation, all provisions of the said Charter of Justice, and Acts of Parliament, and of any Regulation, Act or Proclamation heretofore made concerning the constitution or practice of the Court, referred to in such proclamation, which are repugnant to this Act, shall be rescinded and repealed.

IV. The style of the several Courts holden under this Act shall be the ( ) Court of Requests, inserting in the blank space, Calcutta, Madras or Bombay, as the case requires.

V. The jurisdiction of the several Courts holden under this Act shall extend over the whole district now within the jurisdiction thereof respectively, and over such further district as may, from time to time, be declared by proclamation of the Governor in Council: provided that no proclamation for extending the district of any of the said Courts be made without the previous sanction of the Governor General of India in Council.

VI. Every Court holden under this Act shall be a Court of Record.

VII. All proceedings commenced in any of the said Courts, before the time when the constitution and practice of such Court shall be altered under this Act, may be continued, executed and enforced against all persons liable thereunto, in the same manner as if they had been commenced according to this Act: and each of the said Courts shall be empowered in any case of doubt as to the proper manner of continuing, executing or enforcing any such proceedings, to make such orders thereon as shall appear to the Court to be necessary for giving full effect to this enactment.

VIII. The Governor in Council shall appoint one, two or three persons to be Judges of the Court, one of whom shall be a Barrister at Law, or Advocate of the Supreme Court, or of the Court of Sessions in Scotland.

IX. No Judge appointed under this Act shall during his continuance as such Judge practise as an Advocate, Attorney, or Vakeel in any of the Queen's Courts, or in any Court of the East India Company, or trade or traffic for his own benefit, or for the benefit of any other person.

XLIII. Every person who, in any examination upon oath or solemn affirmation under this Act, shall wilfully and corruptly give false evidence shall be deemed guilty of perjury.

XLIV. Either of the parties to the suit or any other proceeding under this Act may obtain, at the office of the Clerk of the Court, Summonses to witnesses, with or without a Clause requiring the production of Books, Deeds, Papers and Writings in their possession or control, and in any such Summons any number of names may be inserted.

XLVII. Payment of any fine imposed by any Court under the authority of this Act may be enforced upon the order of the Judges, in like manner as payment of any debt adjudged in the said Court, and shall be accounted for as herein provided.

XLVIII. XLIX. Every order and judgment of any Court holden under this Act, except as herein provided, shall be final and conclusive between the parties; but the Judges shall have power to nonsuit the plaintiff, in every case in which satisfactory proof shall not be given to them, entitling either the plaintiff or defendant to the Judgment of the Court; and shall also in every case whatever have the power, if they shall think fit, to order a new trial to be had, upon such terms as they shall think reasonable, and in the meantime to stay the proceedings.

L. No cause commenced in any Court holden under this Act shall be removed from the said Court into the Supreme Court by any Writ or Process, unless the debt or damage claimed exceeds One Hundred Rupees, and then only by leave of a Judge of the said Supreme Court on proof to his satisfaction that some question of law is likely to arise therein, which, by reason either of its difficulty, novelty or general importance, or of some erroneous course of decision on the same point in the Court of Requests may appear to him fit to be tried in the Supreme Court, and upon such terms as to payment of costs, giving security for debt or costs, or otherwise, as he shall think fit.

LI. The Judges of the Court of Requests may, in their discretion, reserve any question of law on which they entertain doubts, or which they shall be requested by either party to the suit to reserve, for the opinion of the Judges of the Supreme Court, and may give judgment contingent upon the opinion of the said Supreme Court on a case which they shall thereupon be entitled to state to the said Court.

LII. No person shall be entitled to appear for any other party to any proceeding in any of the said Courts, unless he be an Attorney of the Supreme Court, or an Advocate of the Supreme Court instructed by such Attorney on behalf of the party; or, by leave of the Judges, any other person allowed by the Judges to appear instead of such party; but no Advocate, Attorney, or other person, except by leave of the Judges, shall be entitled to be heard to argue any question as counsel for any other person, in any proceeding in any Court holden under this Act.

LVI. If the Court shall have made any order for payment of any sum of Money by instalments, execution upon such order shall not issue until after default in payment of some instalment according to such order; and execution or successive executions may then issue without further notice or order for the whole of the said sum of Money and costs then remaining unpaid, or for such portion thereof as the Court shall order, either at the time of making the original order, or at any subsequent time, under the seal of the Court.

LVII. LXIII. Whenever any prisoner shall offer good and reasonable security for payment of any debt or damage and costs, either in full or by instalments as the Court shall think reasonable, the Court may order him to be discharged on giving such security.

LXIV. Upon payment of the debt or damage and costs in full, the prisoner shall be entitled to be forthwith discharged.

LXV. If the debt or damage and costs are not paid, the imprisonment shall not extinguish the liability to pay the same; but all property then belonging to or afterwards acquired by the prisoner shall be liable to be taken in execution after his discharge from prison for satisfaction thereof, or of so much thereof as is not paid, including the diet money actually expended for subsistence of the prisoner.

LXVI. The Clerk of every such Court shall, in the month of March in each year, make out a correct list of all sums of Money belonging to Suitors in the Court, which shall have been paid into Court, and which shall have remained unclaimed for five years before the first day of the month of January then last past, specifying the names of the parties for whom or on whose account the same were so paid into Court; and a Copy of such List shall be put up and remain during Court hours in some conspicuous part of the Court House, and at all times in the Clerk's office; and all sums of Money which shall have been paid into any such Court, to the use of any Suitor or Suitors thereof, and which shall have remained unclaimed for the period of six years before the passing of this Act, and which are now in the hands of any Commissioner or Officer of such Court, or otherwise held in trust for such Suitors, and all further sums of Money, which shall hereafter be paid into such Court to the use of any Suitor or Suitors thereof, shall, if unclaimed for the period of six years after the same shall have been so paid into Court, be applicable as part of the fees receivable on account of the Court, and shall be carried to the same account; and no person shall be entitled to claim any sum which shall have remained unclaimed for six years; but no time during which the person entitled to claim such sum shall have been an infant or married woman or of unsound mind, or out of the Territories under the Government of the East India Company, shall be taken into account in estimating the said period of six years.

LXXXIII. If any person shall wilfully insult any Judge, Clerk or Officer of the said Court, for the time being, during his sitting or attendance in Court, or in going to or returning from the Court, or shall wilfully interrupt the proceedings of the Court, or otherwise misbehave in Court, it shall be lawful for any Bailiff or Officer of the Court, with or without the assistance of any other person, by the order of the Judges to take such offender into custody, and detain him until the rising of the Court; and the Judges shall be empowered, if they shall think fit, by a Warrant under their hands, and sealed with the seal of the Court, to commit any such offender to any Prison to which they have power to commit offenders under this Act, for any time not exceeding seven days, or to impose upon any such offender a Fine not exceeding Fifty Rupees for every such offence, and in default of payment thereof to commit the offender to any such Prison as aforesaid, for any time not exceeding seven days, unless the said Fine be sooner paid.

LXXXIV. If any Officer or Bailiff of any Court holden under this Act shall be assaulted while in the execution of his duty, or if any rescue shall be made or attempted to be made of any person arrested, or Goods levied under process of the Court, the person so offending shall be liable to a Fine not exceeding One Hundred Rupees to be recovered by order of the Court, or before a Magistrate as hereinafter provided; and the Bailiff of the Court, or any Peace Officer in any such case may take the offender into custody, (with or without Warrant,) and bring him before such Court, or Magistrate accordingly.

LXXXV. If any Bailiff of the said Court, who shall be employed to execute any Warrant of the Court, shall, by neglect, or connivance or omission, lose an opportunity of executing such Warrant, then upon complaint of the party aggrieved by reason of such neglect, connivance or omission, (and the fact alleged being proved to the satisfaction of the Court,) the Judges shall order the Bailiff to pay such damages as it shall appear that the plaintiff has sustained thereby, not exceeding in any case the sum of Money for which the said execution is issued, and the Bailiff shall be liable thereto; and upon demand made thereof, and on his refusal so to pay and satisfy the same, payment thereof shall be enforced by such ways and means as are herein provided for enforcing a judgment recovered in the said Court.

LXXXVI. If any Clerk, Bailiff or Officer of the Court, acting under colour or pretence of the process of the said Court, shall be charged with extortion or misconduct, or with not duly paying or accounting for any Money levied by him under the authority of this Act, the Judges may inquire into such matter in a summary way, and for that purpose may summon and enforce the attendance of all necessary parties in like manner as the attendance of witnesses in any case may be enforced, and may make such order thereupon for the repayment of any money extorted, or for the due payment of any money so levied as aforesaid, and for the payment of such damages and costs, as they shall think just; and also, if they shall think fit, may impose such fine upon the Clerk, Bailiff or Officer not exceeding One Hundred Rupees for each offence, as they shall deem adequate; and in default of payment of any money so ordered to be paid, payment of the same may be enforced by such ways and means as are herein provided for enforcing a judgment recovered in the said Court.

LXXXVII. Every Clerk, Bailiff, or other officer employed in putting this Act or any of the powers thereof in execution, who shall wilfully and corruptly exact, take, or accept any fee or reward whatsoever, other than his lawful salary and the fees and costs allowed under this Act, for any thing done or to be done by virtue of this Act, or on any account whatsoever, relative to putting this Act into execution, shall, upon proof thereof before the said Court, and in the case of a Clerk on confirmation of the finding of the Court by the Governor in Council, be for ever incapable of serving, or being employed under this Act in any office of profit or emolument, and shall also be liable for damages as herein provided.

LXXXVIII. If any claim shall be made to, or in respect of, any Goods or Chattels taken in execution under the process of any Court holden under this Act, or in respect of the proceeds or value therof, by any Landlord for rent, or by any person not being the party against whom such process has issued, the Clerk of the Court, upon application of the officer charged with the execution of such process, as well before as after any action brought against such officer, may issue a Summons calling before the said Court, as well the party issuing such process as the party making such claim, and thereupon any action which shall have been brought in the Supreme Court in respect of such claim, shall be stayed, and any Judge of the Supreme Court on proof of the issue of such Summons, and that the Goods and Chattels were so taken in execution, may order the party bringing such action to pay the costs of all proceedings, had upon such action after the issue of such Summons out of the Court of Requests, and the Judges of the Court of Requests shall adjudicate upon such claim and make such order between the parties in respect thereof, and of the costs of the proceedings as to him shall seem fit, and such order shall be enforced in like manner as any order made in any suit brought in such Court.

LXXXIX. The powers of Act No. VII. of 1847, to regulate distresses for small rents in Calcutta, shall be extended to the recovery of all arrears of rent not exceeding Five Hundred Rupees, and the Judges of every Court of Requests under this Act shall be empowered to exercise within their several jurisdictions the extended powers of the said Act; and the said Act shall be construed as if instead of Calcutta and the Settlement of Fort William in Bengal, the limits of the jurisdiction of the Court had been therein mentioned, and the Judges of the Court of Requests under this Act instead of the Commissioners of the Court therein mentioned, and the amount of Five Hundred Rupees instead of One Hundred Rupees, and the forms contained in the Schedule annexed to the said Act shall be altered accordingly, and shall refer to this Act instead of Act No. VII. of 1847.

XC. As soon as the term and interest of the tenant of any House, Land, or other corporeal hereditament, where the value of the premises or the rent payable in respect of such tenancy, did not exceed the rate of Five Hundred Rupees by the year, and upon which no fine shall have been paid, shall have ended, or shall have been duly determined by a legal notice to quit, and such tenant, or, if such tenant do not actually occupy the premises or occupy only a part thereof, any person by whom the same or any part thereof shall be then actually occupied, shall neglect or refuse to quit and deliver up possession of the premises, or of such part thereof respectively, the Landlord or his agent may take out a Summons from the Court directed to such tenant or occupier.

XCI. If the tenant or occupier shall not thereupon appear at the time and place appointed, and show cause to the contrary, and shall still neglect or refuse to deliver up possession of the premises, or of such part thereof, of which he is then in possession, to the said Landlord or his agent, such Landlord or agent may give to the Court proof of the holding, and of the end or other determination of the tenancy with the time or manner thereof, and where the title of the Landlord has accrued since the letting of the premises, the right by which he claims the possession.

XCII. Upon proof of service of the Summons, and of the neglect or refusal of the tenant or occupier, as the case may be, the Judges may issue a Warrant under the Seal of the Court, to any Bailiff of the Court requiring and authorizing him within a period to be therein named not less than seven or more than ten clear days from the date of such warrant, to give possession of the premises to such Landlord or agent, and such Warrant shall be a sufficient Warrant to the said Bailiff to enter upon the premises with such assistants as he shall deem necessary, and to give possession accordingly: Provided always, that entry upon any such Warrant shall not be made on a Sunday, Good-Friday, or Christmas-day, or any other day observed by the Court as a Holiday, or at any time except between the hours of six in the morning and six in the afternoon: Provided also, that nothing herein contained shall be deemed to protect any person by whom any such Warrant shall be sued out of the Court of Requests, from any action which may be brought against him by any such tenant or occupier for such entry and taking possession, where such person had not, at the time of suing out the same as aforesaid, lawful right to the possession of the same premises.

XCIII. Such Summons as last aforesaid may be served either personally or by leaving the same with some person, being in and apparently residing at the place of abode of the person or persons so holding over as aforesaid; Provided that if the person or persons so holding over, or any or either of them cannot be found, and the place of abode of such person or persons shall either not be known, or admission thereto cannot be obtained for serving such Summons, the posting of the said Summons on some conspicuous part of the premises so held over, shall be deemed to be good service upon such person or persons respectively.

XCIV. No action or prosecution shall be maintainable against the Judges or against the Clerk of the Court, by whom such Warrant as aforesaid shall have been issued, or against any Bailiff or other person by whom such Warrant may be executed or Summons affixed, for issuing such Warrant, or executing the same respectively, or affixing such Summons, by reason that the person by whom the same shall be sued out had not lawful right to the possession of the premises.

XCV. Where the Landlord at the time of applying for such Warrant as aforesaid had lawful right to the possession of the premises, or of the part thereof so held over as aforesiad, neither the said Landlord nor his agent, nor any other person acting in his behalf, shall be deemed to be a trespasser, by reason merely of any irregularity or informality in the mode of proceeding for obtaining possession under the authority of this Act; but the party aggrieved may, if he think fit, bring an action on the case for such irregularity or informality, in which the damage alleged to be sustained thereby shall be specially laid, and may recover full satisfaction for such special damage with costs of suit: Provided that, if the special damage so laid be not proved, the defendant shall be entitled to a verdict, and that, if proved, but assessed at any sum not exceeding Ten Rupees, the plaintiff shall recover no more costs than damages, unless the Judge, before whom the trial shall have been holden, shall certify that in his opinon full costs ought to be allowed.

XCVI. In every case in which the person by whom any such Warrant shall be sued out of the Court of Requests, had not at the time of suing out the same lawful right to the possession of the premises, the suing out of any such Warrant as last aforesaid, shall be deemed a trespass by him against the tenant or occupier of the premises, although no entry shall be made by virtue of the Warrant; and in case any such tenant or occupier will become bound with two sufficient Sureties, to be approved by the Clerk of the Court, in such sum as to the Judges shall seem reasonable, regard being had to the value of the premises and to the probable cost of such action, to sue the person by whom such Warrant was sued out with effect and without delay, and to pay all the costs of the proceeding in such action, in case a verdict shall pass for the defendant, or the plaintiff shall discontinue or not prosecute his action, or become nonsuit therein, execution upon the Warrant shall be stayed until Judgment shall have been given in such action of trespass; and, if upon the trial of such action of trespass, a verdict shall pass for the plaintiff, such verdict and Judgment thereupon shall supersede the said Warrant.

XCVII. Every bond given on the removal of any action out of the Court of Requests or upon staying, delaying, or reversing any judgment or execution awarded therein, or the execution of any such Warrant of possession as aforesaid, or on moving for a new trial, or to set aside a verdict, judgment or nonsuit, shall be made to the other party to the action, and shall be approved by the Judges and attested under the seal of the Court; and if the bond so taken be forfeited, or if upon the proceeding for securing which such bond was given, the Judge before whom such proceeding shall be had shall not certify upon the record in Court, that the condition of the bond hath been fulfilled, the party to whom the bond shall have been so made may bring an action of debt and recover thereon: Provided always, that the Court in which such action as last aforesaid shall be brought may, by a rule of Court, give such relief to the parties liable upon such bond as may appear to him reasonable, and such rule shall have the nature and effect of a defeasance to such bond.

XCVIII. All actions and proceedings which before the passing of this Act might have been brought in the Supreme Court, where any Officer of the Court of Requests shall be a party, except in respect of any claim to any Goods and Chattels taken in execution of the process of the Court, or the proceeds or value thereof, may be brought and determined in the Supreme Court, at the election of the party suing or proceeding, as if this Act had not been passed.

XCIX. If any action shall be commenced after the passing of this Act in the Supreme Court, for any cause other than those lastly herein before specified, for which a Summons might have been taken out from a Court holden under this Act, and a verdict shall be found for the plaintiff for a sum less than Five Hundred Rupees, if the said action is founded on contract, or less than One Hundred Rupees, if it is founded on Tort, the plaintiff shall have Judgment to recover such sum only, and no costs; and if a verdict shall not be found for the plaintiff the defendant shall be entitled to his costs as between Attorney and Client, unless in either case the Judge who shall try the cause shall certify on the back of the record that the action was fit to be brought in the Supreme Court.

C. If any person shall bring any suit in the Supreme Court in respect of any grievance committed by the Clerk, Bailiff, or Officer of any Court holden under this Act, under colour or pretence of the process of the said Court, and upon the trial of the action, no greater damages shall be found for the Plaintiff than the sum of Five Hundred Rupees, no costs shall be awarded to the plaintiff in such action unless the Judge shall certify in Court upon the back of the Record, that the action was fit to be brought in the Supreme Court.

CI. All penalties, fines and forfeitures by this Act, inflicted or authorized to be imposed, (the manner of recovering and applying whereof is not hereby otherwise particularly directed), upon proof before any Magistrate having jurisdiction where the offender shall reside or be, or the offence shall be committed, either by the confession of the party offending, or by the oath or affirmation of any credible witness, shall be levied, with the costs attending the Summons and conviction, by distress and sale of the Goods and Chattels of the party offending, by Warrant under the hand of any such Magistrate, and the overplus (if any) after such penalties, fines and forfeitures, and the charges of such distress and sale are deducted, shall be returned, upon demand, unto the owner of such Goods and Chattels.

CII. If any such penalties, fines and forfeitures respectively, shall not be paid forthwith upon conviction, it shall be lawful for such Magistrate to order the offender so convicted to be detained in safe custody until return can conveniently be made to such Warrant of distress; unless such offender shall give sufficient security to the satisfaction of such Magistrate for his appearance before him on such day as shall be appointed for the return of such Warrant of distress, such day not being more than eight days from the time of taking any such security, which security the Magistrate shall be empowered to take by way of recognizance or otherwise, as to him shall seem fit.

CIII. If upon return of such Warrant it shall appear that no sufficient distress can be had thereupon, or in case it shall appear to the satisfaction of the Magistrate either by confession of the offender or otherwise that he hath not within the jurisdiction of such Magistrate sufficient Goods and Chattels, whereon to levy all such penalties, forfeitures, costs and charges, the Magistrate may, at his discretion, without issuing any Warrant of distress, commit the offender to the Common Gaol or House of Correction, for any time not exceeding three Calendar Months, unless such penalties, forfeitures and fines, and all reasonable charges attending the recovery thereof, shall be sooner paid and satisfied.

CIV. The Monies arising from any such penalties, forfeitures and fines as aforesaid when paid and levied, shall, (if not by this Act directed to be otherwise applied,) be from time to time paid to the Clerk of the Court, and shall be applied in like manner as the fees thereof.

CV. In all cases in which by this Act any penalty or forfeiture is made recoverable before a Magistrate, such Magistrate may summon before him the party complained against, and on such Summons may hear and determine the matter of such complaint; and, on proof of the offence, may convict the offender, and adjudge him to pay the penalty or forfeiture incurred, and proceed to recover the same, although no information in writing shall have been exhibited before him; and all such proceedings by Summons without information in Writing shall be as valid and effectual to all intents and purposes, as if an information in Writing had been exhibited.

CVI. In all cases where any conviction shall be had for any offence committed against this Act, the Form of conviction may be in the words or to the effect following: (that is to say,) "Be it "remembered that on this day of "in the year "A. B. is convicted before "a Magistrate "for the (or before a "Judge appointed under Act of 1849) of "having (state the offence;) and I (or we) the "said do adjudge the said "to forfeit and pay for the same "the sum of [or to be committed "to for the space of] given under "hand ( ) and seal ( ) "the day and year aforesaid."

CVII. No order, verdict, or Judgment or other proceeding, made concerning any of the matters aforesaid, shall be quashed or vacated for want of Form.

CVIII. Where any distress shall be made for any sum of Money to be levied by virtue of this Act, the distress itself shall not be deemed unlawful, nor the party making the same be deemed a trespasser, on account of any defect or want of form in the information, Summons, Conviction, Warrant of Distress, or other proceeding relating thereto, nor shall the party destraining be deemed a trespasser from the beginning, on account of any irregularity which shall afterwards be committed by the party so distraining, but the person aggrieved by such irregularity may recover full satisfaction for the special damage in an action upon the case.

CIX. All actions and prosecutions to be commenced against any person for any thing done in pursuance of this Act, shall be commenced within three Calendar Months after the fact committed, and not afterwards, and notice in Writing of such action, and of the cause thereof shall be given to the defendant one Calendar Month at least before the commencement of the action; and no plaintiff shall recover in any such action, if tender of sufficient amends shall have been made before such action is brought, or if after action brought, a sufficient sum of Money shall have been paid into Court, with costs by or on behalf of the defendant.

Ordered, that the Draft now read be published for general information.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 26th May, 1849.

The following Act is passed by the Hon'ble the President of the Council of India in Council on the 26th May 1849, with the assent of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India, which has been read and recorded.

Ordered, that the Act be promulgated for general information.

Act No. X. of 1849.

An Act for appointing a Commissioner of Revenue at Madras.

Whereas it is expedient that the Governor of Fort St. George in Council should be empowered to depute a Member of the Board of Revenue, to perform in any of the Districts of that Presidency all or any of the duties which, by the General Regulations and Laws of the Presidency, belong to the Board of Revenue collectively, It is enacted as follows:

I. The Governor of Fort St. George in Council may, from time to time, whenever he shall see fit, depute a Member of the Board of Revenue to perform alone, in any of the Districts of that Presidency, all or any of the duties which, by the General Regulations and Laws of the Presidency, belong to the Board of Revenue collectively.

II. When a special Commission shall be given to a Member of the Board of Revenue under this Act, the Member of the Board named therein shall by virtue thereof be empowered to exercise, within the limits of his Commission, all the powers and duties which by Law are vested in the Board of Revenue collectively, without exception, or subject to any exceptions or restrictions, which shall be prescribed in such Commission; and all Regulations and Acts concerning the Board of Revenue shall be deemed to apply to the said Commissioner within the limits of his Commission, and with regard to all things concerning the Revenues of the District included in it, so far as is necessary to give full effect to his Commission and to this Act.

III. Every such Commission shall be published in the Fort St. George Gazette, and the Commissioner shall enter on his Office from the date of such publication; and in like manner the revocation or other determination of any such Commission shall be published in the Fort St. George Gazette.

IV. The correspondence and other documents belonging to any such Commission shall be deposited, on the determination thereof, in the Office of the Board of Revenue, and shall be deemed Records of the said Board.

No. 7.

Fort William, Financial Department, the 31st March, 1849.

Notification.—Notice is hereby given, that in pursuance of instructions received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, Supplies on account of the Home Treasury, will continue to be raised during the ensuing Official Year 1849-50, on the security of Goods to be hypothecated to the East India Company, and that, so far as is at present known, the sum required to be provided in India by the purchase of Bills will be £900,000 liable, however, to such modification or extension as may hereafter be demanded by the exigencies of the Public Service.

Advances of Cash will accordingly be made, for this purpose, by the Governments of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, to the extent of ⅔ths of the value of the Goods hypothecated, and the Bills in repayment of these advances are to be drawn at six months' sight, at the rate of 1*s.* 10*d.* per Company's Rupee, until further notice.

It is also further notified, that in, pursuance of instructions received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, the Governments of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, have been authorized, in any case in which they may consider such a course to be expedient, to dispense with the obligation to insure, which is imposed by the existing terms and conditions upon parties who may obtain advances from the respective Governments, on the security of Goods hypothecated to the East India Company, intimating to them that the Hon'ble Court will make the insurance in England, and requiring a Declaration binding the parties to repay the premium upon insurances, which the Court may effect before the Bills of Lading and other Shipping Documents are handed over to their Agents.

It is to be understood that the Insurance to be effected, will only be to the amount of the advance in each case, so as to cover the East India Company's risk.

In all other respects the existing terms and conditions of the advances to be made by the respective Governments, will remain in force, and be the same as published in the Calcutta Gazette under date the 1st April 1842.

Published by order of the Hon'ble the President in Council,

J. A. Dorin,

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 26th May, 1849.

The following Act is passed by the Hon'ble the President of the Council of India in Council on the 26th May 1849, with the assent of the Right Hon'ble the Governor General of India, which has been read and recorded.

Ordered, that the Act be promulgated for general information.

ACT No. X. OF 1849.

An Act for appointing a Commissioner of Revenue at Madras.

Whereas it is expedient that the Governor of Fort St. George in Council should be empowered to depute a Member of the Board of Revenue, to perform in any of the Districts of that Presidency all or any of the duties which, by the General Regulations and Laws of the Presidency, belong to the Board of Revenue collectively, It is enacted as follows:

I. The Governor of Fort St. George in Council may, from time to time, whenever he shall see fit, depute a Member of the Board of Revenue to perform alone, in any of the Districts of that Presidency, all or any of the duties which, by the General Regulations and Laws of the Presidency, belong to the Board of Revenue collectively.

II. When a special Commission shall be given to a Member of the Board of Revenue under this Act, the Member of the Board named therein shall by virtue thereof be empowered to exercise, within the limits of his Commission, all the powers and duties which by Law are vested in the Board of Revenue collectively, without exception, or subject to any exceptions or restrictions, which shall be prescribed in such Commission; and all Regulations and Acts concerning the Board of Revenue shall be deemed to apply to the said Commissioner within the limits of his Commission, and with regard to all things concerning the Revenues of the District included in it, so far as is necessary to give full effect to his Commission and to this Act.

III. Every such Commission shall be published in the Fort St. George Gazette, and the Commissioner shall enter on his Office from the date of such publication; and in like manner the revocation or other determination of any such Commission shall be published in the Fort St. George Gazette.

IV. The correspondence and other documents belonging to any such Commission shall be deposited, on the determination thereof, in the Office of the Board of Revenue, and shall be deemed Records of the said Board.

No. 7.

Fort William, Financial Department, the 31st March, 1849.

NOTIFICATION.—Notice is hereby given, that in pursuance of instructions received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, Supplies on account of the Home Treasury, will continue to be raised during the ensuing Official Year 1849-50, on the security of Goods to be hypothecated to the East India Company, and that, so far as is at present known, the sum required to be provided in India by the purchase of Bills will be £900,000 liable, however, to such modification or extension as may hereafter be demanded by the exigencies of the Public Service.

Advances of Cash will accordingly be made, for this purpose, by the Governments of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, to the extent of ¾ths of the value of the Goods hypothecated, and the Bills in repayment of these advances are to be drawn at six months' sight, at the rate of 1*s.* 10*d.* per Company's Rupee, until further notice.

It is also further notified, that in, pursuance of instructions received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, the Governments of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, have been authorized, in any case in which they may consider such a course to be expedient, to dispense with the obligation to insure, which is imposed by the existing terms and conditions upon parties who may obtain advances from the respective Governments, on the security of Goods hypothecated to the East India Company, intimating to them that the Hon'ble Court will make the insurance in England, and requiring a Declaration binding the parties to repay the premium upon insurances, which the Court may effect before the Bills of Lading and other Shipping Documents are handed over to their Agents.

It is to be understood that the Insurance to be effected, will only be to the amount of the advance in each case, so as to cover the East India Company's risk.

In all other respects the existing terms and conditions of the advances to be made by the respective Governments, will remain in force, and be the same as published in the Calcutta Gazette under date the 1st April 1842.

Advances of Cash will accordingly be made, for this purpose, by the Governments of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, to the extent of ¾ths of the value of the Goods hypothecated, and the Bills in repayment of these advances are to be drawn at six months' sight, at the rate of 1*s.* 10*d.* per Company's Rupee, until further notice.

It is also further notified, that in, pursuance of instructions received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, the Governments of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, have been authorized, in any case in which they may consider such a course to be expedient, to dispense with the obligation to insure, which is imposed by the existing terms and conditions upon parties who may obtain advances from the respective Governments, on the security of Goods hypothecated to the East India Company, intimating to them that the Hon'ble Court will make the insurance in England, and requiring a Declaration binding the parties to repay the premium upon insurances, which the Court may effect before the Bills of Lading and other Shipping Documents are handed over to their Agents.

It is to be understood that the Insurance to be effected, will only be to the amount of the advance in each case, so as to cover the East India Company's risk.

THE NEW QUARTERLY BENGAL ARMY AND CIVIL LISTS,

CONTAINING

A Gradation List of the Officers of the Bengal Army—a List of Field Officers in regimental succession—the Staff and various Military Departments—the Regiment of Artillery—Corps of Engineers—Her Majesty's and the Honorable Company's Cavalry and Infantry Regiments—Local and Irregular Corps, attached or belonging to the Bengal Presidency—the Invalid and Pension Establishments—Medical Department—Ecclesiastical Establishment—General Distribution of the Bengal Army—Gradation List of the General and Field Officers of Her Majesty's and the Honorable Company's Service—and a List of Officers in Civil and Political employ.

The Honorary Distinctions gained by Corps and Individuals will also be given, with the Special Field Services of all Officers who have responded to the requisition of the General Management of the Military Orphan Society.

The ARMY LIST will be published on Hart's plan, and all profits arising from its sale be added to the Funds of the Military Orphan Society.

In addition to this strong claim to the patronage of the Army, for whose benefit it is intended, it will place on permanent record the Field Services of every Officer of the Bengal Army.

It is not expected that the first Number will be entirely free from error; but as great care has been taken by the Officers entrusted with its preparation to verify the dates of Commission and Promotion, it is hoped that absolute accuracy will shortly be obtained.

The Field Services of every Officer who has communicated with the General Management, will be recorded, and those of all Officers who have not yet been able to comply with the requisition, will be published in each succeeding Quarterly Number, as they are furnished.

The CIVIL LIST will exhibit the date of commencement of Service, the date of arrival in India, and the present office and date of appointment to it, of every Member of that branch of the Service.

The publication of the above ARMY and CIVIL LISTS, for which several hundred Subscribers in every part of India, are already enrolled, will afford an eligible opportunity for advertisements, the charge for which may be ascertained by application to the Superintendent of the Military Orphan Press.

The Price of each Quarterly Number will be Co.'s Rs. 3, paid in advance.

Hon'ble the Governor General of India, which has been read and recorded.

ACT No. X. OF 1849.

An Act for appointing a Commissioner of Revenue at Madras.

Whereas it is expedient that the Governor of Fort St. George in Council should be empowered to depute a Member of the Board of Revenue, to perform in any of the Districts of that Presidency all or any of the duties which, by the General Regulations and Laws of the Presidency, belong to the Board of Revenue collectively, It is enacted as follows:

I. The Governor of Fort St. George in Council may, from time to time, whenever he shall see fit, depute a Member of the Board of Revenue to perform alone, in any of the Districts of that Presidency, all or any of the duties which, by the General Regulations and Laws of the Presidency, belong to the Board of Revenue collectively.

II. When a special Commission shall be given to a Member of the Board of Revenue under this Act, the Member of the Board named therein shall, by virtue thereof, be empowered to exercise, within the limits of his Commission, all the powers and duties which by Law are vested in the Board of Revenue collectively, without exception, or subject to any exceptions or restrictions, which shall be prescribed in such Commission; and all Regulations and Acts concerning the Board of Revenue shall be deemed to apply to the said Commissioner within the limits of his Commission, and with regard to all things concerning the Revenues of the District included in it, so far as is necessary to give full effect to his Commission and to this Act.

Fort William, Financial Department, the 31st March, 1849.

NOTIFICATION.—Notice is hereby given, that in pursuance of instructions received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, Supplies on account of the Home Treasury, will continue to be raised during the ensuing Official Year 1849-50, on the security of Goods to be hypothecated to the East India Company, and that, so far as is at present known, the sum required to be provided in India by the purchase of Bills will be £900,000 liable, however, to such modification or extension as may hereafter be demanded by the exigencies of the Public Service.

Advances of Cash will accordingly be made, for this purpose, by the Governments of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, to the extent of ⅔ths of the value of the Goods hypothecated, and the Bills in repayment of these advances are to be drawn at six months' sight, at the rate of 1*s.* 10*d.* per Company's Rupee, until further notice.

It is also further notified, that in, pursuance of instructions received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, the Governments of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, have been authorized, in any case in which they may consider such a course to be expedient, to dispense with the obligation to insure, which is imposed by the existing terms and conditions upon parties who may obtain advances from the respective Governments, on the security of Goods hypothecated to the East India Company, intimating to them that the Hon'ble Court will make the insurance in England, and requiring a Declaration binding the parties to repay the premium upon insurances, which the Court may effect before the Bills of Lading and other Shipping Documents are handed over to their Agents.

It is to be understood that the Insurance to be effected, will only be to the amount of the advance in each case, so as to cover the East India Company's risk.

In all other respects the existing terms and conditions of the advances to be made by the respective Governments, will remain in force, and be the same as published in the Calcutta Gazette under date the 1st April 1842.

BENGAL CIVIL FUND.

AT a Special General Meeting of Subscribers to the Bengal Civil Fund, held on Monday, the 28th May 1849.

PRESENT:

Messrs. W. Dampier, E. M. Gordon, G. Udny, Hy. Ricketts, W. B. Jackson, J. J. Harvey, E. Currie, F. J. Halliday, R. H. Mytton, G. W. Battye, J. P. Grant, Geo. Adams, B. J. Colvin, G. A. C. Plowden, Hon'ble H. B. Devereux, W. H. Elliott, J. G. Campbell, G. D. Wilkins, A. Grote, F. A. Lushington, C. Beadon, W. Grey, W. Seton-karr, J. W. Dalrymple, C. Limond, and C S. Belli.

Evelyn M. Gordon, Esq. in the Chair.

The notice dated 23rd March, 1849, with the Resolution appended having been read—

It was proposed by Mr. Jackson and seconded by Mr. Currie—

That the Widow of Mr. F. Stainforth, having been formally admitted under Article 21 of the Rules of the Bengal Civil Fund, as a proper object of the Fund, is entitled to receive the full Pension assignable to her under Article 22 of the Rules, unless the same be restricted by some other Article of the Rules.

That the only other Articles of the Rules, restrictive of the Pension of Widows, are Article 25 and Article 26, Clauses first and second.

That under Article 22, considered alone, according to the information before the General Meeting of the 31st of July 1846 as explained in the Circular of the Managers issued in January 1847, the Widow of Mr. F. Stainforth was entitled to a Pension of £400 a year, less by £196 a year, that is to say, she was entitled to £204 a year.

That Article 25 of the Rules does not apply to this case, because the greatest sum claimed from the Fund on account of the whole family of Mr. F. Stainforth, does not amount to £600 a year.

That Article 26, Clause first, of the Rules, does not apply to this case, because it does appear that Mr. F. Stainforth did, by his Testament, make due Provision for his family, in as much as the two Children by his first marriage had been already duly provided for, by an income of £284-17 a year, which was their property vested in the hands of Trustees under an ante-nuptial settlement, made in favor of them and their deceased mother, and arising from Funds, which had been jointly furnished by their deceased mother and Mr. F. Stainforth in nearly equal proportions, and in as much as the whole of the property which Mr. F. Stainforth left at his death, and had the power to dispose of, was duly disposed of by Mr. F. Stainforth's Testament in favor of his Widow and remaining Children as contemplated by the said Clause.

That Article 26, Clause second, does not apply to this case, because it has never been proved to the conviction of any General Meeting of Subscribers, and never was pretended, nor averred at any such Meeting, or elsewhere, and there is no ground to suspect that Mr. F. Stainforth did, at any time, make any disposition of his property with the intention of benefitting thereby, any party at the expense of the Fund.

That therefore the Widow of Mr. F. Stainforth is entitled to the full Pension as aforesaid, assignable to her under Article 22 of the Rules, considered alone.

That Mr. F. Stainforth's three Children by his said Widow having been admitted under Article 23 of the Rules, as proper objects of the Fund, are entitled to receive the full Pension, assignable to them under Article 24 of the Rules unless the same be restricted by some other Article of the Rules.

That the only other Articles of the Rules restrictive of the Pensions of Children are the aforesaid Articles 25 and 26.

That under Article 24 of the Rules, considered alone, according to the information above-mentioned, the Pensions assignable to Mr. F. Stainforth's three Children by his Widow, are the full Pensions of Children according to their ages without any deduction whatever.

That for the reasons above-mentioned, Articles 25 and 26 do not apply to the case of these three Children.

That therefore these three Children of Mr. F. Stainforth are entitled to the full Pensions assignable to them under Article 24 of the Rules, considered alone.

That as the decision of the General Meeting on the 31st of July 1846, confirming the view taken by the Managers in this case, was not founded, and was not at the time attempted to be founded upon any specified Rule; and as this is not and never has been pretended to be a case, not provided for by the Rules; that decision was an arbitrary, unjust and unlawful decision.

That the Rule under which an endeavour has since been made to shelter the said decision of 1846, viz. Article 26, Clause second, not only does not apply to this particular case of deduction from the full rates of Pensions, for the reasons aforesaid; but cannot, with show of reasons, be applied to any case of deduction from the full rates of Pensions, because that Rule which is a highly penal provision for the prevention of frauds on the Fund, provides for and admits when enforced, no other penalty than simple and complete exclusion of the whole family from all benefits from the Fund.

That the said decision passed in 1846, was especially arbitrary and unjust in this, that at the time when the existing Rules were voted by the Subscribers at large in 1837, Mr. F. Stainforth himself being one of the voters, a proposal to pass a Rule to the precise effect of the said decision was laid before the subscribers at large, with the marked disapproval of the Committee of Rules and was formally rejected "by a large majority."

That the omission of the Managers to publish, as required by Article 12 of the Rules, the said decision, along with the other Resolutions of the said General Meeting, which were duly published, whereby the ordinary course of revising an erroneous decision was closed against the Subscribers, renders an extraordinary revision of the said decision necessary.

That this irregularity has not been corrected by the subsequent issue, in this matter, of Circulars and vote papers to the Subscribers at large, made by order of the Managers, for two reasons—First, because the Managers had no authority under the Rules of the Fund to collect votes upon this question in that manner, seeing that the Managers have no authority to collect any votes upon any question in that manner, except under Article 13, and Clause fifth Article 37 of the Rules, and these votes were not called for in accordance with either of these Articles; and Secondly because the question put by the Managers on which the Subscribers were thus irregularly asked to vote, had no bearing one way or the other upon the merits of the question at issue.

That it is necessary out of the ordinary course, to remedy the wrong done by this decision, not only in justice to the family, who have suffered by it, but also for the correction of an erroneous precedent, and the prevention of unauthorised deduction from Pensions in future.

That the decision of the General Meeting of the 31st July 1846, in the case of Mr F. Stainforth's family be reversed, and that the Managers be instructed to calculate the pensions of that family prospectively and restrospectively, strictly in accordance with the Rules of the Fund as explained in this Resolution.

Amendment proposed by Mr. Udny—

That the allowances to the family of the late Mr. Frederick Stainforth be, to the Widow and Children by both Marriages, as to one family; with deduction of the income from both Marriage settlements, and of the income from the estate of the deceased Subscriber.

Amendment proposed by Mr. Harvey—

That under Rule 28 the calculation of the Managers, and the decision of the General Meeting held on the 31st July 1846, in the case of the Widow and Children of Frederick Stainforth, is correct.

The question being asked whether an amendment could be put without being seconded, the Meeting resolved that it could.

It was then proposed by Mr. Grant and seconded by Mr. Plowden. That no amendment not duly advertised, be put at this Meeting.

Carried.

The original motion was thereupon put to the sense of the Meeting by the Chairman.

The Votes for it were, present 16, proxies 31, Total 47
Against it „ 5, „ Nil „ 5

III. The Clauses respectively numbered CII. CIII. and CIV. in an Act of Parliament passed in the ninth year of the reign of King George the Fourth, intituled an Act for improving the Administration of Criminal Justice in the East Indies, are repealed, except as to all things done or forborne to be done before the passing of this Act.

IV. Every Member and Officer of a Trading Corporation or Company, and also every Banker, Merchant, Factor, Broker, Attorney or other Agent, whether he be commonly so employed, or be employed as an Agent in that instance only, and whether he act as such Agent gratuitously or otherwise, to whom any chattel, money or valuable security is entrusted for safe custody or for any special purpose, and whether with or without any authority to sell, negotiate, pledge or employ the same, but with an authority limited to some defined purpose as to the application of such money, chattel or valuable security or of any part thereof, or of the proceeds or of any part of the proceeds thereof, who shall fraudulently apply, use or dispose of the same or any part of the proceeds thereof, for any purpose other than a purpose for which the same was entrusted to him, shall be deemed to have feloniously stolen the same, and shall be liable to be transported out of the Territories under the Government of the East India Company, for any term not exceeding fourteen years, or to be imprisoned with or without labor for any term not exceeding three years.

V. Every Sub-Agent, Clerk or Servant of any such Trading Corporation or Company, or of any Banker, Merchant, Factor, Broker or other Agent as aforesaid, who, knowing the purpose for which such chattel, money or valuable security was entrusted to the Corporation, Company, Person or Persons, by whom he is employed, shall fraudulently apply, use or dispose of the same for any purpose, other than a purpose for which the same was entrusted to his employer or employers, shall be deemed to have committed the offence hereinbefore mentioned, though he were not himself immediately employed or entrusted with the disposition thereof by the person entitled thereto.

VI. Every person, possessed, or having the receipt, custody or control, of any chattel, money or valuable security in trust for any other person or persons, who shall embezzle the same or any part thereof, or in any manner fraudulently apply, use or dispose of the same, for his own use or benefit, in breach of the trust reposed in him, shall be deemed to have feloniously stolen the same and shall be liable to be transported out of the Territories under the Government of the East India Company, for any term not exceeding fourteen years, or to be imprisoned with or without labor for any term not exceeding three years.

VII. VIII. Any offender under this Act may be proceeded against on the same charge for any number of distinct acts of embezzlement or fraudulent application, use or disposition as aforesaid, committed by him within six calendar months, from the first to the last of such acts: and proof of a gross deficiency in the accounts of any such Trustee or Public Servant shall be evidence of the offence charged, until such deficiency is otherwise explained.

IX. If the offence relates to money or to any Bank-note, Bank Post Bill, Banker's Cheque, Bill of Exchange, Promissory Note, Government Paper, or other like security for the payment of money, it shall be enough in the indictment or charge to allege the embezzlement or fraudulent application, use or disposition of money, without specifying any particular coin or valuable security; and such allegation shall, so far as regards the kind of property, be sustained, if the offender is proved to have embezzled or fraudulently applied used or disposed of any amount of money or any valuable security, though the particular kind of coin or valuable security of which such amount was composed shall not be proved.

X. It shall not be necessary, in any proceeding against any offender under this Act, to declare the person to whom the property embezzled or fraudulently applied or disposed of belongs, otherwise than hereinafter provided, or to give any other description of it than by stating its general character according to the provisions of this Act; and if the offence be that of embezzlement or fraudulent application, use or disposition, by a person in the public service of the Crown, or of the East India Company, of property entrusted to him by reason of such employment, or part thereof it shall be enough to state that the defendant was in such service, and that he received the property by reason of such employment and embezzled the same, or part therof or fraudulently applied, used or disposed of the same, as the case may be; and, if the case be one of fraudulent application, use or disposition by any person not being such public servant but entrusted as aforesaid, it shall be enough to state that such person was entrusted with the property (describing its general character as aforesaid,) and it shall be enough to state shortly the purpose of the trust, and that he fraudulently applied used or disposed of the same contrary to his duty in that behalf.

XI. The Court before which any offender is tried under this Act shall have power upon the trial to make any amendments that may be necessary, by reason of any variance between the statements of the charge and the evidence, either in the description of the property or of any person or of any office, appointment or employment, or of the purpose of the trust or otherwise, when in the opinion of the Court the person charged cannot have been misled as to his defence by such imperfect or erroneous statement.

XII. Every offender under this Act may be tried and punished by any Court to which he is amenable, either in the place where he is taken into custody, or where he committed the offence.

XIII. The punishment of any offender under this Act shall not be deemed to take away or lessen his liabillity to make good any loss sustained by Her Majesty, or the East India Company or any other person or persons by his misbehaviour or breach of trust.

XIV. Every such public servant and every such trustee charged with a felonious breach of trust under this Act, who shall be proved to have knowingly made up or furnished false statements or accounts of the sums of money received or paid by him or entrusted to his care, or of the goods or balance of money in his custody or control, shall be liable to fine in the discretion of the Court, although no actual embezzlement or fraudulent application, use or disposition of trust moneys, chattels, or valuable securities is proved against him, and in addition to such fine may be imprisoned, with or without labour, as the Court shall adjudge, for any term not exceeding two years; but no person convicted of felonious breach of trust as aforesaid shall be punished also for making up false accounts in connection with the same breach of trust.

No. 7.

Fort William, Financial Department, the 31st March, 1849.

NOTIFICATION.—Notice is hereby given, that in pursuance of instructions received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, Supplies on account of the Home Treasury, will continue to be raised during the ensuing Official Year 1849-50, on the security of Goods to be hypothecated to the East India Company, and that, so far as is at present known, the sum required to be provided in India by the purchase of Bills will be £900,000 liable, however, to such modification or extension as may hereafter be demanded by the exigencies of the Public Service.

Advances of Cash will accordingly be made, for this purpose, by the Governments of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, to the extent of ⅔ths of the value of the Goods hypothecated, and the Bills in repayment of these advances are to be drawn at six months' sight, at the rate of 1*s*. 10*d*. per Company's Rupee, until further notice.

It is also further notified, that in, pursuance of instructions received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, the Governments of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, have been authorized, in any case in which they may consider such a course to be expedient, to dispense with the obligation to insure, which is imposed by the existing terms and conditions upon parties who may obtain advances from the respective Governments, on the security of Goods hypothecated to the East India Company, intimating to them that the Hon'ble Court will make the insurance in England, and requiring a Declaration binding the parties to repay the premium upon insurances, which the Court may effect before the Bills of Lading and other Shipping Documents are handed over to their Agents.

It is to be understood that the Insurance to be effected, will only be to the amount of the advance in each case, so as to cover the East India Company's risk.

In all other respects the existing terms and conditions of the advances to be made by the respective Governments, will remain in force, and be the same as published in the Calcutta Gazette under date the 1st April 1842.

THE NEW QUARTERLY BENGAL ARMY AND CIVIL LISTS,

CONTAINING

A Gradation List of the Officers of the Bengal Army—a List of Field Officers in regimental succession—the Staff and various Military Departments—the Regiment of Artillery—Corps of Engineers—Her Majesty's and the Honorable Company's Cavalry and Infantry Regiments—Local and Irregular Corps, attached or belonging to the Bengal Presidency—the Invalid and Pension Establishments—Medical Department—Ecclesiastical Establishment—General Distribution of the Bengal Army—Gradation List of the General and Field Officers of Her Majesty's and the Honorable Company's Service—and a List of Officers in Civil and Political employ.

The Honorary Distinctions gained by Corps and Individuals will also be given, with the Special Field Services of all Officers who have responded to the requisition of the General Management of the Military Orphan Society

The ARMY LIST will be published on Hart's plan, and all profits arising from its sale be added to the Funds of the Military Orphan Society.

In addition to this strong claim to the patronage of the Army, for whose benefit it is intended, it will place on permanent record the Field Services of every Officer of the Bengal Army.

It is not expected that the first Number will be entirely free from error; but as great care has been taken by the Officers entrusted with its preparation to verify the dates of Commission and Promotion, it is hoped that absolute accuracy will shortly be obtained

The Field Services of every Officer who has communicated with the General Management, will be recorded, and those of all Officers who have not yet been able to comply with the requisition, will be published in each succeeding Quarterly Number, as they are furnished.

The CIVIL LIST will exhibit the date of commencement of Service, the date of arrival in India, and the present office and date of appointment to it, of every Member of that branch of the Service.

The publication of the above ARMY and CIVIL LISTS, for which several hundred Subscribers in every part of India, are already enrolled, will afford an eligible opportunity for advertisements, the charge for which may be ascertained by application to the Superintendent of the Military Orphan Press

The Price of each Quarterly Number will be Co.'s Rs. 3, paid in advance.

III. The Clauses respectively numbered CII. CIII. and CIV. in an Act of Parliament passed in the ninth year of the reign of King George the Fourth, intituled an Act for improving the Administration of Criminal Justice in the East Indies, are repealed, except as to all things done or forborne to be done before the passing of this Act.

IV. Every Member and Officer of a Trading Corporation or Company, and also every Banker, Merchant, Factor, Broker, Attorney or other Agent, whether he be commonly so employed, or be employed as an Agent in that instance only, and whether he act as such Agent gratuitously or otherwise, to whom any chattel, money or valuable security is entrusted for safe custody or for any special purpose, and whether with or without any authority to sell, negotiate, pledge or employ the same, but with an authority limited to some defined purpose as to the application of such money, chattel or valuable security or of any part thereof, or of the proceeds or of any part of the proceeds thereof, who shall fraudulently apply, use or dispose of the same or any part of the proceeds thereof, for any purpose other than a purpose for which the same was entrusted to him, shall be deemed to have feloniously stolen the same, and shall be liable to be transported out of the Territories under the Government of the East India Company, for any term not exceeding fourteen years, or to be imprisoned with or without labor for any term not exceeding three years.

V. VI. Every person, possessed, or having the receipt, custody or control, of any chattel, money or valuable security in trust for any other person or persons, who shall embezzle the same or any part thereof, or in any manner fraudulently apply, use or dispose of the same, for his own use or benefit, in breach of the trust reposed in him, shall be deemed to have feloniously stolen the same and shall be liable to be transported out of the Territories under the Government of the East India Company, for any term not exceeding fourteen years, or to be imprisoned with or without labor for any term not exceeding three years.

VII. VIII. Any offender under this Act may be proceeded against on the same charge for any number of distinct acts of embezzlement or fraudulent application, use or disposition as aforesaid, committed by him within six calendar months, from the first to the last of such acts: and proof of a gross deficiency in the accounts of any such Trustee or Public Servant shall be evidence of the offence charged, until such deficiency is otherwise explained.

IX. If the offence relates to money or to any Bank-note, Bank Post Bill, Banker's Cheque, Bill of Exchange, Promissory Note, Government Paper, or other like security for the payment of money, it shall be enough in the indictment or charge to allege the embezzlement or fraudulent application, use or disposition of money, without specifying any particular coin or valuable security; and such allegation shall, so far as regards the kind of property, be sustained, if the offender is proved to have embezzled or fraudulently applied used or disposed of any amount of money or any valuable security, though the particular kind of coin or valuable security of which such amount was composed shall not be proved.

X. XII. Every offender under this Act may be tried and punished by any Court to which he is amenable, either in the place where he is taken into custody, or where he committed the offence.

XIII. The punishment of any offender under this Act shall not be deemed to take away or lessen his liability to make good any loss sustained by Her Majesty or the East India Company or any other person or persons by his misbehaviour or breach of trust.

XIV. Every such public servant and every such trustee charged with a felonious breach of trust under this Act, who shall be proved to have knowingly made up or furnished false statements or accounts of the sums of money received or paid by him or entrusted to his care, or of the goods or balance of money in his custody or control, shall be liable to fine in the discretion of the Court, although no actual embezzlement or fraudulent application, use or disposition of trust moneys, chattels, or valuable securities is proved against him, and in addition to such fine may be imprisoned, with or without labour, as the Court shall adjudge, for any term not exceeding two years; but no person convicted of felonious breach of trust as aforesaid shall be punished also for making up false accounts in connection with the same breach of trust.

XIV. Every such public servant and every such trustee charged with a felonious breach of trust under this Act, who shall be proved to have knowingly made up or furnished false statements or accounts of the sums of money received or paid by him or entrusted to his care, or of the goods or balance of money in his custody or control, shall be liable to fine in the discretion of the Court, although no actual embezzlement or fraudulent application, use or disposition of trust moneys, chattels, or valuable securities is proved against him, and in addition to such fine may be imprisoned, with or without labour, as the Court shall adjudge, for any term not exceeding two years; but no person convicted of felonious breach of trust as aforesaid shall be punished also for making up false accounts in connection with the same breach of trust.

No. 7.

Fort William, Financial Department, the 31st March, 1849.

Notification.—Notice is hereby given, that in pursuance of instructions received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, Supplies on account of the Home Treasury, will continue to be raised during the ensuing Official Year 1849-50, on the security of Goods to be hypothecated to the East India Company, and that, so far as is at present known, the sum required to be provided in India by the purchase of Bills will be £900,000 liable, however, to such modification or extension as may hereafter be demanded by the exigencies of the Public Service.

Advances of Cash will accordingly be made, for this purpose, by the Governments of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, to the extent of ¾ths of the value of the Goods hypothecated, and the Bills in repayment of these advances are to be drawn at six months' sight, at the rate of 1*s.* 10*d.* per Company's Rupee, until further notice.

It is also further notified, that in, pursuance of instructions received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, the Governments of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, have been authorized, in any case in which they may consider such a course to be expedient, to dispense with the obligation to insure, which is imposed by the existing terms and conditions upon parties who may obtain advances from the respective Governments, on the security of Goods hypothecated to the East India Company, intimating to them that the Hon'ble Court will make the insurance in England, and requiring a Declaration binding the parties to repay the premium upon insurances, which the Court may effect before the Bills of Lading and other Shipping Documents are handed over to their Agents.

It is to be understood that the Insurance to be effected, will only be to the amount of the advance in each case, so as to cover the East India Company's risk.

In all other respects the existing terms and conditions of the advances to be made by the respective Governments, will remain in force, and be the same as published in the Calcutta Gazette under date the 1st April 1842.

In addition to this strong claim to the patronage of the Army, for whose benefit it is intended, it will place our permanent record the Field Services of every Officer of the Bengal Army.

The Field Services of every Officer who has communicated with the General Management, will be recorded, and those of all Officers who have not yet been able to comply with the requisition, will be published in each succeeding Quarterly Number, as they are furnished.

The Civil List will exhibit the date of commencement of Service, the date of arrival in India, and the present office and date of appointment to it, of every Member of that branch of the Service.

The publication of the above Army and Civil Lists, for which several hundred Subscribers in every part of India, are already enrolled, will afford an eligible opportunity for advertisements, the charge for which may be ascertained by application to the Superintendent of the Military Orphan Press.

NOTIFICATION.—Notice is hereby given, that in pursuance of instructions received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, Supplies on account of the Home Treasury, will continue to be raised during the ensuing Official Year 1849-50, on the security of Goods to be hypothecated to the East India Company, and that, so far as is at present known, the sum required to be provided in India by the purchase of Bills will be £900,000 liable, however, to such modification or extension as may hereafter be demanded by the exigencies of the Public Service.

Advances of Cash will accordingly be made, for this purpose, by the Governments of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, to the extent of ⅔ths of the value of the Goods hypothecated, and the Bills in repayment of these advances are to be drawn at six months' sight, at the rate of 1*s.* 10*d.* per Company's Rupee, until further notice.

It is also further notified, that in, pursuance of instructions received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, the Governments of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, have been authorized, in any case in which they may consider such a course to be expedient, to dispense with the obligation to insure, which is imposed by the existing terms and conditions upon parties who may obtain advances from the respective Governments, on the security of Goods hypothecated to the East India Company, intimating to them that the Hon'ble Court will make the insurance in England, and requiring a Declaration binding the parties to repay the premium upon insurances, which the Court may effect before the Bills of Lading and other Shipping Documents are handed over to their Agents.

It is to be understood that the Insurance to be effected, will only be to the amount of the advance in each case, so as to cover the East India Company's risk.

In all other respects the existing terms and conditions of the advances to be made by the respective Governments, will remain in force, and be the same as published in the Calcutta Gazette under date the 1st April 1842.

Fort William, Home Department, Legislative, the 23rd June, 1849.

The following Draft of a proposed Act was read in Council for the first time, on the 23rd of June 1849.

ACT No. —— OF 1849.

An Act for securing the Land Revenue of Calcutta.

Whereas it is expedient that the Land Revenue, accruing due to the East India Company within Calcutta, be ascertained and collected in as summary a manner as in other parts of the Territories under the Government of the East India Company, It is declared and enacted as follows:

I.—All Assessable Lands, not the property of the East India Company, within the town of Calcutta, of which the rate of Assessment is not known, or which have not heretofore been assessed, shall be assessed at the rate of three annas for each Cottah.

II. Lakhiraj tenures of Land in Calcutta, of which uninterrupted possession has been held, under alleged grants, exempt from Assessment for sixty years, shall be valid: no other Lakhiraj tenures of Land in Calcutta shall be deemed valid, unless the same are or shall be held under an unexpired grant from the British Government.

III. If any owner of Land, or any person holding Land on lease from the East India Company shall, upon the written demand of the Collector, refuse or neglect to pay any sum at which the Land is assessed, or for which he is liable under his lease, the Collector may levy the same, by distress and sale of the Goods and Chattels, wherever found, of such owner or lessee, or, after written demand upon the tenant or occupier, and his refusal or neglect to pay the sum lawfully demanded, by distress and sale of any Goods and Chattels found upon the Land.

IV. In the case of payment by any tenant or occupier, not holding immediately under the East India Company, or the seizure and sale of his property, he may deduct the amount of the payment or levy from the next payment of rent to his landlord.

V. The claim of the East India Company for Land Revenue or rent has priority over all other claims upon the land or to which property distrained upon the land may be liable.

VI. If the Collector's claim for arrears of rent is disputed, the process of distraint and sale shall not be stayed, unless the amount claimed be lodged with the Collector.

VII. Arrears of rent or revenue due to the East India Company are recoverable, within six years next after the same are due, or next after an acknowledgment of the same in writing has been given by the person by whom the same is payable or his Agent, and not afterwards.

VIII. When a claim to hold land Lakhiraj, or free of Assessment, shall be set up under this Act, the Collector shall inquire into the claim, taking such evidence as the claimant may offer, or the public Records supply, and shall report his proceedings in the case for the consideration of the Commissioner and Sudder Board of Revenue. If the Sudder Board of Revenue are satisfied of the validity of the claim, they shall make an order accordingly, and such order shall be final. If they are not satisfied of the validity of the claim, they shall direct the Collector to assess the land, leaving the claimant to contest the Collector's demand in the Civil Courts as herein provided.

IX. Any person obstructing or molesting the Collector or any of his Subordinate Officers in the execution of their duty, shall, on conviction before a Magistrate of the Town of Calcutta, be liable to a fine not exceeding Five hundred rupees, and in default of payment to imprisonment in the Common Jail for a term not exceeding six months, or until the fine is sooner paid.

X. The Collector may punish any contempt committed in his presence, in open Cutcherry or Office, by fine, not exceeding Two hundred rupees, and in default of payment by imprisonment in the Common Jail for a term not exceeding one month: from every such order of fine or imprisonment, an appeal shall lie to the Commissioner, whose decision shall be final.

XI. The Collector shall act in the execution of this Act under the usual controul of the Superior Revenue Authorities.

XII. The Ground Rents payable to the East India Company from Lands in Calcutta are Revenue, within the meaning of the Act of Parliament 21 Geo. III. C. 70, and the Supreme Court of Judicature established by Royal Charter at Fort William in Bengal has not any civil jurisdiction concerning the said Ground Rents, or concerning any thing ordered or done in the Assesment or collection thereof.

XIII. All actions concerning any trespass or injury committed by any Revenue Officer acting under colour of this Act, or concerning any claim in respect of any goods taken by or any monies paid to any Revenue Officer under this Act, or concerning any claim of rent or revenue on the part of the East India Company under this Act, shall be tried and determined in the Civil Courts established by the East India Company in the Twenty-four-Pergunnahs; notwithstanding that the cause of action, in respect of which such action is brought, arose, or the defendant therein reside, within the limits of the Town of Calcutta: and every such action shall be brought within six months after the cause of action arose, and not afterwards.

Ordered, that the Draft now read be published for general information.

Ordered, that the said Draft be re-considered at the first Meeting of the Legislative Council of India, after the 23rd day of August next.

NOTIFICATION.—Mr. F. M. Lind, of the Civil Service, reported his return from Australia, on the 19th instant.

FRED. JAS. HALLIDAY,

No. 7.

Fort William, Financial Department, the 31st March, 1849.

NOTIFICATION.—Notice is hereby given, that in pursuance of instructions received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, Supplies on account of the Home Treasury, will continue to be raised during the ensuing Official Year 1849-50, on the security of Goods to be hypothecated to the East India Company, and that, so far as is at present known, the sum required to be provided in India by the purchase of Bills will be £900,000 liable, however, to such modification or extension as may hereafter be demanded by the exigencies of the Public Service.

Advances of Cash will accordingly be made, for this purpose, by the Governments of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, to the extent of ¾ths of the value of the Goods hypothecated, and the Bills in repayment of these advances are to be drawn at six months' sight, at the rate of 1*s.* 10*d.* per Company's Rupee, until further notice.

It is also further notified, that in, pursuance of instructions received from the Hon'ble the Court of Directors, the Governments of Bengal, Madras and Bombay, have been authorized, in any case in which they may consider such a course to be expedient, to dispense with the obligation to insure, which is imposed by the existing terms and conditions upon parties who may obtain advances from the respective Governments, on the security of Goods hypothecated to the East India Company, intimating to them that the Hon'ble Court will make the insurance in England, and requiring a Declaration binding the parties to repay the premium upon insurances, which the Court may effect before the Bills of Lading and other Shipping Documents are handed over to their Agents.

It is to be understood that the Insurance to be effected, will only be to the amount of the advance in each case, so as to cover the East India Company's risk.

In all other respects the existing terms and conditions of the advances to be made by the respective Governments, will remain in force, and be the same as published in the Calcutta Gazette under date the 1st April 1842.

THIS DAY IS PUBLISHED,

(JUNE 1ST, 1849,)

AT THE BENGAL MILITARY ORPHAN PRESS,

THE NEW QUARTERLY BENGAL ARMY AND CIVIL LISTS,

CONTAINING

A Gradation List of the Officers of the Bengal Army—a List of Field Officers in regimental succession—the Staff and various Military Departments—the Regiment of Artillery—Corps of Engineers—Her Majesty's and the Honorable Company's Cavalry and Infantry Regiments—Local and Irregular Corps, attached or belonging to the Bengal Presidency—the Invalid and Pension Establishments—Medical Department—Ecclesiastical Establishment—General Distribution of the Bengal Army—Gradation List of the General and Field Officers of Her Majesty's and the Honorable Company's Service—and a List of Officers in Civil and Political employ.

The Honorary Distinctions gained by Corps and Individuals will also be given, with the Special Field Services of all Officers who have responded to the requisition of the General Management of the Military Orphan Society.

The ARMY LIST will be published on Hart's plan, and all profits arising from its sale be added to the Funds of the Military Orphan Society.

In addition to this strong claim to the patronage of the Army, for whose benefit it is intended, it will place on permanent record the Field Services of every Officer of the Bengal Army.

It is not expected that the first Number will be entirely free from error; but as great care has been taken by the Officers entrusted with its preparation to verify the dates of Commission and Promotion, it is hoped that absolute accuracy will shortly be obtained.

The Field Services of every Officer who has communicated with the General Management, will be recorded, and those of all Officers who have not yet been able to comply with the requisition, will be published in each succeeding Quarterly Number, as they are furnished.

The CIVIL LIST will exhibit the date of commencement of Service, the date of arrival in India, and the present office and date of appointment to it, of every Member of that branch of the Service.

The publication of the above ARMY and CIVIL LISTS, for which several hundred Subscribers in every part of India, are already enrolled, will afford an eligible opportunity for advertisements, the charge for which may be ascertained by application to the Superintendent of the Military Orphan Press.

The Price of each Quarterly Number will be Co.'s Rs. 3, paid in advance.

☞ Intending Subscribers are requested in future to address all communications to R. C. Lepage and Co., British Library.
